PUTS QUERY TO GERMANY

U. S. ASKS BERLIN IF U-BOATS SUNK ESSEX

President and His Cabinet Seek Conclusive Evidence in Submarine Issue Before Taking Action

Washington, March 28.—The United States has inquired of Germany, through Ambassador Gerard, whether any of its submarines torpedoed the British channel steamer Sussex.

Secretary Lansing announced after the cabinet meeting today that it had been decided to make such an inquiry, and later it was learned that the inquiry had actually been made and, in fact, probably already is in Berlin.

Not Yet Protest or Demand.

The present status of the communication is that of an inquiry. It has not advanced to the stage of a protest or a demand.

The president and cabinet members were furnished with all reports concerning the disaster which had reached the state department from diplomatic and consular representatives in France and England.

Not Conclusive Enough.

Members of the cabinet said that evidence in possession of the United States was not conclusive enough to warrant decisive action at this time. For this reason it was decided to make inquiry of Germany.

A majority of the cabinet members, however, believed preliminary reports clearly indicated that the Sussex had been torpedoed.

As President Wilson and his cabinet met today members reflected the view that the submarine situation was grave, but indicated that no decided action would be taken by the American government until it was shown conclusively that the steamers Sussex and Englishman were sunk by submarines.

While all the evidence at hand indicates that the steamers were torpedoed without, with the probable loss of one American life on the Englishman and injuries to several Americans on the Sussex, President Wilson is awaiting with deep concern receipt of positive proof before taking definite action.

May Take It to Congress.

It is said he is seriously considering laying the whole submarine question before congress personally. He certainly would take that step, it is said, before making any move that might lead to the breaking off of diplomatic relations with Germany.

Ambassador Bernstorff, who has been away for several days, was due to return today and it was expected that he would consult with Secretary Lansing over the situation. It is stated authoritatively that if a German submarine fired the torpedoes which sank the Englishman and damaged the Sussex, Germany would disavow the act, punish the submarine commander, offer reparation and satisfy the United States that the act was in violation of instructions.

Where Issue Centers.

The issue therefore seemed to come down to the question of whether the Washington government would be willing to accept such a declaration. On the other hand, if all facts are not deemed sufficiently clear it is probable this government would be compelled to accept a German disclaimer and allow the cases of the two vessels to be placed beside that of the steamship Persia, destroyed by some unknown agent.

WILL CONTINUE DEMONSTRATIONS.

Leroy J. Jones, head of the poultry extension department of Purdue university, was in consultation Monday with Clarence Henry, county agricultural agent, when it was decided to continue the poultry demonstrations this summer on the farm of George V. Keil.

We want to hold it by embalming and keeping in our undertaking department. We will pay a good price for his body. Please let us hear from you in regard to this same."

SHARP FIGHT NEAR ST. ELOI

GERMANS IN AIR RAID AT SALONIKI

Today's War News Given in Summary

The infantry continues inactive before Verdun and even the notable artillery fire reported for some days in the Vaux-Douaumont region east of the Meuse has slackened. The German guns have resumed a heavy fire to the west of the river, however, shelling the French lines south of Malancourt in the sector where the recent German drive took the crown prince's troops south to the edge of the Auvocourt woods from which a new attempt to debouch may now be preparing.

A surprise attack by the French in the forest of Parroy in Lorraine is reported by Paris, a German trench being blown up, after which the attacking forces withdrew with some prisoners.

Bitter fighting is again taking place along the Austro-Italian front. The Austrians launched an attack on Valpiccolo, taking a trench, but in counter attacks the Italian forces not only succeeded in reconquering the position but took Austrian trenches elsewhere on the front, according to the current Rome headquarters report. Vienna declares that Russian activity in Galicia has slackened, the Russians having attempted to attack against the main army of Gen. Pflanger during the past week.

British airmen have made a successful raid on the Turkish advanced base at Bir-el-Hassanah, 100 miles east of the Suez canal, according to reports from Suez, the aviators dropping forty bombs and doing extensive damage.

Berlin, March 28.—The development of lively fighting on the Franco-Belgian front, south of St. Eloi and also along adjacent lines is reported by German army headquarters in today's official statement.

According to the announcement German flying squadron made a raid on Saloniki yesterday, dropping many bombs on the new harbor and petroleum depot and on the camp of the entente allies north of the town.

Only outpost skirmishes have occurred in Galicia in the last few days and the victories reported by the Rus-

QUICK CAVALRY DRIVE PLANNED TO GET VILLA

Field Headquarters American Expeditionary Force, Colonia Dublan, Chihuahua, March 28.—(By wireless to Columbus, N. M.)—Preparations for closing in on Francisco Villa in a quick drive were being pushed forward rapidly today at the field headquarters of Brig.-Gen. Pershing, expeditionary commander.

El Paso, Texas, March 28.—The pursuit of Francisco Villa may be hampered, if not actually halted, unless Mexican railroads are made available as the main line of communication for the American army in Mexico.

Military men expressed that view today after studying dispatches from the front that Villa was still in flight southward and meeting with little, if any opposition.

The American forces are more than 200 miles below the border. Every mile the Mexican bandit advances into the interior increases the difficulties of maintaining the already attenuated line of communication.

Army Circles Pessimistic.

There is much pessimism in army circles over the prospect of capturing Villa and it is felt that unless he is cornered within the week the bandit will have outrun his pursuers and that many months may pass before he and his band can be ferreted out of their hiding places in the mountains. Dispatches from the advance flying columns, pressing Villa closely, make no mention of having come into contact with any of the bandit's men.

CANDIDATE FOR JUDGE OF APPELLATE COURT

Edwing Corr, a widely experienced lawyer and judge of Bloomington, Ind., and a trustee of Indiana university, has announced himself a candidate for nomination for judge of the appellate court of Indiana, subject to the democratic convention to be held in Indianapolis.

Mr. Corr has many friends in Fort Wayne and in a communication to them has told of his undertaking. He is a man of wide experience and his many acquaintances in this city feel that he is a man for the place.

CHILD TUMBLES 14 FEET FROM PORCH

Glenn, the 3½-year-old son of W. M. Reiff, 308 Douglas avenue, manager of the Meyer Brothers' drug store at Calhoun and Wayne streets, fell from a porch opposite his home last Saturday, a distance of fourteen feet, and was painfully hurt, although no bones were broken. Fortunately the child fell on his back and into some soft dirt, otherwise his injuries would have been more serious. The youngster was picked up unconscious. It is believed he was internally hurt.

OATS SOWING WILL BE VERY LATE THIS YEAR

No Ground Has Been Plowed This Spring by Farmers of Allen County.

Although March, 1916, has nearly passed into history, the farmers of Allen and surrounding counties have not as yet made one furrow in the oats ground this year. Last year nearly every one had the oats in the ground by the last day of March while this year it seems very probable that not even a bit of ground will be broken by that time.

Farmers report that the frost just left the ground Sunday which made it impossible to plow until that time and now the ground is entirely too wet. Indications point to the fact now that the country people will be fortunate if they have their oats in the ground by the latter part of April, a month later than in 1915.

The past few days of warm weather has awakened the chlorophyll cells in the blades of grass and wheat so that now they are beginning to take on a green aspect. Farmers report that the wheat stand now is very good and that it gives indication to a fair crop.

RIVERS WILL REACH 19 FOOT STAGE AGAIN

But With No More Rain There is No Apparent Danger.

With a stage of 19 feet predicted for Wednesday and the rivers still rising slowly, the flood conditions in Fort Wayne are not nearly as menacing as they were earlier in the year, when the height of 20.6 was reached. At seven o'clock Tuesday morning the official measure was 17.6 feet.

Although if there is no more rain the rivers should not rise above the 19 foot mark, but should there be four or five hours more Fort Wayne may expect a repetition of the January flood, or even a higher stage of water. Tuesday the water crossed those parts of Swinney park grove which were dry Monday, and rose to the floors of several of the houses on Baltes avenue. The water has been across the street on Baltes for several days. In Nebraska where the river crossed Bluff street several months ago everything still is high and dry and there will have to be a lift of at least two more feet before it gets into the roadway. In other lower sections the flood situation is not at all menacing.

It was three years ago Tuesday that the flood passed its height and began to drop, after driving thousands from their homes four days before. The memory of the big flood still lingers in many of the lower districts so vividly that even the little freshet of the past few days, coming on the anniversary of the disastrous high waters of 1913, has frightened many of the residents.

The interurban traffic out of Fort Wayne is only slightly affected, but in the vicinity of Peru and Wabash there have been several tie-ups due to submerged tracks.

CHARGES AGAINST FIVE ARE QUASHED

Youngstown, Ohio, March 28.—Judge W. S. Anderson today granted the motion to quash the indictments recently returned here against five steel companies, charging them with conspiring to fix the price of labor and steel products. The indictments against the United States steel corporation and E. H. Gary, head of the corporation, still stands, as the motion to quash did not include these two defendants, on whom service has not been secured. The steel companies attacked the indictments as being too indefinite and uncertain, depriving the defendants of their constitutional rights.

GIRL KNOWS THE FIREBUG

THREE DIE IN FIRE; OVER A SCORE HURT

Cleveland, Ohio, March 28.—Fire which swept through an apartment house in Prospect avenue, early today, causing the death of three persons and injury to more than a score of others was of incendiary origin according to police and detectives.

Police early today were holding three men and one woman at headquarters and had established police guard at the bedside of Bessie Reimer, at Huron Road hospital.

"The Reimer girl is as much under arrest as any of the other four," said Detective Farrell. "We are convinced that she knows who started last night's fire as well as the fire yesterday morning in her room."

Mixed in White Slave Mess.

Nearly all of the five were involved in a white slave investigation a few days ago following which one woman was sent to the work house. In that case the Reimer girl as the alleged victim.

The dead man was identified as J. B. Lewis, 42, who is said to have a wife and three children in New York City. He was employed as a solicitor on the Cleveland City directory. The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Simpkins, 50, saleswoman in a Euclid avenue store. Mrs. Ethel Seaman was the third victim.

Tells Story of Masked Man.

Police are searching for a masked man, who according to the story told by Miss Bessie Reimer entered her room on the third floor, bound and gagged her and set fire to the building.

Still Others May Die.

Most of those injured were hurt by jumping from the third floor windows. Of these, three, Mrs. Albert Melcoir, Dwight Emplage and an unidentified man are fatally injured. Fireman Ross and Lieut. Thomas Nestor were also injured so badly in attempting to rescue

B'G REALTY DEAL PLACED ON RECORD

Mulholland Realty Company Now Owner of Bus Barn Property.

A big realty deal involving a cash transaction of $105,000 was placed on record in the office of County Recorder Allen Hursh Tuesday when Samuel E. and Flora M. Mulholland, his wife, filed a deed of warranty to the Mulholland Realty company transferring to that concern the property on East Wayne street known as the "bus barn." This property was purchased some time ago by Mr. Mulholland and Messrs. Samuel T. and Charles Murdock as an investment. These three have organized the Mulholland Realty company and to get the title to the property in the hands of the company the transfer just made was recorded. The Mulholland Realty company will erect a three-story modern building on the ground occupied by the bus barn, at an early date. The gas company has leased the east room of the proposed building for its headquarters and offices in Fort Wayne. Contrary to the popular impression the gas company has nothing whatever to do with ownership of the property or the projected improvement of it. The deed of transfer just filed carried $105 worth of internal revenue stamps.

"Dress Up" Week Meets With Great Favor in Fort Wayne

Notwithstanding the gloomy weather and the heavy clouds that hung overhead, "Dress-Up" week was ushered in Monday in proper fashion. The band played and thousands thronged the streets and visited the stores. Another band concert was given this afternoon.

During the next few days every citizen will acquire the spirit of gladness in the dress proposition and garb themselves in the clothes that mean contentment.

That great content comes from correct raiment goes without saying and Fort Wayne is about to bring to closer notice the idea of dressing up to occasion. "Dress-Up" week is therefore inaugurated for the express purpose of engendering local pride in person and surroundings.

Dress up is merely another name for that instinct which is the possession of everyone, to follow where civilization leads and because civilization is just now beckoning toward the shops where apparel is to be found, it follows, as does the day the night, that "Dress-Up" week will be popular in Fort Wayne.

"Dress-Up" week is calculated to bring closer together merchant and purchaser, and this week there will be many temptations and bargains placed in the way of buyers in order that "Dress-Up" week may be fitly celebrated.

Throughout the United States this dress-up plan has been gaining favor and some cities have even gone so far as to have the dress-up idea filmed in order that moving picture patrons may have information.

SICK MAN IN BURNING HOME.

Alexandria, Ind., March 28.—Curtis Aldridge returned a few days ago from a hospital, where he was operated on for appendicitis. Sparks from a chimney set fire to the roof of his house yesterday and the entire top part of the house was afire before the flames were discovered by neighbors. Fearing that Aldridge would suffer a relapse if taken from the house, friends covered his bed with canvas to shield the sick man from water that poured through the ceiling from the firemen's hose. The loss was about $200.

New York, March 28.—Effort is being made, it is understood here, to bring about reconciliation between Mrs. Malcolm Strauss, who, before marriage, was one of the prettiest of the Winter Garden girls, and her husband, an artist of national reputation.

Mrs. Strauss has sued for separation and has sued Mrs. Arthur Seligman, society woman and wife of a New York milionaire, for $100,000, charging alienation.

Before marriage, Mrs. Seligman was Gladys Snellenberg, of Philadelphia, and engaged Strauss to paint her portrait. Mrs. Strauss objected, it is said, but Strauss accepted the commission. The suit by Mrs. Strauss followed. Mrs. Seligman denies the charges made by Mrs. Strauss.

"WING" FRAZER'S BAD DREAM PASSES AWAY

"Wing" (Charles) Frazer, a one-armed negro police character, had difficulty restraining himself from executing the Mobile buck right out on the court room floor when Special Judge Louis Plost pronounced judgment upon him in the city tribunal, Tuesday morning, for keeping a house of ill-fame and let him off with a fine of $10 and costs and a suspended jail sentence of ten days. "Wing" has been in trouble before concerning the character of his rooming-house at 335 Holman street, and he was afraid to appear before City Judge H. Waveland Kerr. So he took a change of venue from that official and Attorney Plost was appointed to sit. Ever since his arrest Monday morning he had been having a horrid nightmare in which visions of the state penal farm were the conspicuous features of the movie conjured by his fears. The mildness of the judgment gave undisguised delight. Laura Frazer, "Wing's" wife, also charged with keeping a house, was fined $10 and costs and given ten days suspended sentence, while Ellen Jones, a negress, drew $5 and costs for prostitution and Charles Johnson, her white companion got a similar amount for associating. The Jones woman and Johnson were arrested in a police raid by Officers George Eisenhut and William Erdman, Saturday afternoon. Other inmates of the place escaped through a side window.

Threatens to Get Even With City.

"I'll get even with this old town as soon as I get out of jail. I'll load it up with expense for burying this old carcass of mine. What's the use? I'm tired of it. I'll shuffle off as soon as I get a chance." And with these cheerful words William Derby went from the city court room to his police cell, Tuesday morning, after he had been fined $10 and costs for peddling without a license. Derby, minus his left arm and shy his left optic, was arrested on Broadway by Officer Westerman. He had been hawking cheap watches, brass rings and plain window glass spectacles. His plea was that he was attempting to get enough money with which to leave town.

Other City Court Cases.

Elmer Urbine, a young man of good family and previously excellent repeutation, pleaded guilty to a charge of petit larceny for taking a large quantity of brass from the Fort Wayne Electric works. He was arrested by Detective Sergeant W. F. Pappert, who was detailed to unravel the mystery of thefts at the Electric works. Several former employers and associates of the young man testified to his good character and on his promise to keep out of trouble his case was continued for thirty days by Judge Kerr and he was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

Tom Hayes, charged with disorderly conduct, was continued for thirty days under $100 bond that he might have time to reflect that death ends all mundane matters. Hayes was arrested at 1416 Broadway, where he had tried to hang himself with a rope improvised from the lining of his coat. He created trouble in the Broadway house, where he formerly lodged and from which he was fired some days ago.

The man ran with great speed and at length outdistanced his pursuers. Both boys were positive in their statements to Police Captain Richard Kelly that the person was a male. The police made an investigation but obtained no clue.

Hawaiian Children Want Liberty Bell

Hawaiian youngsters want to see the Liberty Bell. That's the word Misses Florence and Alyson Levin, of Philadelphia, bring back from Honolulu. They landed at San Francisco the other day on their way home with a petition from Hawaiian school children to the mayor of Philadelphia, asking for a chance to see the famous bell.

The petition read: "Mr. Mayor: Will you please send the Liberty Bell over to us the next time? We were sorry we couldn't see it last year. We are just as anxious to see it as the children of the United States."

INSURANCE AGENT FINED.

Richmond, Va., March 28.—Edward H. Blissard, fifty-two years old, an insurance agent, arrested on a charge of having solicited business without a license, when arraigned in court was fined $25. In addition, he was held in $500 bond as a fugitive from Indiana.

Police say that a South Bend insurance company has been searching for Blissard for nearly a year for alleged questionable methods he pursued while acting as its agent last spring in Evansville.

A letter which Insurance Commissioner Button received March 16 from a Texas company, said that company also was eager to get in touch with Blissard, the police say.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

MADE WOMAN TAKE POWDER.

Tramp, Refused Money, Forces Poison Upon Mrs. Stout, Near Warsaw.

Warsaw, March 28.—Sheriff Jacob Huffer is directing a search of Kosciusko county for a man who is accused of having robbed Mrs. Harry Stout at her home near here Monday and then forced her to swallow a poisonous powder. Mrs. Stout, who is in a serious condition, declared that the robber was angered because of the smallness of the amount of money he was able to obtain and compelled her to take a greenish powder.

Mrs. Stout stated that the man appeared at her home shortly after 10 o'clock and demanded money. At first she told him there was none in the house. However he insisted that there was money and Mrs. Stout gave him a nickle, all that she had. This apparently angered him and he threatened to force a green powder, resembling paris green, down her if he was not given more money. When the woman still insisted that it was all she had he grabbed her and forced the powder down. After threatening her if she called the neighbors he left going south toward the Pennsylvania railroad. As soon as he had gone Mrs. Stout hurried to the home of Fred Holbrook, about a quarter of a mile away, where she gave the alarm. Officers Moon and Huffer were then summoned by Mrs. Holbrook.

DR. ASPINWALL IS DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., March 28.—Dr. Joseph D. Aspinwall, aged 56, died quite suddenly at the home of his mother, Mrs. Catherine Epperson, this city. Coroner held an inquest and pronounced death due to indigestion. Mr. Aspinwall had been ailing for some time, but his illness was not regarded as critical. For years the doctor's mind had been a blank as the result of an accident. Nineteen years ago he was found unconscious in Central Park, at New York city. He had gone to the park for an early morning ride on a bicycle and met with an accident, the nature of which was never learned. It was the belief of relatives that he had been slugged, though the injured man stated that he had been kicked in the head by horses.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE.

Columbia City, Ind., March 28.—The trial of Kirby Cathers, accused of having held up and robbed Harry Pence, the Goblesville storekeeper, on the night of September 24, 1915, took place at Huntington the latter part of last week, and the case went to the jury late Saturday evening. The jury reported that they were unable to agree and were hopelessly divided 6 to 6 and were dismissed by Judge Cook Monday. Pence and his clerk had closed the store and had started to their homes. Mr. Pence was carrying a little child and the clerk was carrying the sack containing the money, about $115. Just as they neared the church a man stepped out from its shadow and commanded the two men to hold up their hands and deliver over the bag of money.

MOVING STORE TO FORT WAYNE.

Auburn, Ind., March 28.—W. R. Holden, who purchased the Jones dry goods store a year ago, is moving the stock to Fort Wayne this week and on next Saturday will open a department store in that city. The remaining stocks of goods in this city are being packed and Mr. Holden expects to have all of them out of the building by Tuesday night or Wednesday. Just who would occupy the building following Mr. Holden's removal has been a matter of much comment. It is practically certain, however, that a new five and ten cent store will occupy the room.

HUNTINGTON TO HAVE REVIVAL

Huntington, Ind., March 28.—With the opening of the Honeywell evangelistic campaign but a week off, the committees that were appointed some time ago to do the preliminary work are very busy. The coliseum will be placed in condition for the services late next week. For several weeks union and cottage prayer meetings have been held. The Honeywell party will be on hand April 2 for the first meeting. The party has been holding successful revivals in the United States for several years.

COLD WATER CHANGED HER MIND

Huntington, Ind., March 28.—Rebellion against the restraint imposed on her by her parents led Bertha Reifsnider, thirteen years of age, to attempt suicide by drowning in Little river near the Briant street bridge. Police, who were apprised of her intention, found rescue unnecessary as the cold water had banished her desire to die and she waded from the river. Investigation revealed a number of other causes contributing to the girl's dissatisfaction. Police think the attempt was made while she was wrought to high pitch and that no further efforts will be made by her. Disappointment over school work was one of the causes learned by the police.

FROM THE MEXICAN BORDER

Hartford City, Ind., March 28.—Mrs. C. H. Copeland, who has just arrived in this city, tells an interesting story of conditions along the Mexican border. Her home is in Mission county, Texas, three miles from the border, and she has seen many interesting things in connection with the recent trouble there. Mrs. Copeland states that on one occasion a Mexican bandit stopped at their home and demanded that they come out. Fearing injury if they did so, the members of the family refused and this saved their lives.

VICIOUS HORSE BITES CHILD.

Van Wert, Ohio, March 28.—Edith, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Miller, who now reside on the E. E. Miller farm, four miles west of the city, but formerly lived on Hughes street, was terribly injured and maimed for life when bitten on the face by a horse. The brute nabbed the little girl low on the cheek and tore the flesh downward, causing a wound which was extremely painful and necessitated a number of stitches to close. She was gathering eggs in the barn on the farm and as she reached into a manger the horse bit her.

WHITE PLAGUE CLAIMS WOMAN.

Bluffton, Ind., March 28.—Mrs. William Speece, 50, passed away Sunday evening, at her home near Keystone, Chester township, after sufferings of about two years from tuberculosis. She had been a resident of that township all her life. Surviving are the husband and seven children, namely, William Speece, jr., Charles, Lawrence, Oscar and Clayton Speece, Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. R. D. Bodwell and Miss Nellie Speece, all residing in the south part of the county. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Prairie Creek church and interment will be at Asbury chapel cemetery.

KENDALLVILLE PIONEER DEAD.

Kendallville, Ind., March 28.—Levi B. Smith, age 81, a resident of this community for forty-seven years, died at his home in Wayne township. Death followed a lingering illness resulting from heart trouble. Levi Smith was born in Summit county, Ohio, May 12, 1835, and came to Noble county in 1869. He was a prosperous and ambitious farmer and for his remarkable age, was very active to the last. Surviving besides a widow are five sons: Del, Harry, James, Quince and Lloyd, and four daughters, Mrs. Mary Cogan, Mrs. Frances Bonghey, Mrs. Lucretia Lewer, of South Milford, and Viola, at home.

SAYS HE WAS HURT IN FT. WAYNE

Decatur, Ind., March 28.—The case of William Palli against H. D. Osterman is on trial here in the circuit court, before Judge Smith and a jury. The cause of action is for damages charged to have resulted to the plaintiff when he was knocked from a bicycle in the city of Fort Wayne last August when he came into collision with the defendant's automobile. Mr. Osterman is a resident of Monroe.

MAY SECURE LOW CENTENNIAL RATES

The centennial committee has decided to communicate at once with the railway authorities whose business it is to decide upon the matter of special railroad rates for occasions of the magnitude of the coming June celebration.

As the result of a meeting of representatives of all the steam and electric lines entering Fort Wayne, held late yesterday afternoon at the Commercial club, the railroad men will begin at once to take active steps to handle the crowds, and, upon their recommendation, the committee will now endeavor to show the authorities in the railway world what an immense affair is being planned. With a vast number of ordinary occasions clamoring for attention, it is difficult to realize the bigness of Fort Wayne's coming event, but the railway representatives are convinced that the authorities will be more than willing to provide reduced rates and special train service as soon as they understand the situation.

Present at the meeting were S. K. Blair, chairman of the transportation committee; John E. Ross, ticket agent of the Pennsylvania and G. R. & I., W. H. Shorey, district passenger agent of the Wabash; A. R. Phillips, ticket agent of the New York Central and the Lake Erie and Western; F. A. Burkhardt, district passenger agent of the Ohio Electric lines; J. A. Greenland, general passenger agent of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction lines, and G. M. Patterson, traffic manager of the Fort Wayne and Northwestern Electric lines.

Contest Closes Tonight.

All contestants for the prize of $50 for the best idea for a poster for the advertising of the centennial must have their suggestions in the hands of the committee at the Commercial club by 9 o'clock this evening.

Important Meeting Tonight.

The Centennial cabinet will hold an important meeting at the headquarters in the Commercial club tonight to take final action on several matters of importance. It is hoped to be able to settle definitely the plan of seating the amphitheater at Reservoir park, so the printing of tickets and the sale of seats for the pageant may go forward without delay.

Some Hoped-For Events.

All societies and others who are planning features suitable for the Centennial program are urged to report them to General Chairman E. C. Miller without delay. The association hopes that the Daughters of the American Revolution may find it convenient to arrange the dedication of the new marker for Harmar's Ford to take place during the Centennial week instead of postponing the ceremony until the regular Flag day, which comes a week or two later. The "Daughters" have accumulated a respectable sum of money to be used in this connection, and are now making their plans to secure a suitable lasting reminder of the slaughter of the regular troops under Major Wyllys in October, 1790, at the Maumee ford. The spot chosen for the site of the marker is on the south side of Edgewater avenue at the foot of Dearborn street. Another event scheduled for the spring or summer is the dedication of the monument to "Johnnie Appleseed" (John Chapman), to be placed in Swinney park. The association hopes the persons in charge of the event may be able to schedule it to come within the period of Centennial week.

Fifty Bands Coming.

It is probable that half a hundred of the best bands in the middle west will be in Fort Wayne during the week of the Centennial. Arrangements for a grand contest among the bands of the entire region surrounding Fort Wayne are being made. Complete announcements soon will be made through the medium of the committee on arrangements.

Centennial Notes.

Wallace Rice, author of the book of the pageant, writes that this work will be finished by the 1st of April. He and Pageant Master Robertson will employ about four days in working out details before the work will be ready for the rehearsals.

Five thousand application cards are now being distributed to the various factories and other centers of activity. The high school will be supplied this week. All who need them for use in wholesale houses and elsewhere may secure them free at the office of B. J. Griswold, 609-10 People's Trust building. These cards are designed to enable everyone who is interested to apply for places in the pageant cast. They are addressed to the pageant committee and need only a stamp to carry them to headquarters.

Already, two big events are announced for the opening day of the Centennial known as Fraternal day: the dedication of the Moose home and the annual ceremonial of the Shriners.

A class of nine was initiated into the third degree Monday evening by Sol D. Bayless lodge No. 359, F. and A. M. Among the visitors from out of the city were: R. A. Scheuel, Dayton, O.; John Beck, Weston, O.; J. R. Donnelly, Fairfield, Me.; Charles D. May, Logansport, and F. C. Morrill, Lagrange.

Ignatz Luftschitz, of Dalow, Austria, has seven sons, two sons-in-law and a grandson at the front. Two of his sons have been killed in battle.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING

5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

8 The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?

10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.

12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

14 And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up:

15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

17 For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

18 He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

The North Indiana Methodists

Fort Wayne accounts herself signally honored and is profoundly gratified at the presence of the North Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church now in this city for its annual session. The entire city would most cordially second the assurance of welcome vouchsafed the big gathering by the five Methodist Episcopal churches of the city when at Auburn one year ago they extended the invitation to come to Fort Wayne at this time. The city has thrown open to the visiting delegates its homes and its hearts alike, and it voices the wish that their stay in the city may be both profitable and pleasant.

The North Indiana conference is a tremendously big organization having direct jurisdiction over the churches of that denomination in an area that comprises approximately one-third the state of Indiana. Just how important and how extensive is this jurisdiction may perhaps be best appreciated when it is realized that no city, no town, no village and almost no rural community in all this vast region is without its Methodist Episcopal church. Some of them are big and wealthy and powerful. Many of them are small and struggling, but are held together and kept in active usefulness by the fine devotion of the pastors and the people who comprise these congregations. They contribute vastly to the great total of religious ministration to the people of Northeastern Indiana. It would be quite as impossible to accurately measure the good annually accomplished by the churches of the North Indiana conference as to similarly appraise the achievements of any other great religious denomination, for this good is incalculable. Happily, however, recent years have given promise that society is more and more recognizing everywhere its tremendous obligation to the church for its unvarying stand for law, for order, for decency and for good citizenship which are among the first fruits of religious faith in America.

Fort Wayne is particularly interested in the North Indiana conference, too, from the fact that it was in this city seventy-three years ago the conference was brought into existence by the little gathering of Methodists headed by Bishop Waugh. From that day to the present its influence has been ever-widening and ever-deepening. It has spread into every city, town, village and hamlet and into the North Indiana countryside. It deservedly ranks very high in accomplishment and in its unfailing devotion. In Fort Wayne this week are gathered some hundreds of Methodist preachers and Methodist laymen to transact the business of the church and to plan for its future. They will enjoy a reunion and they will have much of religious teaching and religious inspiration and religious good-fellowship during their stay in this city. Some of the most eminent men in American Methodism will grace the occasion by their presence and contribute to the good things in store for the conference. The Sentinel is most happy to voice Fort Wayne's cordial welcome to so magnificent a gathering as this conference is certain to be.

The introduction into the house by Representative Rainey of the bill to provide a national tariff commission of permanent and non-partisan character—designed, in fact, to take the job of tariff-making out of politics—marks a most important step in the handling of this always troublesome question. The Rainey bill, it is explained, represents the administration's views in the matter and has the full support of the president and his advisors. Doubtless there will be those who will contend that the program is incomplete and that it will not entirely meet the needs of the occasion. Whatever its deficiencies, it is a step in the right direction. That something of the sort is needed is plainly the conviction of a very large majority of the people. We shall hope to see some definite and favorable action come of it.

Friends of E. V. Harris, of this city, who is an aspirant for the republican nomination for attorney general, are organizing to present his claims in forceful fashion before the coming republican state convention. It is very pleasing to Fort Wayne, also, to learn that Mr. Harris' chances for that honor are exceptionally good, and that the outlook is that he will be the choice of Indiana republicans to make the race.

Figures just given out by the American Telephone and Telegraph company show that it increased its earnings very handsomely during the year 1915. Come to think of it, however, it is difficult to recall a time when it didn't increase 'em. Perhaps the present announcement isn't as startling as it at first appears.

In one section of Noble county the roads are reported in such bad condition that it is impossible for pupils to reach their schools. That alone should render the desirability of goods roads an undebatable subject. Noble county needs to get busy.

MEXICANS ENTERING U. S. ARE SEARCHED —SOME CARRY GUNS IN THEIR HATS.

Mexicans crossing the international bridge from Juarez, Mexico, into El Paso, Texas, are searched by United States customw inspectors. The picture shows a Mexican undergoing inspection. In some cases Mexicans have been found with revolvers concealed in their hats and in this case the inspector is making sure there are no "gats" under this fellow's top-piece.

FORESTRY IN INDIANA

(Indianapolis News).

There could scarcely be a better time for the distribution of the 1915 report of the state board of forestry. The recent meeting for the promotion of a state park system also concerned the forests of Indiana. For what park is truly such without trees? Owing to the extraordinary interest aroused last year by the special forestry building at the state fair this year's report—the fifteenth—has gained much in interest.

There is now in the state only one forest reservation. This is 2,000 acres in extent, and is located in Clark county where some of the area is unfit for cultivation of any sort. It dates back only to 1903. Since then some progress has been made, of course, but not so much as is desirable. Now there are indications of improvement. The 1915 report, compiled by Secretary Gladden, contains an account of the ceremonies at the dedication of the forestry building, when addresses were delivered by a number of persons, all intimately concerned with the conservation of the old forests and the propagation of new. Governor Ralston and former Vice President Fairbanks, the latter having long been identified with the movement, were in attendance. One of the papers, by E. A. Sterling, manager of the trade extension department of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, is a study of lumber from origin to utilization. The lumber manufacturers within the last few years have entered on an extensive advertising campaign for a wiser use of wood. This includes conservation and reforestation, as Mr. Sterling showed.

Should a system of parks be established it would be of great benefit were foresters to work with the park committee in the treatment of the whole scheme. Thus old and new growth could be fostered at the same time. Indiana has awakened at a late hour to its need of forest conservation. As Mr. Sterling said, it was formerly an important hardwood producing state. In 1809 it was thirteenth in the list, and in 1913 it was twenty-seventh, which indicates how rapid the exhaustion has been. The present problems are the utilization of non-agricultural lands for forest production and the proper management and maintenance of woodlands.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE, SAFE, RELIABLE WAY.

People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.

Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, and helps digestion. Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, footsteps become lighter, your work seem easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

MAPPING OUT PLANS FOR SCHOOL GARDENS

U. S. Experts Show Methods of Using Small Spaces for Individual Plots.

Washington, D. C., March 28.—Specialists in the U. S. department of agriculture have planned two specimen individual gardens 5 by 16½ feet for use in schools. One of these is for vegetables alone and other for both vegetables and flowers. The average pupil, it has been found, shows a much keener interest in a garden of his own than in one owned in common by all the school. Individual gardens stimulate pride in ownership and the work of caring for them encourages system, skill, and judgment. Participation in the care of a community garden does not develop the idea of individual responsibility and consequently interest and industry are usually lacking.

The limited area usually available for school garden work makes it imperative that tall-growing, broad-leaved, and climbing plants must be excluded. Radishes, lettuce, beans, beets, tomatoes and other plants which grow in a compact bush form are recommended for school garden work.

In the first plan recommended by the government specialists, the rows run the short way of the garden, and with the exception of tomatoes, are all a foot apart. Tomatoes are planted 18 to 20 inches apart, thus giving more room for the plants to spread than would otherwise be secured. In order to make the fullest use of the area a rotation of crops has been arranged. In the accompanying diagram it will be noted that the quick maturing crops are planted in groups, which provides a considerable area for replanting as soon as the crops mature. A bracket encloses the names of such crops, and those which are to follow them are indicated by the names outside the bracket.

The second garden is of the same area as the vegetable garden. The rows are one foot apart, with the exception of the radishes, which are 6 inches. The plants are grouped according to height of growth so as to place the tall-growing plants in the center of the garden, with low-growing plants at the ends. In this case it will be noted that tomatoes are used only as a succession or rotation crop following radishes and lettuce.

The children should be allowed to do all the work of preparing the land as well as planting the seed and caring for the plants. This can be accompanied by instruction in soil physics, the teacher explaining the reasons for each step. The methods of planting and cultivating the vegetables in the garden are described in Farmers' Bulletin 218 in part as follows:

Radishes.—The seeds should be sown in drills, in rich, well-prepared soil, placed about half an inch apart and buried not deeper than 1 inch nor less than one-half inch. When the plants are showing the second set of true leaves they should be thinned to stand for 1 to 2 inches apart in the row.

Lettuce.—The seeds should be sown in drills in the open or in boxes in the window. If in the open, the seeds should be scattered about one inch apart along the row, and covered not more than one-half inch with earth. Firm the earth well over the seeds, so as to bring the moist soil in contact with them. When the plants are well up, thin to 6 inches apart in the row. If the seeds were sown in a window box, hotbed, frame or greenhouse, transplant the young plants to stand 2 by 2 inches apart as soon as the seed leaves are well expanded, and when they begin to crowd transfer them to their permanent places in the open, if the weather will permit. In the field, they should stand at least 6 inches apart each way.

Beans.—It is best to wait and plant the seeds of this plant in the open where the plants are to grow, delaying the work until severe frosts are past. Plant in rows 1 foot apart, placing the seeds about 2 inches deep at intervals of 6 inches. Keep the soil loose and free from weeds.

Beets.—Beets while they are hardy and can be planted at the same time as radishes and lettuce, are placed as indicated in the planting plan because they require a longer season for maturing than lettuce, radishes and beans. The seeds should be planted in rows 1 foot apart, placed an inch apart in the row and covered 1 inch deep. When the plants are well up (2 inches high), thin to 4 inches apart in the row. Keep the soil well tilled at all times.

Tomatoes.—The tomato is the most exacting of all the plants included in the collection. From Washington southward the seeds may be planted in the open at the same time as beans, but to the north of this point the seeds should be sown in boxes, hotbeds, or greenhouses from the first to the middle of March, the young plants being transplanted to stand 2 by 2 inches apart as soon as the first true leaves appear. When they begin to crowd in their new positions, shift them to 4-inch pots or to tin cans in which canned vegetables have been received. If tin cans are used, a convenient method is to melt the top and bottom off, which will usually also unsolder the seam at the side. By tying a string around the rim thus formed and placing a shingle under the can it can be filled with soil and the young plant placed in this receptacle. Keep the plants growing slowly until about May 20 to June 1, when it will be safe to place them in their permanent locations in the garden. Set the plants in rows 18 inches apart and place the plants about 20 inches apart in the rows, as indicated by crosses on the diagram, figure 1. Each plant as it grows should have all side branches removed and the main stem tied to a stout stake, about 5 feet tall and at least an inch square, driven firmly in the ground.

Flowering plants which are especially recommended to amateur school gardeners are the ageratum, nasturtium, petunia, the California poppy, and the zinnia. Cultural instructions for these plants may also be obtained from Farmers Bulletin 218, which will be sent on request. e

How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save $2 by Making It at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SPECIAL JUDGE TO HEAR CASE.

"Drys" of Vigo County Township Appeal Board's Decision.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 28.—Judge Pulliam, in the circuit court, named three circuit court judges of contiguous circuits from whom to select a special judge to try the Otter Creek remonstrance case, which has been appealed from the commissioners' court by the "dry" forces, following a contest filed by Edward Gosnell, a saloon keeper. On the face of the returns the "drys" carried the township in the recent special election by five votes, it having gone "wet" two years before by the same majority. On the recount the commissioners declared that the "wets" had won by one vote, and the "drys" appealed. The judges named are: W. H. Bridwell, of Sullivan; George D. Sunkel, of Rockville, and B. S. Aikman, of Newport. The opposing counsel have three days within which to scratch out the names of two of these, the one remaining to be named as special judge.

FORM MOTOR SCHOOL FOR WOMEN ONLY

First Course of Its Kind in Middle West Started at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 28.—A score of fashionably gowned women, many of them elderly matrons, gathered to hear B. F. Anger, a graduate mechanical engineer and experienced automobile designer, discuss springs' tires, motors and spark plugs in the first of a series of lectures on "How to Run Your Motor Car." This course is offered by the University Extension for the woman who drives her own car, but who has only a remote idea of the workings of the machine. There will be ten lectures, and everything that a woman ought to know about her car will be explained.

The class for women was inaugurated by the university in response to repeated requests from women who asked for simple nontechnical and, above all, nongreasy instruction. They complained that husbands and brothers were often too impatient to explain, that garage men were either technical or indifferent and that other instruction offered them really was intended for professional drivers.

The course for women is the only one of its kind in the middle west and closely resembles that started at the university recently. Engines, fuels, electrical devices, transmission and other mysterious details of the American automobile will be carefully explained, by means of simple blackboard drawings, engine parts that have been cleaned so that a woman can handle them, stereopticon slides and possibly moving pictures. A text book is furnished.

The members of the Saturday club and their guests were entertained on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William H. Crighton, in Hoagland avenue at a musicale. The club is devoting its time to the study of Indiana this year so Mrs. Crighton arranged to have a few of the composers of the state represented on the program. Leading in interest were some piano numbers by a young cousin of Mrs. Crighton, Houghton Taylor, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Taylor. These compositions were played by Miss Minnie Houghton, an aunt of Houghton Taylor, who is also quite musical. The numbers were very pleasing and promising. Young Mr. Taylor comes naturally enough by musical taste, for his father had been a prominent bass singer in the city for many years and his uncle, Judge R. S. Taylor, has written many compositions of note for concerted voice work. Alfred Holzworth, a former Fort Wayne young man, whose song, "My Shadow," has been reviewed in this department of The Sentinel before, was represented by two songs sung by Mrs. George Bailhe, with Mrs. D. F. Urbahns at the piano. Other composers represented were Mrs. Lulu Jones Downing, with a reading by Mrs. Frank Bohn and Mrs. Emil Koeppel at the piano; Otto Miessner, whose songs were sung by Mrs. H. J. Bowerfind, with Miss Ruth Caldwell at the piano, and a trio sung by Mesdames Bruce Elliott, H. J. Bowerfind and H. G. Keegan, written by an Indiana composer named G. Marschal Loepke. The entire program gave much pleasure to all who heard it. Mrs. C. J. Schoo and Mrs. F. B. Shoaff received with Mrs. Crighton and assisted in serving tea after the program.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"Daddy Long-Legs" Coming Friday and Saturday.

"Daddy Long-Legs," the one big dramatic success f this and last season, will be presented here for the first time next Friday and Saturday at the Majestic theater by Henry Miller's special company. The play, which was written by Jean Webster, a niece of the late Mark Twain, is a dramatization of the famous "Daddy Long-Legs" letter which were published as a serial story by one of the big magazines three years ago, and which subsequently came out in book form and proved a fabulously successful "best seller." The comedy sets forth a fascinating love story in which tender sentiment is delightfully blended with bubbling, whimsical humor. Its central characters are a very quaint little Cinderella and a dedidedly up-to-date Prince Charming, and the love story in which they figure becomes a veritable idyl of buoyant youth. The engagement is for two nights and a Saturday matinee.

"A Cabaret Girl" Company at New Palace Exponents of Plan.

A wardrobe mistress is excess baggage with the musical comedy company presenting "A Cabaret Girl" at the New Palace the first portion of the week, as the various members of the company are as jealous of the dainty gowns and frocks they use in the course of the dainty little lyrical fantasy as some cranks are of their toothbrushes. A good-natured rivalry has sprung up among the members of the company as to which one shall present the most spic and span appearance and each week one of the girls is presented with a little bonus as the prize winner for the week. The result is evident even to the most obtuse male person, as the company is the best costumed organization one will see in many a day. The gowns are from exclusive plates and Fort Wayne's smart girl dressers may secure some happy ideas from these creations, but the best lesson would be that it is possible to keep filmy gowns looking as crisp and fresh as though just taken from a bandbox, although the owner practically lives in her trunk.

Rouble Sims, the cartoonist's cartoon, is the special added attraction on this bill in his novelty number in which he presents a half score of caricatures, landscapes, etc., fashioned with bewildering rapidity while Sims chatters and chuckles and sings. This bill closes Wednesday evening.

AT THE TEMPLE.

STYLE SHOW PLEASES.

Merchants Display Latest Creations at Temple.

Just as sure as the robins come every spring the minds of everybody at this time turns to new clothes, spring wearing apparel being the thought uppermost in the minds of all right now. It is in this connection that the Temple theater is staging a fashion and style show throughout this week and with all of the leading merchants displaying the latest fashions in dresses and suits Temple patrons are given an excellent opportunity to make their spring selections.

The opening of the style show occurred last night and a large crowd at the Temple theater voted the novel feature one of the most attractive affairs ever given on a local stage. Pretty girls and handsome young men paraded in front of the audience wearing gorgeous gowns and attractive suits as well as the very latest in the hat lines. This feature continues throughout the week and will follow each performance at the popular playhouse.

"The Alien" is being played by the Temple company during the first half of the week and the comedy drama has scored a decided hit and is assured of a most successful run. Mr. Jenkins is playing the part of the alien and his efforts are greeted with applause repeatedly.

MISSIONARY COMES HOME.

Permitted to Leave Africa on Promise to Keep Secrets.

Hartford City, Ind., March 28.—Rev. Alonzo Hemminger, who was born and reared in this city, has returned to the United States on a year's furlough, after an absence of twenty years, twelve of which were spent as a missionary. He is accompanied by his wife and baby. The latter was born on the west coast of Africa. The family was forced to make a 250-mile detour to reach the coast on account of war conditions. They left the colony of Kamerun on September 21, arriving at the coast after three weeks' travel through the African forests and jungles. After swearing secrecy to the German officials, then in charge, with reference to war news, permission was given them to leave the port of Efenten on a small Spanish steamer. They were four months on the way to this country, the trip being made on three ships. Twice during the voyage they were stopped by war vessels. Hemminger is true to his promise concerning secrecy in connection with the war activities in the part from which he came. He said he could sit in his doorway and hear the cannon.

The party which was to have been given by the Pythian Sisters Wednesday has been postponed until Thursday. All Pythian Sisters are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. A. T. Lipes, 902 West DeWald street, at 2 o'clock.

MISS EBBA JOHANSON

When her ship stopped at Valparaiso, Miss Johanson took time to attend a concert one evening. She looked at the pianist and then again. He was none other than Gustav Godeslund, friend of her school days in Stockholm. A happy reunion followed and Miss Johanson induced him to come to the United States with her as accompanist on her tour.

SUMMER'S ON THE WAY—SUMMER STYLES HERE.

By Betty Brown

Womankind—especially very young womankind, is turning attention from silks and serges and materials that suggest winter to the airy, gay colored fabrics of spring and early summer.

Voiles and organdies, lawns of cobweb lightness are already displayed in the shops and though there are long dreary days between March and May, dressmakers are busy designing the party frocks and afternoon frocks that will be worn in balmy spring.

Just to aid the foresighted ones who are planning their summer wardrobes I asked the Fashion Art League of America to show me one of the advanced styles for summer frocks. Here it is, with wide, short skirt, draped girdle, angel sleeves—and pouch pockets. Pockets refuse to retire, here they are on a 1916 advanced model, as important looking as when first we saw them a year ago! This design is adaptable to any of the sheer fabrics and it is charming in taffeta.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given By One Who Had It

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply fill out the coupon below and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

GENL WOOD
PANCHO VILLA
GENL. JOFFRE
GENL. VON HINDENBURG

BY JESSIE ALLEN FOWLER,
Famous New York Phrenologist.

New York, March 28.—Francisco Villa, the Mexican bandit, cannot, according to laws of phrenology, be considered a true military leader. He has strong evidence of being a criminal bandit.

As a military leader he cannot be compared with Major General Hugh L. Scott or Major General Leonard Wood. Neither can he be compared with General Joffre or General Petain, of the French army; Hindenburg or the crown prince, of the Germany army, or General French or General Kitchner, of the English army.

Villa's tactics are guerrilla warfare and the psychological aspect of his make-up shows him incapable of carrying on legitimate warfare.

In examining a character of this kind one must take into account the bringing up, environment and education of the subject, to get the right viewpoint.

What would be applicable to a general of the type of Joffre, Hindenberg and Kitchener would not apply to a man of Villa's type, who is uncultured, uncouth, and without mental poise. One might almost say he is irresponsible for his actions, psychologically speaking.

Villa has an active temperament, which is seen in his strong framework, powerful muscular system and capacious chest. With this temperament he gets his restless, active, warlike, enterprising mind.

His chief characteristics are easily seen from his head and face. He is a man through force of circumstances and superior activity, has been placed at the head of bandits and ruffians like himself.

He has only little restraint. Lack of caution makes him daring. He knows nothing about personal fear.

He has just enough secretiveness to make him cunning in the arrangement of his plans, but he has not the sagacity or reserve of an ordinary man.

His lack of culture and refinement spring from his strong animal nature. He is careless about human life and the treatment he is inclined to give other people.

He has a mirthful element which makes him sarcastic and vulgar and inclined to laugh and joke with his men, who probably think him a jolly good fellow.

The photographs of Villa indicate, through his long and square jaw, that he has powerful resisting power, and ability to go through trying circumstances, lack of sleep, rest or food.

He has the energy born of ambition and the desire to conquer, but not to yield.

His broad jaw and strong upper jaw and cheekbones indicate driving power.

His ear, pointed at the top, indicates a strong degree of will power and stubbornness. It also shows lack of moral responsibility which the round full ear indicates, as we see in pictures of Washington, Lincoln and others.

His forehead shows he has capacity to plan, to analyze a situation and size up an individual. He has a pretty good idea, I believe, of President Wilson and members of his cabinet.

He is not a law abiding man, as most people recognize law, and should be treated as an irresponsible being.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS INVESTED IN BOOKS

New York, March 28.—The appraisal of the art and literary treasures of the J. P. Morgan collections will probably be made public by the state comptroller within the next month. Valuation of the contents of the Morgan library in East Thirty-sixth street has been virtually completed by the American Art association, to which the comptroller intrusted the work.

A well known dealer said that the Morgan collection of books and manuscripts would probably be appraised at between 3 million and 4 million dollars. Mr. Morgan has already announced that only the duplicates in this collection will be sold. It is estimated that they will bring between $100,000 and $200,000.

Arthur Swann, one of the men who has been appraising the library for the American Art association, was quoted as saying:

"There are twenty thousand volumes, and every one is a masterpiece of proved authenticity. The whole history of printing and writing is contained in the collection, which includes some of the rough books struck off by the first printers on wooden type. Mr. Morgan, sr., never bought anything cheap or doubtful. Everything in the collection is genuine."

HAS EIGHT CHILDREN

Mrs. P. Rehkamp, 2404 Herman St., Covington, Ky., writes: "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for nearly two years and can find no better cough syrup. I have eight children and give it to all of them. They all were subject to croup from babies on." It is a safe and reliable medicine for men and women as well as children. Don't let the cough that follows grippe hang on and weaken you. It is easier to get rid of a cough or cold than of its consequences. Dreier Drug Co.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

SENTINEL HORSESHOE CONTEST RULES ANNOUNCED

A committee of local horseshoe pitchers has gone into the matter of rules and regulations for The Sentinel horseshoe pitching tourney pretty carefully and has decided on the list of regulations published elsewhere on this page. These rules are practically the same ones that governed the city tourney at Columbus, O., last year, and which was very successful.

The entries for the tourney will close soon, and the big event will be held in about three weeks or probably even less. The earlier entries are received the more simplified the matter of tabulating them and the more accurate will be the results. Therefore the entries will close probably a week before the opening of the tourney and then the times for contests will be announced in The Sentinel in order to give all contestants equal opportunity to be on hand. The contest will be an elimination affair and with the large number of entries now registered it probably will require three or four nights to play off the entire list.

Cut out the rules and save them, for they probably will be published only once again.

1. The pitching distance will be 46½ feet from peg to peg. All contestants must stand with one foot touching the peg or on a line even with it.

2. The pegs shall be driven perpedicular and protrude six inches above the ground. The pegs shall be not more than an inch in diameter and shall be of iron or steel.

3. Twenty-one points shall constitute a game. A ringer shall count as three points. A leaner shall count as two points. In case there is neither a ringer nor a leaner the shoe nearest the peg shall count one point.

4. A ringer topping a ringer shall count six points for the contestant making the last pitch, regardless of circumstances under which the ringers are made. In case both a ringer and leaner are thrown by opposing contestants, the ringer only shall count. A ringer and leaner thrown by one contestant shall count five points.

5. If two leaners are thrown the last one thrown shall count four points for the contestant throwing it. In all such cases both shoes must touch the peg.

6. In case of a tie, the closer shoes of the remaining two shall count.

7. A ringer to count must be far enough around the peg to allow a straight rule to touch both ends of the shoe and clear the peg.

8. Each contestant is allowed to furnish his own shoes, subject to approval of the committee on rules. No shoe shall exceed two and one-half pounds in weight or have an opening wider than three and one-half inches. Any contestant using a shoe charged with electricity shall be disqualified.

9. Taping of fingers shall be allowed.

10. On all questions not specifically covered in these rules the committee on rules shall have full and final jurisdiction.

St. Petersburg Fla., March 27.—Champions by right of conquest in 1915, Pat Moran's Phillies, training here, have been picked to finish fifth in the 1916 National league flag race, but the Quakers are content to be neglected.

Dopesmiths who last spring consigned the Phils to last place probably are oblivious of the fact that Moran has been steadily adding power to his machine. They forget he has welded together a veteran pitching staff of extraordinary force. Joe Tinker has picked the Phillies to run fifth, though they dealt his Cubs four straight lacings in Florida.

Foremost among the hurling pickups are Chief Bender, Karl Adams, taken from the Cubs; Rhoades, who shone in the American association, and Fortune, a Dixie youth. Coming back to the Phils is Joe Oschger, who was farmed to Providence last season, and who won twenty-one games and lost ten.

Bender has not gone to pot. The Chippewa was discouraged after going to Baltimore. He invested several thousand dollars in a sporting goods store and the sheriff seized it just before he joined the Feds. This preyed on his mind all season.

The chief has regained all his old-time poise and confidence, is cheery and never has experienced arm trouble. He is one of the members of the Phillies glee club which swings into action during each workout.

In addition to these reinforcements Moran is barking on Alexander, Mayer, Rixey, Demaree, McQuillan Chalmers, Baumgartner and Tincup to furnish the required curving efficiency.

Bill Killefer's arm still has a question mark on it. He will not be allowed to do any pegging until early next month. Bill insists his whip is sound again. In addition to Killefer there are Jack Adams and Eddie Burns.

TOLEDO PAINTS COME SATURDAY NIGHT FOR GO WITH SAINTS AT CONCORDIA

If there's a team in the world that has anything on the Indianapolis Em-Roe five it is the Toledo Buckeye Paints, the fellows who meet St. Mary's at the Concordia gym next Saturday night. The Toledo players have been famous for years for their basketball class, and the team always has kept up its old high standard.

The St. Mary's have been putting up a brand of basketball that makes them logical contenders for state and interstate honors, and even if the Em-Roes refuse to play them they can gain a regular rep by throwing themseives up against the Paints, and making the game anything like close.

Fort Wayne is beginning to realize that it has some basketballers in its two flocks of Saints and there is little doubt but next year the local teams will be recognized from the start of the season and the big fellows will have to come across with games.

And while you're talking about next year, why not a basketball commission to be organized in the coming summer with the managers of representative local teams and athletic clubs represented. A commission of this kind would ward off any dispute of the kind which now tangles the city championship and the Lyceum-Fed-St. Mary's series.

SPORT DOPE

Urbana, Ill., March 28.—Conference colleges have been asked by Northwestern to follow its lead in adopting a two-sport rule. Illinois was a pioneer in proposing its general adoption some time ago and George Huff, athletic director, is said to favor it, but independent action may not find such strong support.

War has nothing on Oklahoma Babe. She was fourteen years old the other day, and by way of celebration she won her first race. The Babe has plowed up the tracks for twelve years without ever a finish in front. Then at the age when most horses have been led off to pasture to spend the remainder of their days, blessed if the Babe didn't up and win.

Louisville, Ky., March 28.—Wilbur (Roxey) Roach, star shortstop, and last year a member of the Federal league, this year will be Manager William Clymer's first lieutenant in attempting to land the American association pennant for Louisville. Roach formerly played under Clymer in the International league and has made such an impression at the Colonel's Columbia, Tenn., training camp that he has been chosen captain.

The basketball fans have two rattling good affairs ahead of them this week, the Lyceum-Purdue game Friday night and the St. Mary's-Buckeye Paints Saturday evening at the Concordia gym.

"Don't forget that no matter what the Fort Wayne bowlers pulled down at the Toledo meet," writes a tenpin fanatic, "it will be only pin money to them." All aboard for Easthaven.

Art Nehf is showing up well in the spring training with the Braves, and is making the Terry Hut residents conversation after a long, uninteresting winter.

Because he believes it will save lives in case of rowboat and canoe mishaps, the swimming instructor at the University of Wisconsin has ordered the girls to learn to swim while attired in long skirts, high shoes, jackets, hats and an otherwise full wardrobe. All of which goes to prove that the female of Wisconsin totes around several more duds than the Rome City summer girl.

The Lyceum-Feds will not play St. Mary's because the Saints ain't gentlemen, and the Saints accuse the Feds of being a bunch of fraid cats; the St. Paul's Nationals say the Feds haven't the backbone of an oyster, and the Concordia seconds accuse the Nationals of copping the amateur title by ways that are dark and means that are vain. Wouldn't this be a great stamping ground for Mr. Ford, Mr. Bryan and their lady friends, Miss Addams?

The city park board announces that as soon as the weather man permits, a big force of men will go to work on the tennis courts at Swinney park. There are ten courts out there, and with a little more manicuring they will be in great shape by summer.

Thieves entered the White Sox clubhouse down in Dixie several days ago and cleaned the place. About the only thing they left unharmed was Rowland's goat.

Charlie White ought to have a lot of sympathy with the St. Mary's crowd. He's been trying to kid Freddie Welsh into a fight for a couple of years.

THEY LET HIM SLEEP.

H. T. Strayngc, Gainesville, G., R. R. No. 3, was unable to sleep all night without getting up. "Sometimes only a few minutes after going to bed, I would have to get up, and I tried everything I heard of for the trouble. Finally I tried Foley Kidney Pills and after taking one bottle I believe I am entirely cured, and I sleep soundly all night." Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep. Dreier Drug Co.—Advertisement.

PUT OLD CHURCH IN TRUST.

Trustees Convey Property to Indiana Baptist Convention.

Jeffersonville, Ind., March 28.—A deed has been filed here from the trustees of Silver Creek Baptist church, also known as Charlestown Baptist church, which is said to be the oldest Protestant church in the old northwest territory, to the Indiana Batist convention, of Marion county, Indiana, for what is known as the "old brick church," in Charlestown township, near Slate Cut, twelve miles north of this city.

The conveyance is in trust and the building is to be kept for Baptist services and to be always open without charge for funerals.

The church was organized on November 22, 1798, it is said. It was at first on Fourteen Mile Creek, but was moved to Silver creek before the first log church was built in 1804.

The brick building was completed on November 27, 1824, and probably is the oldest church building used continuously for religious purposes in Indiana. The Old Bethel meeting house, Methodist church, near Charlestown, was built in 1803 or 1804, but for many years it was used as a blacksmith shop. It was restored as a church at the time of the centennial of Methodism in this state.

1,100 ATHLETES IN WAR BATTALION

(By Harold Johnson.)

Signs reading "closed for the season" are in order on the gates of athletic fields and rowing clubhouses throughout Canada. With the close of the hockey season practically every athlete of note in the dominion will have enlisted in the sportsman's battalion, 1,100 strong, and will be ready for the fighting in Europe.

Almost every amateur oarsman of note has rallied to the colors. This means American rowing organizations will have little competition from Canada this year. Among those who have enlisted are Dibbe, who annexed the senior championship of America last year, and Lou Scholes, the only Canadian who ever won the Henley diamond sculls.

The battalion is under command of Col. Grier, a well known athlete. Among his officers are J. P. Fitzgerald, president of the Canadian Baseball league, and W. O'Brien, of the Argonaut Rowing club. Tom Longboat, the great Indian runner, and G. H. Goulding, world's champion walker, are among the enlisted men. Nearly all those who have won distinction in canoeing, hockey, lacrosse and rugby have joined.

University athletes now fill the ranks of the famous Princess Patricia's, the soldiers responding from McGill, Toronto and western universities. The Canadian force of engineers is almost entirely made up of university students and graduates.

The athletes of Toronto, in addition to raising the sportsman's battalion, have practically supplied all the men, principally from the Argonaut Rowing club, for the thirty-fourth battery, now attached to the fourth Canadian division in Flanders.

Thousands Stand in Line Hours to Buy Gallery Seats for the Big Ring Battle

Thousands of fight fans, unable to "see" reserved seats for the Willard-Moran fight in New York at $10 or more apiece, were so anxious to see the bout from the gallery at $3 and $5 a seat they stood in line many hours when the general seat sale was opened. The picture shows the fans in a long line waiting to get up to the ticket window at Madison Square Garden. The crowd resembled a world series assembly.

Change in Church Paper.

One of the important matters to come up at the conference will be the proposition of establishing a church paper in Chicago to circulate exclusively in the episcopal area of Bishop McDowell. If this is done the Methodist paper now published in Cincinnati will probably be abandoned or moved to Chicago.

Several Recommendations.

Several recommendations touching upon the question of peace, preparedness, the Mexican invasion and other public matters will be made. The temperance question will be handled by a special committee composed of A. S. Preston, C. W. Shoemaker, T. M. Hill, W. E. Hamilton, M. B. Graham, A. L. Weaver and B. F. Hornaday. This committee is expected to make a strong recommendation for nation wide prohibition and will call upon the congress of the United States for the enactment of such measures that will bring this about.

Father and Son Ministers.

Rev. David S. Jones, pastor of the Madison street Methodist church at Muncie, who is also treasurer of the conference, was a very proud father Tuesday, for his son, Russell S. Jones, was taking his examination for admission to this conference. The young man is now a student in the Boston University School of Theology and for a time served as pastor at Derby, Maine.

Rev. M. A. Morrison, pastor of St. Paul's church, Elkhart, has a son who is also preparing for the ministry. He is now a student at Depauw university, Greencastle.

Oldest Member Not Coming.

Dr. Milton H. Mahin, of Newcastle, the oldest member of the North Indiana conference, has written that owing to his feebleness he will be unable to be in attendance at the meeting this year. Dr. Mahin is eighty-nine years old and entered the ministry when only nineteen. He is a grand old man and has lived a most useful life. In his prime he was regarded as one of the ablest ministers in the Methodist church and participated in many debates on baptism throughout the country.

Conference Postmaster.

A branch postoffice has been established in the Sunday school room of the Wayne street church, with Henry C. Schrader and daughter in charge at all times. F. Y. Gross is in charge of the information bureau.

Many Ministers Here.

There are perhaps more ministers in Fort Wayne than ever before in the history of the city. Every incoming train is bringing them. The delegates to the lay electoral conference to be held at the First Methodist church Friday, will probably not begin to arrive before late Wednesday and Thursday. This conference is held once every four years and will be attended by a delegate from practically every Methodist church in the North Indiana conference.

A large portion of the Sunday school room of the Wayne street church has been reserved for representatives of various religious publications. There is also a display of typewriters. In this day and age of the world there are not many ministers who do not possess a typewriter.

Bishop McDowell will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Doud, 523 West Wayne street. The sessions of the cabinet will be held at the parsonage of the Wayne street church, 711 West Wayne street. The statistical committee will meet daily at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Askew, 809 West Wayne; the committee on general qualifications, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Freese, 536 West Wayne; committee on conference relations, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Coverdale, 1015 West Wayne; conference secretary and his assistants in the study of the church; conference treasurer and his assistants, at the Old National bank, and the conference board of stewards in the First National bank.

Assigning the Delegates.

One of the biggest jobs in connection with the entertainment of the conference was the assigning of delegates to the various homes where they are to be entertained during their stay in the city. It was not until late Monday nigh that Rev. and Mrs. C. Claud Travis had completed the job. As the delegates arrive they are given their assignment cards and notwithstanding the large number to look after there has been very little confusion.

Church Beautifully Decorated.

The Wayne Street church is beautifully decorated with the national colors, demonstrating the patriotic spirit of the committee in charge of this part of the work. Red white and blue is everywhere in evidence.

The first meeting in connection with the conference was held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening with Rev. C. Claud Travis, pastor of the Wayne Street church, presiding. The service opened with the audience singing "Crown Him Lord of All," followed by invocation by Rev. Powell. Earl Thompson sang a sacred solo, after which announcements were made by Rev. Travis, who also conducted the scripture reading and introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. W. B. Freeland, of Kokomo.

Rev. Freeland Speaks.

Rev. Freeland took his text from Matthew 6-28: "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow." The speaker compared man to the lily, pointing out that man can no more grow without God than the lily. God is equally as essential to both.

Rev. Freeland spoke in part as follows:

"Can a boy or man accomplish anything by trying to grow? Boys grow, of course, but not of their own volition; they could not grow bigger if they wanted to or tried to. You can get books which will tell you how to grow flesh just as there are devotional books which tell you how to grow spiritually. There is something unnatural about it all." Without irreverence, he said, such well meant religious advice smacks purely of hot-house culture. "We should readily distinguish the difference between growth and accretion. Boys build a snow man but after he is built he never grows; they can add to him on the outside, but he never grows inside. They can roll snowballs and each revolution adds to the bulk, but that is simply accretion—it is not growth; to be sure, the ball may lie for weeks but will never grow bigger, but less. So a person may be large in the church, but without warmth, as the snow man. He may add to himself duties and responsibilities and yet be without growth or even life. A moralist increases the circumference, but a Christian grows from the center. The lily does not add to its charms from the outside, but grows from within. Consider the lily, how it grows.

A Natural Phenomenon.

"A natural phenomenon is arrested growth, or arrested development. Some forms of life are in process of development, some are stationary and some are receding from a former standard. Not so the lily. The physical man is the best example of arrested development; the man of today is degenerating. The sense of smell is almost gone, and the same may be said of the sense of taste. His ears go bad, his sense of sight has been neglected, his limbs no longer respond, his teeth are decaying, and his hand once skillful is losing its cunning and power. Everything points to arrested development. In pastoral callings one finds much the same conditions spiritually which the physical world shows. We find dwarfs and monstrosities of many kinds. Men and women who have been in the work for forty years are still no larger than a child in bulk and others who are giants ni stature are childlike in their minds.

"The lily does not bear fruit, but it serves its end; there is a usefulness of the beautiful. The lily grows out of moist and unlovely soil. There are many who think they must conform to their environments; if they grow in mud they must be mud. Consider the lily. It transmutes the lifeless into life, the unbeautiful into beauty, searches down into the mold and builds itself into a thing of beauty. The lily does not hunt for sunshine and air and water—they hunt for the lily. The sailor hoists his sail and the wind comes as water comes to the miller who builds his dam or the harvest comes to the farmer who plants his seed. So let the Christian but abide in Christ and he will grow."

Want Rev. Arnold Returned.

Members of the Methodist church at Bluffton are going to ask for the return of Rev. W. T. Arnold. A committee from the local church will attend the conference with one particular object of trying to prevent any other charge "stealing" the Bluffton pastor.

occupants of the building that they may die. Both fell from third floor windows.

The apartment contained twenty-five suites and more than a hundred persons were in the building at the time the fire started. The majority of them were rescued by means of ladders and nets.

Fire started in the building on Monday morning in a closet in Miss Reimer's room and she was rescued by firemen and taken to a hospital. The fire was easily extinguished but Miss Reimer was nearly suffocated. She revived in the hospital, however, and last night returned to her room.

Tells of Masked Man.

According to the story she told the police this morning a masked man entered her room shortly after 1:30 this morning, gagged her and bound her hands and feet, after which he started a fire in the room with paper.

She managed to get to her feet and hobble out of the room but not before the fire had spread and other occupants of the building had become alarmed. She hobbled down the hall and entered the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Melchoir.

Mrs. Melchoir had just jumped from the window and Melchoir was hanging on to the sill from the outside, ready to drop when Miss Reimer hobbled over to the window.

Cuts Girl's Bonds.

The crowd outside yelled to Melchoir not to jump and he clambered back into the room and cut Miss Reimer's bonds. He then lifted her out of the window and both the girl and himself were carried down an extension ladder raised by firemen. Miss Reimer was burned about the right shoulder and was taken to the hospital which she had quit on the previous day.

The fire was placed under control before the entire building was destroyed. The loss has not been estimated.

William R. Durbin, with a previous service record of three years in the Thirteenth United States field artillery, has applied for re-enlistment at the local army recruiting station and has been accepted.

George W. Fishering, of the firm of Fitch & Fishering, is spending the week in southern Arkansas on business.

NO CHANGE AT VERDUN.

Paris, March 28.—(11:30 a. m.)—The French official statement given out this morning says there was no change in the Verdun region during the night. West of the Meuse all was calm and to the west of the river there were some artillery squalls.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK.

London, March 28.—Sinking of the British steamship Empress of Midland is reported in a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam. The steamship Cromer from London arrived last night at Maas Luis Holland, with all the crew of the Empress of Midland.

The Empress of Midland, 2,224 tons gross, sailed from New York January 5, for Cardiff, Wales.

MUST HAVE RAILROADS

Further tension along the border was noted today following the reported raid by Mexican bandits last night on the ranch of C. E. Kelly, former mayor of El Paso, located thirty-two miles from the city.

When Alarm Was Given.

The alarm of the reported raid on the Kelly ranch was given first by L. N. Barker, foreman of the Kelly ranch. Barker said he saw a number of mounted Mexicans cross the river who attempted to drive off one hundred head of cattle belonging to Kelly. eH ran to a neighboring ranch house and called his employer on the long distance telephone here. In the meantime three of the raiders went to the Kelly ranch and threatened the Mexican assistant foreman with death if he interfered with them.

Word was immediately sent to the troops on patrol duty at Fabens, two miles east of the ranch, and Ysleta, eight miles in the other direction. Two detachments of the Eighth cavalry accompanied by four Texas rangers were sent in pursuit of the raiders.

Call it False Alarm.

After three hours' search they returned to camp and Capt. G. W. Moses reported to Gen. Bell that nothing had been seen of the Mexicans and that he believed the whole affair to be a false alarm.

The first soldier suffering from a gunshot wound to arrive from the front is at the hospital at Fort Bliss today, but his wound was self-inflicted and whether intentional or not a court-martial will determine. The soldier is Private Boundreau, of the Sixteenth infantry, shot in the foot. He was taken to Fort Bliss hospital with fourteen other men belonging to the expeditionary force down with a varied assortment of disorders.

Not all of the wild rumors are on the American side of the border, according to a Mexican merchant in El Paso, who said he was told by a peon just out of Casas Grandes that Villa had stolen all the horses and mules belonging to the American punitive force. The peon insisted that he learned from authoritative sources that the American army was so badly handicapped by its loss that it had, in fact, given up all hope of overtaking the bandits.

CONCENTRATION COMPLETE.

Columbus, N. M., March 28.—Concentration of troops at Columbus was completed today, army men here believe, with the arrival of a squadron of cavalry under the command of Col. W. E. Wilder, from Fort Meyer, Va.

No intimation was made at military headquarters here as to the final disposition of the troops. It is known, however, that the regiment of which the squadron is a part together with an infantry regiment was ordered to Columbus by Gen. Funston, departmental commander, subject to the orders of Gen. J. J. Pershing, expeditionary commander. Favorable reports of the progress of the pursuit of Villa, made despite numerous handicaps recently received from Gen. Pershing, indicate to army men here that he believes his force is rapidly reaching sufficient strength to follow the punitive expedition to successful conclusion.

Army men here say also that the troops now concentrated on the border more than six hundred miles of which is but an imaginary line, are sufficient in strength to protect it properly.

A score of water wagon tanks, resembling in a measure the street sprinklers of cities arrived today and are to be sent into the field with water supply for the troops. It was announced that chemists will test the water before it is placed in the tank for transportation, friendly Mexicans have warned the Americans that poisoning of the water supply has been employed by Villa and his bandits in their recent campaigns.

Lieut. Edgar S. Gorrell, of Baltimore, Md., one of the aeroplane corps who arrived here today, with dispatches from the front, told the story of his suffering in the desert in which he was lost for several days after being forced to land in an uninhabited district in the La Ascension country. He said he suffered no serious ill effects from his experiences. Lieut. Gorrell also reported that when the plane of Lieut. R. H. Willis, who was also reported missing, was rescued thirty-six miles south of Casas Grandes, it had been cut into ribbons. All of the leather and instruments had been removed he said and the wings were slashed to pieces, leaving the plane worthless. Only the engine was uninjured.

Candy is in demand by the soldiers at the front. Almost every motor train to the front carries chocolate or other sweets, which have been ordered by private soldiers in the column.

WASHINGTON PRODS CARRANZA.

Washington, March 28.—A memorandum to Gen. Carranza pressing for an immediate reply to the request for permission to use Mexican railroads in supplying American troops in pursuit of Villa was prepared today at the state department.

It will be forwarded to Quertaro probably late today and be delivered by Special Representative Rogers to Gen. Carranza and Gen. Obregon. The memorandum points out that the problem of supplying troops now more than 200 miles from the border is a pressing one and need not be delayed for the protocol covering the general subject. Gen. Carranza's suggestion as to modification and additions to the draft of the protocol are still under consideration in the state departmen. As considerable time may be required to bring the agreement into final form, the American government will urge that the immediate question of the use of the Mexican northwestern lines be considered separately and that at once.

KILLED BY SNOWSLIDE.

J. H. Mahoney, Said to Be of This City, Dies in Idaho Mountains.

Word has been received in this city that J. H. Mahoney, supposed to have formerly been a resirent of Fort Wayne, was killed a few weeks ago by a snowslide of Grey Hound mountain, in Custer county, Idaho. The letter was written by P. H. Rasche, Stanley, Custer county, Idaho. No such name appears in the Fort Wayne directory, but it is thought that the deceased left Fort Wayne many years ago.

KILLS SUFFRAGE AND PROHIBITION

House Judiciary Committee Votes Postponement on All Proposals.

Washington, March 28.—By a vote of 10 to 9 the house juriciary committee today voted to postpone indefinitely consideration of all suffrage and prohibition proposals now before it.

Separate votes were not taken on the two questions, despite determined effort by their supporters. Suffrage leaders expect to continue their fight for a report on the Susan B. Anthony amendment during the present session and efforts will be made to have suffrage plans incorporated in the republican and democratic party platforms.

LIGHTS FLASH OUT BIG AMERICAN FLAG

A big American flag in electrical illumination has just been erected at its Calhoun street office by the light and power department of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company that is something unique in its way and very attractive. The flag is made by Brinkman, and its erection by the Fort Wayne company is in line with the program recently adopted by light and power companies and by the big trolley lines of the country. It is said a number of others will soon be erected in the city.

GRADE TEACHERS ORGANIZE.

The following officers were elected: President, Laura Walters; vice-president, Mary Seaton; recording secretary, Maude Gaskins; treasurer, Anna Heyman; corresponding secretary, Rhoda Braddock. ATTACKED GIRL IN CHURCH.

Floyd Plum Sent to the State Penal Farm for Four Months.

South Bend, Ind., March 28.—Floyd Plum, of Goshen, who attacked Miss Grace Couch, age seventeen, last month, when she was at prayer in St. Joseph's Catholic church, will spend the next four months at the state penal farm. He was found guilty before Judge George Ford, of assault and battery. Plum must pay a $1 fine with costs.

The boldness of Plum's act attracted much attention. Miss Couch was in the church after lunch, offering a brief prayer before returning to a store, where she is employed as cashier. Plum approached her and struck her. The screams of the girl attracted the attention of the janitor. The girl's assailant leaped over the chancel rail and ran through the back door. He was captured later.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

W. A. STOCKBRIDGE IS ADVANCED

W. A. Stockbridge, electrical engineer of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, has just been promoted to a similar position in the office of the general superintendent of motive power of the lines west of Pittsburg, a newly created office, and will assume the duties April 1. He will work directly under General Motive Power Superintendent D. F. Crawford.

Mr. Stockbridge has been with the Pennsylvania since June, 1910, taking employment there immediately after graduating from Purdue university, in the capacity of a special apprentice. He worked in that capacity until January 1, 1913, when he was appointed motive power engineer, looking after the electrical lighting of passenger cars. January 1, 1915, he was appointed electrical engineer of the Northwest system, succeeding E. B. DeVilbiss, who was transferred to the Central system as assistant engineer of motive power.

The announcement of Mr. Stockbridge's promotion will come as a surprise to his friends, as it did to himself. It is understood that he knew nothing of it until a few days ago. However, as the change is a promotion Mr. Stockbridge will receive congratulations from all sides, the pleasure it gives his friends being tempered somewhat by regrets that he will have to move to Pittsburg. His successor has not been announced.

ALMOST PERFECT RECORD

Pennsy Trainment's Efficiency Test Stands 99.9 Per Cent.

In 1915, the third successive year in which no passenger was killed in a train accident on the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburg and Erie, 4,364,519 tests and observations were made to determine how well the train operating rules and signals were being obeyed. These tests covered the work of both officers and employes.

The results, which have just been compiled, show that only one error occurred in every 1,110 trials, giving a record of 99.9 per cent. of absolute perfection. In four classes of tests, including obedience to various "stop" signals, not a single failure on the part of any employe occurred throughout the year.

An exceptionally high record was made in the observance of rules intended especially for the protection of the employes. These included such matters as precautions in the shifting of trains and also the safety regulations governing men engaged in track work.

In the shifting of trains, 68,941 observations were made and 17 errors recorded. There were 342,991 tests for obedience to the safety rules for track workmen and in only 73 cases were these rules disregarded in any way. That meant one error in every 4,699 trials. Last year accidents to employes were reduced 11 per cent.

Only eight failures to follow strictly the rules governing watchmen stationed at grade crossings occurred in the 62,934 instances which were observed last year.

APPEAL TO LABOR LEADERS.

Managers of Street Car Strike Write to Samuel Gompers.

At the meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor last night it was urged that a more vigorous fight in the interest of the street car strikers be waged and that some of the leading labor men ofthe country be appealed to. Accordingly it was decided to write to President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, and President W. D. Mahon, of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America, and ask them to come here and give the matter their personal attention. If these leaders cannot come, other leaders of prominence will be asked to come. A resolution was adopted asking the park board to hire only union hands and also opposing the proposition to organize a municipal band. A committee was named to appear before the park board in behalf of the resolution. The safety and sanitation committee was instructed to take up with the city authorities the enforcement of the ordinance regarding the placing of sidewalk grates and of having the Indiana Lighting company put curb gas boxes in for consumers. H. S. Porter, A. C. Berger, Joseph D. Shaw, W. A. Flickinger and Frank Fry were appointed delegates to the United Labor council.

LUMBER FALLS ON LAD.

Little Arthur Paulison Has Leg Fractured.

Arthur Paulison, ten-year-old son of Brakeman and Mrs. S. M. Paulison, of 1109 St. Mary's avenue, sustained a fracture of the bones of the right leg a few inches below the knee at 4:30 o'clock last evening, when a pile of lumber fell upon him as he was passing through the lumber yards of Hoffman Brothers. With another lad, Arthur was on his way home from the public library and to shorten the distance, cut through the lumber yards instead of going around on the walk. As they passed one pile the other lad tried to climb upon it and it toppled over, catching Arthur beneath some of the boards and breaking the leg, as stated. He was taken to St. Joseph hospital, where Dr. J. Frank Dinnen set the fractured limb and the injured boy is resting easy today. S. M. Paulison, the father of the lad, is employed on the Nickel Plate, but did not take his run out today on account of his son's misfortune.

WESTERN GAS GETS CONTRACT.

Will Put in Gas Plant for F. E. Playhar at Bismarck.

Negotiations for the installation of a gas plant at Bismarck, N. D., which have been pending for some time, were closed by the Western Gas Construction company yesterday. The purchaser is the Valley City Gas company and the contract was signed by Frank E. Playhar, the president of the company, who came here for that purpose. The contract, which does not include buildings nor street mains, involves $40,000 and as the greater portion of this sum will be expended for labor, it means a good thing for Fort Wayne. This will be the second big contract with the Valley City company, the first being the installation of a plant about six years ago.

BROTHER VERY SICK IN KOKOMO.

M. H. Morrison, heater at the big hammer at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, left at 10 o'clock last night for Kokomo, after receiving a telephone dispatch that his brother, Attorney James Morrison, was lying at the point of death. Attorney Morrison was to represent his church at the M. E. conference in this city and his brother, M. H. Morrison, was disappointed when he failed to arrive and alarmed later when he received the telephone message concerning his sickness. Miss Lucile Morrison, daughter of M. H. Morrison, is at the home of her uncle in Kokomo for a visit. Attorney Morrison, through frequent visits here, has formed a pretty wide acquaintanceship and his friends will be sorry to hear of his illness.

WANTS $10,000 FOR A LEG.

Delbert C. Watts, of Peru, a L. E. & W. fireman, is seeking to recover $10,000 from the Michigan Central road for the loss of a leg. Last October the L. E. & W. engine on which Fireman Watts was riding, was ran into and upset at Michigan City by a Michigan Central locomotive running wild. Watts had a leg crushed and afterwards amputated. Only by presence of mind did Watts escape drowning. While pinioned to the ground by the locomotive tender, water flowing from it began to surround him and Watts saved his life by building a dam of the sand with his hands.

MYRL VANCE IMPROVING.

Myrl L. Vance, assistant general secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., who underwent a surgical operation at the St. Joseph hospital yesterday for appendicitis, is making good headway towards recovery. The young man was taken sick several days ago, but appendicitis did not develop until Sunday. He is a "live wire" in Y. M. C. A. work and friends of that institution and those elsewhere will watch with interest his recovery from the malady.

Pfeiffer, also members of the club.

GOING TO CLEVELAND.

Nickel Plate Fireman J. F. Baughman, who is a member of the firemen's grievance committee, has gone to Cleveland to meet other representatives of the firemen on business affecting their work. These meetings are held two or three times a year.

TROUBLES SINCE CHILD BANISHED

Miss Florence Agler, a well known Fort Wayne young woman, who lives with her mother at 724 Hugh street, this city, is one of the hundreds of firm friends Tanlac, the Master Medicine, has made in this vicinity by its good work. Miss Agler recently said:

"Since a small child I have suffered with stomach trouble. I'd have severe pains in my stomach, especially on arising, and I sometimes would become bloated, accumulations of gas forming on my stomach. My appetite was poor. I had indigestion. I also was very nervous and slept poorly. I generally was melancholy and depressed in spirits.

"After taking one bottle of Tanlac I noticed good results. The pains after meals and the bloating began to gradually disappear and now are practically all gone. I sleep fine now; my appetite is ravenous; I am much better in spirits. In fact, I feel stronger and better every way.

Tanlac, the Master Medicine that is now being taken by 65,000 Hoosiers, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, and the like and is a reconstructive tonic and a system purifier without a peer.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Fort Wayne at the Wayne and Calhoun streets store of the Meyer Drug Co., where the Tanlac Man is explaining the new remedy. It also may be obtained at teh other Meyer stores, Calhoun and Columbia, 1420 Calhoun and Broadway and Taylor.—Advertisement.

FLOOD CONDITIONS IN OHIO IMPROVED

Columbus, O., March 28.—Flood conditions throughout central and northern Ohio had improved sufficiently to allay all fear of serious damage resulting from torrential rains which fell over the section during the last forty-eight hours. Many rivers and creeks overflowed their banks yesterday and last night inundating thousands of acres of lowlands and driving hundreds of families from their homes. Property damage, however, was not high and, so far as known, no lives were lost.

Frightened citizens of the west side of Columbus, who fled from their homes to higher sections of the city when a flood warning was issued yesterday, began to return today, having been assured by weather officials that the crest of the flood had passed. A possible break in the levee was the only source of apprehension and a large squad of police and hundreds of workmen were on hand to prevent this. Conditions in the northern part of the state were still threatening, according to reports from Findlay, Tiffin, Fremont and smaller towns in flood districts.

BIG MUSKRAT KILLED.

E. L. Uncapher and B. G. Heck, of the National Cash Register company, figured in an exciting chase Monday night that resulted in them killing an eight-pound muskrat that had evidently been driven inland by the high water. The two men first spied the muskrat at Clinton and Berry streets.

W. H. Willenar, of Auburn, is said to be a candidate for presidential elector on the republican ticket from this district.

Clothing for the poor of Fort Wayne will be received at 1029 Fairfield avenue, and distributed to worthy people through the Fort Wayne Mother's club and the various charitable organizations. 11-15-tf

BOTH DELEGATIONS GIVEN SOME HOPE

Residents of Bloomingdale and Lakeside Visit the School Board.

Delegations from Lakeside and also from Bloomingdale visited the school board at its regular meeting held Monday afternoon, each with a request that better school facilities be provided the children in their section of the city. Neither one of the requests were granted, but both were given hope that their petitions would be given due consideration.

The Lakesiders and residents of Forest Park were the first to present their desires. The board heard the suggestions made and discussed the feasibility of erecting a new building in an informal way and intimated that a proper and appropriate site in this section of the city would be an exceedingly expensive item. After much harmonious discussion the petitioners suggested that the residents interested in this movement might be able to secure a site for the building. The board then suggested that the citizens discuss this matter among themselves and at the next meeting lay a definite formulated plan before the board.

Next in line were the residents of Bloomingdale with their petition, which asked for additional school facilities. They were assured by the board that their interests would be taken up at once, as they had been under advisement for some time. Just what will be done has not been decided upon as yet.

Willard Moellering, a student of the high school, presented a petition affixed with 166 signatures of high school students, asking the board for support in the organization of a junior military company among the members of the school. The board instructed Mr. Moellering to tell the youthful patriots to proceed with their arrangements and that without a doubt the support asked for would be granted.

The board confirmed the list of names which had been selected by Prof. Study as school enumerators. They are as follows: Office statistician, William H. Rathert, present incumbent; W. P. Smick, William Engle, Fred Hauss, H. W. Felger, Theodore Hardendorf, P. K. Juergensen, Thomas Juergensen, J. C. Huguenard, G. F. Wyneken, Thomas Shelvey, C. B. Weaver, J. F. Greim, Milton N. Webber, W. F. Smith, George Beahler and John W. Hayden.

5 COUNTIES WITHOUT MAN IN STATE PRISON

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—There were 13,121 inmates of Indiana charitable, correctional and penal institutions Sept. 30, 1915, the end of the fiscal year, according to the annual report of the board of state charities, which is now in the hands of the printer. Of these 4,431 are in penal institutions.

Brown county with a total of only 15 in all of the state institutions, has the fewest, while Marion county, the seat of the state capital, Indianapolis, with a total of 1,688, naturally has the largest number. Brown county has one inmate of a penal institution, that a boy in the boys' school at Plainfield.

Five counties, Brown, Crawford, Jasper, Ohio and Steuben, are not represented among the 1,351 inmates of the state prison at Michigan City. The reformatory at Jeffersonville had a population of 1,275, the state penal farm, 604; woman's prison at Indianapolis, 165; the Indiana girls' school at Clermont, 317, and the boys' school, 553.

NEGRO ESCAPES IN DARKNESS.

Eludes Police in Running Battle at Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., March 28.—A running battle between police armed with riot guns and a negro desperado was ended a short distance above the city on the banks of the Ohio river when the negro managed to effect an escape in the darkness. The fight began in the downtown part of the city when the negro tried to shoot Detective Jesse Peck, who was arresting him for an alleged theft. The negro ran, firing at the officer who followed, but was prevented from using his own gun through fear of injuring pedestrians. A riot call was sent to police headquarters and Chief of Police Schmitt and Chief of Detectives Ossenberg headed a squad who pursued the negro along the river bank. One of the numerous shots fired at the fugitive is thought to have taken effect as cornstalks covered with blood were found.

CONVERTED CRUISER GIVEN THE CREDIT

Andes Sank German Raider Grief According to Late Report.

London, March 28. The British converted cruiser Andes gets the credit for sinking the German raider Greif in the North sea February 29, in additional details of the battle published today. After the British armed merchantman Alcantara had engaged the Greif and been rendered helpless by a shell which shattered her rudder, one of her consorts, the Andes, appeared and made it impossible for the Greif to escape. Shells swept the deck of the German raider, driving the men from some of her guns.

The raider fired several torpedoes, which the Andes escaped through skilful handling. While thus engaged a third British vessel of the light cruiser type, attracted by the sound of firing, appeared on the scene. Although at a great distance the cruiser had already joined in the action, her gunners finding the range and hitting the target with remarkable precision. But the Andes had the Greif afire fore and aft and the raider blew up with a terrific explosion, the theory being that she carried a cargo of mines which ignited when the fire reached them. The captain of the light cruiser congratulated the Andes and gave her the credit for sinking the Greif.

Pipefitter Frank J. Ruch, of the Pennsylvania, returned to duty yesterday after an illness of ten days.

NOT A CHANCE FOR HUGHES' NOMINATION

Several Reasons for Fact—And Among Them is T. Roosevelt.

By Gilson Gardner.

Washington, March 28.—There are four reasons why Justice Charles E. Hughes will not be nominated at the republican national convention as the party's republican-progressive harmony candidate for president. They are:

(1) Roosevelt does not like Hughes and would not support him.

(2) Hughes does not like Roosevelt and would not accept the latter's platform.

(3) Hughes would not like to leave a life job as justice of the supreme court on the chance of getting the presidency or defeat—unless the chance for getting the presidency can be made more attractive than it is likely to be made.

(4) The republican convention "arrangers" are probably not really for Hughes, but are using him as a stalking horse in the belief that they can trade and dicker for some "eminently satisfactory" man of their own brand of statesmanship.

There are several other reasons why Hughes will not be nominated, but these will accomplish the result.

One of the most remarkable things about the Hughes boom is the fact that it has gone ahead on the assumption that Hughes would have the support of the progressives. That Hughes has no claim on progressive confidence is indicated by the following facts:

(1) He was appointed to the supreme court by President Taft, who is not famed for appointing progressives to responsible judicial jobs.

(2) He was nominated to the position of attorney in the insurance investigation by Strong, Caldwallader & Co., from which firm Taft took his attorney-general, George W. Wickersham.

(3) The insurance investigation which made Hughes famous, was subsequently discovered to be merely an incident in a battle royal between two financial groups each seeking possession of the vast capital of the insurance companies. The expose in the public interest was a weapon used against the Harriman group. The Ryan group won.

(4) As a reform governor of New York, Hughes made popular primaries his one slogan, and went out of office with no primary law enacted, and the Barnes-Murphy bi-partisan control still all-powerful.

(5) During the years when the progressives of the country were fighting for such things as popular election of senators, regulation of railway rates, restraints on overcapitalization, income-tax amendment, strengthening the anti-trust law, and all the program of labor legislation, Charles E. Hughes was not heard to endorse or otherwise aid in any way any of these causes.

(6) As Justice of the supreme court, Hughes handed down decisions "dissolving" the Standard Oil and Tobacco trusts. These decrees were empty forms as the court must have known and might have since discovered by their operation on the retail prices of Standard Oil products, and the profits and stock values of that concern. In the case of the tobacco trust, the emptiness of the decree was pointed out to the court in a brief by an ex-attorney general (now an associate justice), James C. McReynolds, and by Louis D. Brandeis; but Mr. Justice Hughes declined to act on the suggestion of the brief, and has shown no evidence of a desire to make the Standard Oil decision anything more than a well-sounding legal theory.

For these reasons Mr. Justice Hughes would fail to poll the votes of the forward-looking wing of the republican party.

A final reason why the nomination cannot be made attractive to Justice Hughes is the authorized announcement that the progressive convention will be held in Chicago, June 7, and the equally authoritative announcement that this body will name T. Roosevelt as the party candidate for the presidential office. With Roosevelt in the running, and Hughes put forward on an unwritten platform, as the choice of Penrose, Barnes, Crane and Hilles, the prospect would hardly be one to tempt the Honorable Justice from his more obscure but comfortable life job as one of the nine men who really rule the U. S. A.

This Store Serves As Well As Sells

In the pursuit of merchandising as practiced by this store—our first endeavor is to serve you well.

By this service we mean prompt and efficient attention; worthy merchandise; courtesy; accuracy; truthfulness in our store and in our advertising. Liberality; Loyalty; Sincerity.

Upon these things have we grown and for which we may lay claim to being "Fort Wayne's Fastest Growing Store."

And we are not forgetting to incorporate an atmosphere of Home-like feeling for we want you to feel a natural inclination to call this "Your Store." It is!

We are doing much to extend our sphere of usefulness in this community, in the selling of good merchandise and placing at your disposal the BEST the markets of the world afford.

And the news of this good service and good merchandise is not confined within the City limits!

There has never been a time in the history of this store when there has been a greater response to Tepper Advertising.

The general belief that "Price" is the first consideration is evidently a mistaken one.

Neither does any man or woman of intelligence expect to get something for nothing.

It is little short of an insult to their intelligence and business honor to attempt to make the public believe, merchandise is, as merchandise, worth more than they are asked to pay for it.

Five large stores buying as one gives us a decided advantage. Tepper merchandise is worth every penny you pay for it. It is bought and sold on its merits.

Think these facts over—then come and see with your own eyes!

So—if it is a "service station" it naturally follows that this store aspires to do "its level best."

And we are doing it! The news is spreading like wildfire!

Better merchandise. Better values. Better service—if such a thing be possible.

Exclusive styles—Tepper styles, if you please, are making for us a constantly growing business which is not confined within the city limits.

We know that what you are interested most in right now—Dress-Up week—is not Spring Suits or Coats or Dresses in general, but—YOUR needs in particular!

We're quite sure we have it here—no matter what your ideas may be! And it must please you! Fit you! Yea, be a very part of your own personality.

A notable feature noticed by most visitors who come here to look first—are the advanced and set modes—those that will be shown later as a rule.

IF YOU LIVE IN FORT WAYNE OR AWAY—YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF TO COME AND LOOK WHERE MOST EVERYBODY LOOKS AND WHERE MOST OF THE "EVERYBODIES" BUY!

[Tepper's 2nd Floor.

"I've resolved to buy my Corset of Tepper's"

The very words of a woman overheard by the Ad man yesterday!

She realized that of Paramount importance to her perfect dress a Corset must be PERFECTLY FITTED!

In this vast stock of so many kinds and styles and models and prices—you are assured a corset service—a REAL CORSET SERVICE—second to none as compared to the best stores of this country.

You know—as well as we—figures, like faces, are different—no two alike!

And would you be satisfied to wear a corset that is "just right" for some other lady's figure, or would you rather have some competent person, schooled in the art of Corsetry to suggest a model suited to your requirements?

That is exactly what CORSET SERVICE at this store means!

Indianapolis, March 28.—The thought of $1,000 lying unprotected in a room when it should have been in his custody, sent Dr. Richard A. Poole, coroner, on a hurryup trip to the former home of Andrew Jackson, an aged recluse who shot himself to death in the room, 615 East Washington street, several days ago. Coroner Poole had searched the room at the time, but had found little of value. It had been reported that the recluse had money secreted somewhere in the room, therefore, when Lillie Bell appeared and told of the "whereabouts" of the money, Coroner Poole said, "let's go."

With all speed the coroner and his informant went to the room. The woman was certain the money was in a glass jar on a stand-table. She described the jar and the coroner seized it as he entered the room. Turning it up with a hasty motion, the coroner poured out on the table a choice assortment of washers, bolts, taps and other pieces of metal—none of which is classed as precious.

It was this telegram that transformed Dr. Wishart, a friend of the Peck family, into a detective, and took him from the sequestered life of a Baptist parish into New York life.

How Science Has Found that Chewing Gum Is Worry's Greatest Foe

Are you worried? Chew gum. Do you lie awake at night? Chew gum. Are you depressed? Is the world against you? Chew gum.

In a remarkable analysis of the benefit and the harm of gum chewing Dr. Anna Dwyer, chief physician of the Morals Court of Chicago and member of the state charities commission, states that it is an invariable physical impossibility for worriment and depression to come upon an individual who is chewing gum.

"The brain centers," says Dr. Dwyer, "are so situated that when the act of mastication is begun all sense of depression and melancholia leaves the mind. From a purely mechanical standpoint worriment is impossible while the jaws are moving rapidly. When an individual chews gum he, or more frequently she, has no concern or worry for the world.

"I prescribe chewing gum to those of my patients who are habitually depressed. In doing so I have no illusions about the delicacy or good taste of the practice, but I advocate it on account of the undoubted benefits it brings to those who are threatened with nervous troubles.

"Did you ever see a person who in the act of chewing gum was anything but cheerful and happy? The stenographer who works her jaws all day long is a standard joke. Professional humorists find in her a perpetual source of merriment.

"But on the other hand she will never break down from nervous prostration.

WHERE JOY AND SORROW LIVE.

"The reason for this is very obvious when you analyze the brain and its contributing blood and nervous systems. At the base of the brain is the medulla oblongata, a short connecting link between the spinal cord and the brain. Within this very important section of the nervous system lie, closely adjacent, the centers of depression, joy, sorrow, weeping, vomiting, digesting, perspiring, masticating and swallowing. When any one of these centers receives a stimulus from the upper brain it becomes excited and sends out a message to the blood supply. There is immediate response and blood rushes to the excited center, leaving the surrounding centers slothful and inactive. The stimulus of one center temporarily strands the others.

"This is the situation when chewing prevents worry. A suggestion comes to the center of mastication and it relays the message. The blood floods to meet the demand of the rapidly moving jaws and the nearby center of depression becomes inactive. As soon as the act of chewing is well under way the feeling of sadness leaves. The downcast countenance clears and content comes upon the individual. He is said to get 'his mind off his troubles.'

"Likewise the center which governs concentration is quieted and intensity of thought departs. The edge is taken off of the feelings. The human being becomes more reposeful.

"It relieves the situation automatically and invariably. To those who cannot sleep at night from some worriment I urge the chewing of gum. I have known it to stop insomnia if followed diligently.

"When women become hysterical it often helps them to chew gum. It produces a calm which robs them of much of their unreasonable fear.

"People who are extremely garrulous present an interesting study to the physician. Usually their incessant chatter is due to the promptings of their fidgety intellects. They are by nature flighty and estranged from deepest thought. However, part of the reputation for unimportant conversationalists which they achieve is due to the fact that in the full strength of their garrulity they lose the power of coherent thought. The working of their jaws to such extreme degree of rapidity produces something of the same effect achieved by gum chewing. Their spirits consequently are light and merry. They are comfortable and enjoying life.

"It is a fact that most persons at the dinner table are usually happy when they are eating, but rarely brilliant. I have seen very intellectual people become uninteresting while eating. Of course, 'after dinner' speaking is another matter. This is because the very movement of their jaws handicaps their brilliance of thought. The center which prompts witticisms and smartness is handicapped by the overindustry of the mastication center and is stultified.

WHY DINERS ARE HAPPY.

"But it is equally true that laughter rings out more often at the dinner table than at any other one meeting place of people. This is because diners don't worry over anything in the wide world if they are eating heartily. They are as free from depression as the girl who makes her typewriter keys bang in rhythm with her gum chewing and free from the same reason that she is free. They have no coherence. How often have you seen diners try to remember things at the table, attempt to recall something witty. They are especially prone to attempt something clever and fail. The faux pas is common at the table, and common because of the overactivity of the jaws.

"Watch the witty person at the table. He is a light eater. He does not eat at all directly preceding some clever remark. The good story teller at the board eats sparingly. Watch a hearty and enthusiastic eater next him try to emulate his success. He breaks off chewing violently to speak and falls short. It is because his nerve center of concentration is not working so rapidly as his neighbor's.

"Gum chewing has become a great American fad. There are arguments for and against it. As I said before, I never advise its use from anything but a purely medical standpoint. There is no doubt that its widespread use will make a better natured race of people, but it may also make a thoughtless, more or less inconsequential, race.

"Students should not pursue the practice while preparing their lessons. They cannot drill the facts into their minds. They will forget. They are not keen and vivid enough of temperament at the time to master anything that necessitates concentration."

"Not long ago a wager was made between a physician and an athletic director as to the relative endurance of two athletes who were training for an event requiring great stamina," says Dr. Walter Peet. "Evenly matched physically, a road walk from sunrise to sunset was decided upon as the form of contest. It was stipulated that no stops should be made for nourishment, but that the men could eat while walking.

"During the progress of the race the medical man frequently gave his contestant a fresh piece of chewing gum. On the other hand, the athletic trainer gave his man food and copious drink. The rivals were 'neck and neck' until noon, when the doctor's man began to slowly but surely forge ahead. At sunset he had won by a wide margin, and he was in better physical condition and less tired than his opponent.

MAKES STRONG TEETH.

"The physician believed this experiment to be a success, but to prove his theory the same kind of race was arranged for a fortnight later. The same men were sent over the same course, but this time the medical man's contestant was given food and drink and the athletic director's candidate was supplied with chewing gum. The latter won.

"The explanation given is that by stimulating the flow of saliva the chewing gum kept the mouth and throat moist and refreshed, preventing thirst. The man who had the chewing gum took very little liquid during the day, while his rival drank freely. Now it is a well-known fact that liquid taken before or during any contest or hard work is detrimental in several ways. The gum chewer in the walking contest was free from this handicap.

"Dental experts have recently been dwelling on the importance of developing the jaw bones and muscles, thus giving the teeth ample opportunity for development. An alarming percentage of school children were discovered to possess teeth of inferior quality and malformation. Chewing gum serves to strengthen the face and jaw muscles, exercising the teeth, massaging the gums and removing particles of food that lodge in or between the teeth, causing decay by fermentation.

"In some of the large hospitals in this country physicians are now prescribing chewing gum for fever convalescents. It has been discovered that the gum is relished for its cooling and soothing properties, for its good influence in destroying bad taste and in giving the patient something to look forward to that is toothsome, agreeable and sedative in its action upon the nerves."

So much for the expert opinion of science. From the layman's viewpoint there are few prettier sights in life than that of a lovely maiden at the typewriter chewing gum and grinning amiably. Two generations of Americans have raved about the beautiful rhythm and poetry of motion brought into the world by the indestructible edible gum. What employer is there whose heart has not been melted by the sight of his stenographer "letting her fingers stray blissfully across the keys" in close harmony with her masticating duties? He may rave and storm when he sees her empty eye and vacant smile, but he hasn't yet appreciated that the fault is not hers but the gum's.

Friends of the renowned baseball player, Christy Mathewson, assert that at least some measure of his uncanny imperturbability in the pitcher's box is due to his steady use of chewing gum while playing. His poise and calmness under all conditions has attracted the attention of all observers who have beheld him at work. Throughout his fifteen years of service he has been hailed times without number as the greatest of pitchers and as the man who had more control of the ball than any other hurler before him or during his reign.

Those who know him best believe that he relies a great deal for his self-command when the pinch comes upon chewing gum. Certain it is that when the exciting moments come and the fate of one thrown ball may decide the whole issue his jaws can be seen to crush the chewing gum sternly and resolutely. And a glance at the records of the "old master" for the long stretch of his service will show that he has not usually chewed in vain.

Ed. Walsh, who at one time rose to dispute Mathewson's claim to supremacy in the pitchers' ranks, invariably chews upon slippery elm bark. Intimates of the "iron man" say that when he was working day after day in an almost unparalleled exhibition of gameness and under extreme tension he found great relief in incessantly chewing.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, March 28.—Wheat rose in value today, influenced largely by higher prices at Liverpool, where the market was bullishly effected by chances that submarine activity would interfere with supplies. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅜c to 1c higher, with May at $1.10¼ to $1.10⅝, and July at $1.08¾ to $1.08⅝, were followed by moderate additional gains.

The close was firm at ½c to ⅝c net advance.

Unsettled weather and consequent prospects of a lessening of receipts gave only transient strength to corn. After opening ⅜c to ½@⅝c higher, the market sagged to below yesterday's finish.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, March 28.—Further uncertain tendencies were manifested at the opening of today's market although advances outnumbered declines. Gains of one to two points were made by Continental Can, International Nickel, National Cloak and Suit and Philadelphia company, while Crucible Steel and American Beet Sugar rose fractionally. South Porto Rico scored a new high record on its rise of five to 195. Losses of a point were recorded by Mercantile Marine preferred and Maxwell Motors, while Studebaker and Baldwin and American Locomotives as well as Western Maryland were nominally lower.

Trading quickened and broadened at higher levels before the end of the first hour and speculation sought new channels. Such issues as Goodrich and a few relatively obscure pspecialities wrenched leadership from United States Steel and other former favorites, Goodrich making a gain of 1¾ to 77¾. Later Crucible, American Locomotive and American Can assumed some of the recent prominence. Elsewhere noteworthy movements included United Fruit up three and Cuban-American Sugar up 16 to 245. Wabash preferred "A" was active feature of the rails and a general improvement was shown in that quarter. Bonds were steady.

Countess Seeks Rest in Calm of America

Countess Izella Louise Clara Schwartz, who has come to the United States from Paris to seek rest from the distraction and worries of war. Her husband is a colonel in the French army. She has a brother in the struggle at Verdun and another one, a prisoner in a German concentration camp. With her is her tiny dog "Fi-Fi."

"Society women in the United States who are enthusiastically announcing that they intend to go to Europe to drive ambulances and nurse the sick, know nothing of what horrors they will see once there," says Countess Louise.

Never Again Will She Dare Husband

Mrs. Alice McPartland, a wealthy New York woman, will never again "dare" her husband. Over in Honolulu recently a "dare" nearly made her a widow. She had learned to ride a surf board and dared her hubby to follow suit. He did so and was riding gaily when a big wave knocked him off the board and half-stunned into a strong undertow. Lifeguards rushed to the rescue and brought him to land. He was ill for a time from the accident. They reached San Francisco recently on their way home.

The trees and shrubs which produce some sort of rubber are said to grow in a narrow belt round the world, within 5 degrees north and south of the equator.

MULE'S KICK COSTS $800.

Standard Oil Company Pays for Injuries Inflicted on Employe.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—It is not an easy matter to prove that a mule will not kick viciously. It is a common notion that all mules kick, and attorneys for the Standard Oil company have compromised a lawsuit because they found one of the difficulties of the case was to make a jury believe that a mule is not naturally vicious with its heels.

Cecil C. Robinson, formerly an employe of the oil company, is to get $800 as a result of the compromise. He was whitewashing mule stalls at the Lord street stables of the company, and in the course of his work attempted to take a mule from a stall. The mule literally kicked about the removal. Robinson's leg was broken and he suffered other injuries to his body. He sued for $5,000 damages.

QUARTER CENTURY WED; ASKS DIVORCE

Loretta M. Meads Declares She Can No Longer Be Wife to Fred.

After almost a quarter of a century of married life Loretta M. Meads, 3322 South Barr street, has found cause to complain of her husband's neglect and cruelty and she has sued Frederick A. Meads in the superior court for divorce, alleging that for three years he has failed to properly support her and their children, has nagged her, treated her cruelly and caused her to fear. She asks the custody of two minor children, aged 9 and 19 respectively. Two other children have attained majority. An order restraining the defendant from molesting her has been issued. R. B. Dreibelbiss is the plaintiff's attorney.

Says She Broke Her Promse.

In a complaint for divorce just filed by Joseph H. Lambrook against Lillian Lambrook in the superior court, the plaintiff says that once before during the present year he filed a similar action but withdrew it on his wife's promise to do better and took her back. She disappointed him, and he is suing again. He says she calls him names, curses and swears and use language unfit to put in a complaint, and threw dishes on the floor. They were married four years ago in December and have just separated. S. A. Callahan is attorney for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Chaney Must Pay $800.

By verdict of a jury in the circuit court, late Monday, Mrs. Isabelle Chaney must pay over to William Reichelderfer, executor of the estate of the late John Schaffer, the sum of $800 held to belong to that estate. John Schaffer was an aged and widely known justice of the peace in Harlan, this county, and when he died last June a purse containing $800 he was known to have had in possession was missed. It was learned that shortly before the aged man's death he had given the pocketbook to his brother, Sturgis Schaffer, to give to a daughter, Mrs. Chaney, to keep as her own. Mr. Reichelderfer, the executor of the estate, thereupon brought suit for possession of the money as belonging to the estate. The jury found for the plaintiff after deliberating half an hour.

Says He Was Tricked Into Marriage.

William A. Strebig has begun suit in the superior court against Nellie Strebig for divorce, alleging that he was tricked into a marriage with her January 26, last, by paternity proceedings, which he has found since the ceremony to have been without cause. He says they separated three weeks after marriage, when he learned that she was not to become a mother as she had alleged. Charles M. Niezer is attorney for the plaintiff.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court Hattie F. Gunzinger has been granted a divorce from Walter E. Gunzinger and permitted to resume her maiden name of Koon.

In the suit of Charles M. Henry vs. John W. Henry, to collect $4,000 on a note, the defendant has a change of venue from the superior court to some other county.

The suit of John Sullivan vs. Clarence T. Brase for $2,000 damages has been set for trial before a jury in the superior court May 9.

ST. JOE BOULEVARD WILL BE IMPROVED

Board Tells Committee It Will Order Pavement This Year.

The board of works late Tuesday afternoon informed a committee of Lakeside residents who called to discuss the matter that it would order the paving of St. Joe boulevard from Lake street to State boulevard this spring and that the work will be completed this year. The board had intended to include St. Joe boulevard in the first paving program, but thought it advisable to defer it until later. The committee that visited the board consisted of Councilman Jacob Agne, T. J. Logan, L. P. Sharp, W. D. Henderson, O. E. Richards and H. F. Bullerman.

COUNCIL WILL FIGHT IT OUT.

Garbage Site Question to Go Before That Body Tuesday Evening.

It is thought probable and by the executive officials of the city it is hoped that before the city council adjourns its regular session Tuesday evening the question of a site for the new garbage plant will have been thrashed out and settled. That there will be a discussion of some heat is likely. The joint report of the council's committee on contracts and franchises and its special committee on a new garbage plant will report in favor of ratifying the contract with the W. J. Edwards company, of Chicago, for construction of the incinerator and will recommend that the plant be placed on city ground lying between Clinton and Barr streets, north of Duck alley. That this proposition will meet antagonism in the council is expected. It is believed, however, that a majority will approve the recommendation in order to get the vexed issue out of the way and permit work to begin on the new incinerator in time to insure its completion early enough to be available for use by August when the heaviest demand of the year on the garbage plant begins.

SPEAKS TO MINISTERS.

David H. Hogg Delivers Interesting Address at Monday Afternoon Session.

The members of the Fort Wayne Ministerial association, which met in regular session Monday afternoon at the First M. E. church, listened attentively to an interesting address delivered by David H. Hogg. He spoke on the many perplexing and discouraging situations which this present day and age brings those who have been placed at the head of movements, and especially ministers.

His closing remarks were: "Our forefathers had great wrong to right—political tyranny to overthrow, human slavery to eradicate, civil and religious liberty to win, a system of popular education to inaugurate, and, with it all, the wilderness to tame and a new land to develop. For these ends they sacrificed much. It is for us to attack with equal courage the evils of the present. Let us awake to a new realization of the moral and political dangers which confront our civilization and arouse a new determination to have an active part in meeting them."

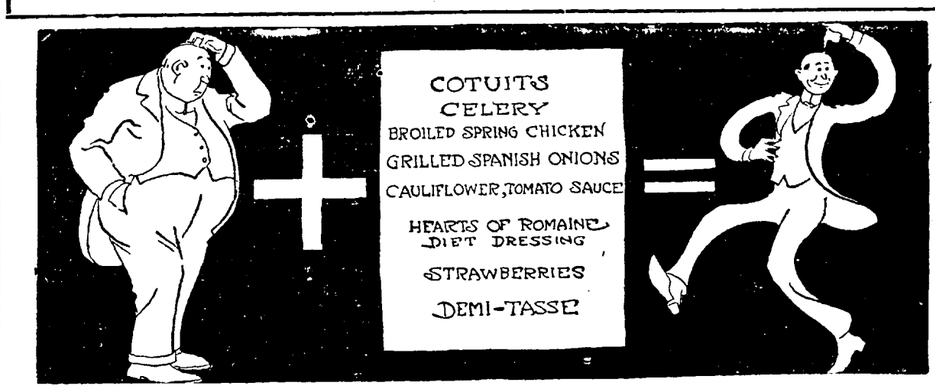
WOULD YOU REDUCE WEIGHT? THEN EAT LOTS OF FOOD SAY FAT MEN WHO ARE TRYING ORIENTAL PLAN.



Chicago, March 28.—Want to get thin? Then eat a lot. This is the platform of 75 members of the Union League club, who three months ago were full-fledged 200 pounders. Now each claims to have shed from 25 to 40 pounds since enrolling in the Mahdah luncheon circle.

Warren Gorrell, secretary of the Union League club, discovered the magic of the "Mahdah eats," said to be something Oriental.

"The principle," says Gorrell, "is that fat foods produce fat and lean foods produce leanness."

Starches, fats and sugars are avoided, he says. The diners are not given water with their meals. Soups, gravies, ordinary bread, puddings and pastries are tabooed. Diners are warned that one hour must elapse between meals and a glass of water. Wine, beer and ale are deplored.

There's food a-plenty, however. An ideal luncheon consists of minced turkey, creole, lettuce au jus, baked apple and gluten bread. Dinner offers cotuits, celery, broiled spring chicken, grilled Spanish onions, cauliflower, tomato sauce, hearts of Romaine, diet dressing, strawberries, demi-tasse.

GO IN QUEST OF "BLUE TIGER."

American Scientist and Wife Will Seek Rare Specimen.

San Francisco, March 28.—A quest of the blue tiger—a beast which has been termed the "Flying Dutchman of Zoology" because many scientists and explorers have seen it, yet none has ever been caught—is to begin today when Roy Chapman Andrews and Mrs. Andrews sail from San Francisco for the orient on the liner Tenyo Maru.

Somewhere in central Asia or Tibet they expect to capture a specimen of the animal and to make an exhaustive study of zoology for the American Museum of Natural History, of New York, of which Andrews is assistant curator. Others will later join the expedition, which experts to be away from civilization for about a year.

SHACKLED MEN ESCAPE.

Prisoners Linked Together Crawl Through a Car Window.

Centerville, Iowa, March 28.—Although shackled together by the legs, Edward Butler and Frank Giesler, prisoners being taken from Detroit, Mich., to the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, escaped by crawling through a sleeping car window yesterday and were not recaptured until after noon. They were in a special car with ten other prisoners over whom there was a guard of seven deputy United States marshals.

How the men bound as they were managed to get through the window remains a mystery. They crawled out on the outskirts of this city and their absence was not disclosed until the train reached the next station. They were found still in their undergarments and still shackled, shivering in a haystack near here.

U. S. ASKS BERLIN IF U-BOATS SUNK ESSEX

Washington, March 28.—The United States has inquired of Germany, through Ambassador Gerard, whether any of its submarines torpedoed the British channel steamer Sussex.

Secretary Lansing announced after the cabinet meeting today that it had been decided to make such an inquiry, and later it was learned that the inquiry had actually been made and, in fact, probably already is in Berlin.

Not Yet Protest or Demand.

The present status of the communication is that of an inquiry. It has not advanced to the stage of a protest or a demand.

The president and cabinet members were furnished with all reports concerning the disaster which had reached the state department from diplomatic and consular representatives in France and England.

Not Conclusive Enough.

Members of the cabinet said that evidence in possession of the United States was not conclusive enough to warrant decisive action at this time. For this reason it was decided to make inquiry of Germany.

A majority of the cabinet members, however, believed preliminary reports clearly indicated that the Sussex had been torpedoed.

As President Wilson and his cabinet met today members reflected the view that the submarine situation was grave, but indicated that no decided action would be taken by the American government until it was shown conclusively that the steamers Sussex and Englishman were sunk by submarines.

While all the evidence at hand indicates that the steamers were torpedoed without, with the probable loss of one American life on the Englishman and injuries to several Americans on the Sussex, President Wilson is awaiting with deep concern receipt of positive proof before taking definite action.

May Take It to Congress.

It is said he is seriously considering laying the whole submarine question before congress personally. He certainly would take that step, it is said, before making any move that might lead to the breaking off of diplomatic relations with Germany.

Ambassador Bernstorff, who has been away for several days, was due to return today and it was expected that he would consult with Secretary Lansing over the situation. It is stated authoritatively that if a German submarine fired the torpedoes which sank the Englishman and damaged the Sussex, Germany would disavow the act, punish the submarine commander, offer reparation and satisfy the United States that the act was in violation of instructions.

Where Issue Centers.

The issue therefore seemed to come down to the question of whether the Washington government would be willing to accept such a declaration. On the other hand, if all facts are not deemed sufficiently clear it is probable this government would be compelled to accept a German disclaimer and allow the cases of the two vessels to be placed beside that of the steamship Persia, destroyed by some unknown agent.

SHARP FIGHT NEAR ST. ELOI

Today's War News Given in Summary

The infantry continues inactive before Verdun and even the notable artillery fire reported for some days in the Vaux-Douaumont region east of the Meuse has slackened. The German guns have resumed a heavy fire to the west of the river, however, shelling the French lines south of Malancourt in the sector where the recent German drive took the crown prince's troops south to the edge of the Auvocourt woods from which a new attempt to debouch may now be preparing.

A surprise attack by the French in the forest of Parroy in Lorraine is reported by Paris, a German trench being blown up, after which the attacking forces withdrew with some prisoners.

Bitter fighting is again taking place along the Austro-Italian front. The Austrians launched an attack on Valpiccolo, taking a trench, but in counter attacks the Italian forces not only succeeded in reconquering the position but took Austrian trenches elsewhere on the front, according to the current Rome headquarters report. Vienna declares that Russian activity in Galicia has slackened, the Russians having attempted to attack against the main army of Gen. Pflanger during the past week.

British airmen have made a successful raid on the Turkish advanced base at Bir-el-Hassanah, 100 miles east of the Suez canal, according to reports from Suez, the aviators dropping forty bombs and doing extensive damage.

QUICK CAVALRY DRIVE PLANNED TO GET VILLA

Field Headquarters American Expeditionary Force, Colonia Dublan, Chihuahua, March 28.—(By wireless to Columbus, N. M.)—Preparations for closing in on Francisco Villa in a quick drive were being pushed forward rapidly today at the field headquarters of Brig.-Gen. Pershing, expeditionary commander.

Berlin, March 28.—The development of lively fighting on the Franco-Belgian front, south of St. Eloi and also along adjacent lines is reported by German army headquarters in today's official statement.

According to the announcement German flying squadron made a raid on Saloniki yesterday, dropping many bombs on the new harbor and petroleum depot and on the camp of the entente allies north of the town.

Only outpost skirmishes have occurred in Galicia in the last few days and the victories reported by the Rus-

El Paso, Texas., March 28.—The pursuit of Francisco Villa may be hampered, if not actually halted, unless Mexican railroads are made available as the main line of communication for the American army in Mexico.

Military men expressed that view today after studying dispatches from the front that Villa was still in flight southward and meeting with little, if any opposition.

Army Circles Pessimistic.

There is much pessimism in army circles over the prospect of capturing Villa and it is felt that unless he is cornered within the week the bandit will have outrun his pursuers and that many months may pass before he and his band can be ferreted out of their hiding places in the mountains. Dispatches from the advance flying columns, pressing Villa closely, make no mention of having come into contact with any of the bandit's men.

CANDIDATE FOR JUDGE OF APPELLATE COURT

Edwing Corr, a widely experienced lawyer and judge of Bloomington, Ind., and a trustee of Indiana university, has announced himself a candidate for nomination for judge of the appellate court of Indiana, subject to the democratic convention to be held in Indianapolis.

CHILD TUMBLES 14 FEET FROM PORCH

Glenn, the 3½-year-old son of W. M. Relff, 308 Douglas avenue, manager of the Meyer Brothers' drug store at Calhoun and Wayne streets, fell from a porch opposite his home last Saturday, a distance of fourteen feet, and was painfully hurt, although no bones were broken. Fortunately the child fell on his back and into some soft dirt, otherwise his injuries would have been more serious. The youngster was picked up unconscious. It is believed he was internally hurt.

OATS SOWING WILL BE VERY LATE THIS YEAR

No Ground Has Been Plowed This Spring by Farmers of Allen County.

Although March, 1916, has nearly passed into history, the farmers of Allen and surrounding counties have not as yet made one furrow in the oats ground this year. Last year nearly every one had the oats in the ground by the last day of March while this year it seems very probable that not even a bit of ground will be broken by that time.

Farmers report that the frost just left the ground Sunday which made it impossible to plow until that time and now the ground is entirely too wet. Indications point to the fact now that the country people will be fortunate if they have their oats in the ground by the latter part of April, a month later than in 1915.

The past few days of warm weather has awakened the chlorophyll cells in the blades of grass and wheat so that now they are beginning to take on a green aspect. Farmers report that the wheat stand now is very good and that it gives indication to a fair crop.

RIVERS WILL REACH 19 FOOT STAGE AGAIN

But With No More Rain There is No Apparent Danger.

With a stage of 19 feet predicted for Wednesday and the rivers still rising slowly, the flood conditions in Fort Wayne are not nearly as menacing as they were earlier in the year, when the height of 20.6 was reached. At seven o'clock Tuesday morning the official measure was 17.6 feet.

Although if there is no more rain the rivers should not rise above the 19 foot mark, but should there be four or five hours more Fort Wayne may expect a repetition of the January flood, or even a higher stage of water. Tuesday the water crossed those parts of Swinney park grove which were dry Monday, and rose to the floors of several of the houses on Baltes avenue. The water has been across the street on Baltes for several days. In Nebraska where the river crossed Bluff street several months ago everything still is high and dry and there will have to be a lift of at least two more feet before it gets into the roadway. In other lower sections the flood situation is not at all menacing.

It was three years ago Tuesday that the flood passed its height and began to drop, after driving thousands from their homes four days before. The memory of the big flood still lingers in many of the lower districts so vividly that even the little freshet of the past few days, coming on the anniversary of the disastrous high waters of 1913, has frightened many of the residents.

The interurban traffic out of Fort Wayne is only slightly affected, but in the vicinity of Peru and Wabash there have been several tie-ups due to submerged tracks.

CHARGES AGAINST FIVE ARE QUASHED

Youngstown, Ohio, March 28.—Judge W. S. Anderson today granted the motion to quash the indictments recently returned here against five steel companies, charging them with conspiring to fix the price of labor and steel products. The indictments against the United States steel corporation and E. H. Gary, head of the corporation, still stands, as the motion to quash did not include these two defendants, on whom service has not been secured. The steel companies attacked the indictments as being too indefinite and uncertain, depriving the defendants of their constitutional rights.

THREE DIE IN FIRE; OVER A SCORE HURT

Cleveland, Ohio, March 28.—Fire which swept through an apartment house in Prospect avenue, early today, causing the death of three persons and injury to more than a score of others was of incendiary origin according to police and detectives.

Police early today were holding three men and one woman at headquarters and had established police guard at the bedside of Bessie Reimer, at Huron Road hospital.

"The Reimer girl is as much under arrest as any of the other four," said Detective Farrell. "We are convinced that she knows who started last night's fire as well as the fire yesterday morning in her room."

Mixed in White Slave Mess.

Nearly all of the five were involved in a white slave investigation a few days ago following which one woman was sent to the work house. In that case the Reimer girl as the alleged victim.

The dead man was identified as J. B. Lewis, 42, who is said to have a wife and three children in New York City. He was employed as a solicitor on the Cleveland City directory. The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Simpkins, 50, saleswoman in a Euclid avenue store. Mrs. Ethel Seaman was the third victim.

Tells Story of Masked Man.

Police are searching for a masked man, who according to the story told by Miss Bessie Reimer entered her room on the third floor, bound and gagged her and set fire to the building.

Still Others May Die.

Most of those injured were hurt by jumping from the third floor windows. Of these, three, Mrs. Albert Melcoir, Dwight Emplage and an unidentified man are fatally injured. Fireman Ross and Lieut. Thomas Nestor were also injured so badly in attempting to rescue

B'G REALTY DEAL PLACED ON RECORD

Mulholland Realty Company Now Owner of Bus Barn Property.

A big realty deal involving a cash transaction of $105,000 was placed on record in the office of County Recorder Allen Hurah Tuesday when Samuel E. and Flora M. Mulholland, his wife, filed a deed of warranty to the Mulholland Realty company transferring to that concern the property on East Wayne street known as the "bus barn." This property was purchased some time ago by Mr. Mulholland and Messrs. Samuel T. and Charles Murdock as an investment. These three have organized the Mulholland Realty company and to get the title to the property in the hands of the company the transfer just made was recorded. The Mulholland Realty company will erect a three-story modern building on the ground occupied by the bus barn, at an early date. The gas company has leased the east room of the proposed building for its headquarters and offices in Fort Wayne. Contrary to the popular impression the gas company has nothing whatever to do with ownership of the property or the projected improvement of it. The deed of transfer just filed carried $105 worth of internal revenue stamps.

"Dress Up" Week Meets With Great Favor in Fort Wayne

Notwithstanding the gloomy weather and the heavy clouds that hung overhead, "Dress-Up" week was ushered in Monday in proper fashion. The band played and thousands thronged the streets and visited the stores. Another band concert was given this afternoon.

During the next few days every citizen will acquire the spirit of gladness in the dress proposition and garb themselves in the clothes that mean contentment.

That great content comes from correct raiment goes without saying and Fort Wayne is about to bring to closer notice the idea of dressing up to occasion. "Dress-Up" week is therefore inaugurated for the express purpose of engendering local pride in person and environment.

Dress up is merely another name for that instinct which is the possession of everyone, to follow where civilization leads and because civilization is just now beckoning toward the shops where apparel is to be found, it follows, as does the day the night, that "Dress-Up" week will be popular in Fort Wayne.

"Dress-Up" week is calculated to bring closer together merchant and purchaser, and this week there will be many temptations and bargains placed in the way of buyers in order that "Dress-Up" week may be fitly celebrated.

Throughout the United States this dress-up plan has been gaining favor and some cities have even gone so far as to have the dress-up idea filmed in order that moving picture patrons may have information.

Dress Up Your Eyes

Stylish, good-looking clothes will be of no avail if you wear ll-fitted, unsightly, awkward looking glasses.

¶ Be consistent—do it thoroughly or not at all.

¶ Kryptok and Luxtor lenses, "Shelltex" frames and mountings will "dress up your eyes" and contribute to your comfort as well.

SICK MAN IN BURNING HOME.

Alexandria, Ind., March 28.—Curtis Aldridge returned a few days ago from a hospital, where he was operated on for appendicitis. Sparks from a chimney set fire to the roof of his house yesterday and the entire top part of the house was afire before the flames were discovered by neighbors. Fearing that Aldridge would suffer a relapse if taken from the house, friends covered his bed with canvas to shield the sick man from water that poured through the ceiling from the firemen's hose. The loss was about $200.

TRY TO RECONCILE WIFE OF ARTIST WHO SUES FOR $100,000.

New York, March 28.—Effort is being made, it is understood here, to bring about reconciliation between Mrs. Malcolm Strauss, who, before marriage, was one of the prettiest of the Winter Garden girls, and her husband, an artist of national reputation.

Mrs. Strauss has sued for separation and has sued Mrs. Arthur Seligman, society woman and wife of a New York millionaire, for $100,000, charging alienation.

Before marriage, Mrs. Seligman was Gladys Snellenberg, of Philadelphia, and engaged Strauss to paint her portrait. Mrs. Strauss objected, it is said, but Strauss accepted the commission. The suit by Mrs. Strauss followed. Mrs. Seligman denies the charges made by Mrs. Strauss.

"WING" FRAZER'S BAD DREAM PASSES AWAY

"Wing" (Charles) Frazer, a one-armed negro police character, had difficulty restraining himself from executing the Mobile buck right out on the court room floor when Special Judge Louis Plost pronounced judgment upon him in the city tribunal, Tuesday morning, for keeping a house of ill-fame and let him off with a fine of $10 and costs and a suspended jail sentence of ten days. "Wing" has been in trouble before concerning the character of his rooming-house at 335 Holman street, and he was afraid to appear before City Judge H. Waveland Kerr. So he took a change of venue from that official and Attorney Plost was appointed to sit. Ever since his arrest Monday morning he had been having a horrid nightmare in which visions of the state penal farm were the conspicuous features of the movie conjured by his fears. The mildness of the judgment gave undisguised delight. Laura Frazer, "Wing's" wife, also charged with keeping a house, was fined $10 and costs and given ten days suspended sentence, while Ellen Jones, a negress, drew $5 and costs for prostitution and Charles Johnson, her white companion got a similar amount for associating. The Jones woman and Johnson were arrested in a police raid by Officers George Eisenhut and William Erdman, Saturday afternoon. Other inmates of the place escaped through a side window.

Threatens to Get Even With City.

"I'll get even with this old town as soon as I get out of jail. I'll load it up with expense for burying this old carcass of mine. What's the use? I'm tired of it. I'll shuffle off as soon as I get a chance." And with these cheerful words William Derby went from the city court room to his police cell, Tuesday morning, after he had been fined $10 and costs for peddling without a license. Derby, minus his left arm and shy his left optic, was arrested on Broadway by Officer Westerman. He had been hawking cheap watches, brass rings and plain window glass spectacles. His plea was that he was attempting to get enough money with which to leave town.

Other City Court Cases.

Elmer Urbine, a young man of good family and previously excellent reputation, pleaded guilty to a charge of petit larceny for taking a large quantity of brass from the Fort Wayne Electric works. He was arrested by Detective Sergeant W. F. Pappert, who was detailed to unravel the mystery of thefts at the Electric works. Several former employers and associates of the young man testified to his good character and on his promise to keep out of trouble his case was continued for thirty days by Judge Kerr and he was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

Tom Hayes, charged with disorderly conduct, was continued for thirty days under $100 bond that he might have time to reflect that death ends all mundane matters. Hayes was arrested at 1416 Broadway, where he had tried to hang himself with a rope improvised from the lining of his coat. He created trouble in the Broadway house, where he formerly lodged and from which he was fired some days ago.

MAN PEEPER IN LADY TOGGERY.

That a person in female apparel caught peeping in the windows of the parochial residence of St. Mary's Catholic church on East Jefferson street, Monday night about 9:30, was a man is averred by Oscar Alter, 1306 Summit street, and Harry Albert, 1236 Summit street, two young men who saw the prowler, frightened him away and gave him a long chase over a devious route into the eastern part of the city. The man ran with great speed and at length outdistanced his pursuers. Both boys were positive in their statements to Police Captain Richard Kelly that the person was a male. The police made an investigation but obtained no clue.

INSURANCE AGENT FINED.

Man Arrested in Virginia Said to Be Fugitive From Evansville.

Richmond, Va., March 28.—Edward H. Blissard, fifty-two years old, an insurance agent, arrested on a charge of having solicited business without a license, when arraigned in court was fined $25. In addition, he was held in $500 bond as a fugitive from Indiana.

Police say that a South Bend insurance company has been searching for Blissard for nearly a year for alleged questionable methods he pursued while acting as its agent last spring in Evansville.

A letter which Insurance Commissioner Button received March 16 from a Texas company, said that company also was eager to get in touch with Blissard, the police say.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

MADE WOMAN TAKE POWDER.

Warsaw, March 28.—Sheriff Jacob Huffer is directing a search of Kosciusko county for a man who is accused of having robbed Mrs. Harry Stout at her home near here Monday and then forced her to swallow a poisonous powder. Mrs. Stout, who is in a serious condition, declared that the robber was angered because of the smallness of the amount of money he was able to obtain and compelled her to take a greenish powder.

Mrs. Stout stated that the man appeared at her home shortly after 10 o'clock and demanded money. At first she told him there was none in the house. However he insisted that there was money and Mrs. Stout gave him a nickle, all that she had. This apparently angered him and he threatened to force a green powder, resembling paris green, down her if he was not given more money. When the woman still insisted that it was all she had he grabbed her and forced the powder down. After threatening her if she called the neighbors he left going south toward the Pennsylvania railroad. As soon as he had gone Mrs. Stout hurried to the home of Fred Holbrook, about a quarter of a mile away, where she gave the alarm. Officers Moon and Huffer were then summoned by Mrs. Holbrook.

DR. ASPINWALL IS DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., March 28.—Dr. Joseph D. Aspinwall, aged 56, died quite suddenly at the home of his mother, Mrs. Catherine Epperson, this city. Coroner held an inquest and pronounced death due to indigestion. Mr. Aspinwall had been ailing for some time, but his illness was not regarded as critical. For years the doctor's mind had been a blank as the result of an accident. Nineteen years ago he was found unconscious in Central Park, at New York city. He had gone to the park for an early morning ride on a bicycle and met with an accident, the nature of which was never learned. It was the belief of relatives that he had been slugged, though the injured man stated that he had been kicked in the head by horses.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE.

Columbia City, Ind., March 28.—The trial of Kirby Cathers, accused of having held up and robbed Harry Pence, the Goblesville storekeeper, on the night of September 21, 1915, took place at Huntington the latter part of last week, and the case went to the jury late Saturday evening. The jury reported that they were unable to agree and were hopelessly divided 6 to 6 and were dismissed by Judge Cook Monday. Pence and his clerk had closed the store and had started to their homes. Mr. Pence was carrying a little child and the clerk was carrying the sack containing the money, about $115. Just as they neared the church a man stepped out from its shadow and commanded the two men to hold up their hands and deliver over the bag of money.

MOVING STORE TO FORT WAYNE.

Auburn, Ind., March 28.—W. R. Holden, who purchased the Jones dry goods store a year ago, is moving the stock to Fort Wayne this week and on next Saturday will open a department store in that city. The remaining stocks of goods in this city are being packed and Mr. Holden expects to have all of them out of the building by Tuesday night or Wednesday. Just who would occupy the building following Mr. Holden's removal has been a matter of much comment. It is practically certain, however, that a new five and ten cent store will occupy the room.

HUNTINGTON TO HAVE REVIVAL

Huntington, Ind., March 28.—With the opening of the Honeywell evangelistic campaign but a week off, the committees that were appointed some time ago to do the preliminary work are very busy. The coliseum will be placed in condition for the services late next week. For several weeks union and cottage prayer meetings have been held. The Honeywell party will be on hand April 2 for the first meeting. The party has been holding successful revivals in the United States for several years.

COLD WATER CHANGED HER MIND

Huntington, Ind., March 28.—Rebellion against the restraint imposed on her by her parents led Bertha Beifsnider, thirteen years of age, to attempt suicide by drowning in Little river near the Briant street bridge. Police, who were apprised of her intention, found rescue unnecessary as the cold water had banished her desire to die and she waded from the river. Investigation revealed a number of other causes contributing to the girl's dissatisfaction. Police think the attempt was made while she was wrought to high pitch and that no further efforts will be made by her. Disappointment over school work was one of the causes learned by the police.

FROM THE MEXICAN BORDER

Hartford City, Ind., March 28.—Mrs. C. H. Copeland, who has just arrived in this city, tells an interesting story of conditions along the Mexican border. Her home is in Mission county, Texas, three miles from the border, and she has seen many interesting things in connection with the recent trouble there. Mrs. Copeland states that on one occasion a Mexican bandit stopped at their home and demanded that they come out. Fearing injury if they did so, the members of the family refused and this saved their lives.

VICIOUS HORSE BITES CHILD.

Van Wert, Ohio, March 28.—Edith, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Miller, who now reside on the E. E. Miller farm, four miles west of the city, but formerly lived on Hughes street, was terribly injured and maimed for life when bitten on the face by a horse. The brute nabbed the little girl low on the cheek and tore the flesh downward, causing a wound which was extremely painful and necessitated a number of stitches to close. She was gathering eggs in the barn on the farm and as she reached into a manger the horse bit her.

WHITE PLAGUE CLAIMS WOMAN.

Bluffton, Ind., March 28.—Mrs. William Speece, 50, passed away Sunday evening, at her home near Keystone, Chester township, after sufferings of about two years from tuberculosis. She had been a resident of that township all her life. Surviving are the husband and seven children, namely, William Speece, jr., Charles, Lawrence, Oscar and Clayton Speece, Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. R. D. Bodwell and Miss Nellie Speece, all residing in the south part of the county. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Prairie Creek church and interment will be at Asbury chapel cemetery.

KENDALLVILLE PIONEER DEAD.

Kendallville, Ind., March 28.—Levi B. Smith, age 81, a resident of this community for forty-seven years, died at his home in Wayne township. Death followed a lingering illness resulting from heart trouble. Levi Smith was born in Summit county, Ohio, May 12, 1835, and came to Noble county in 1869. He was a prosperous and ambitious farmer and for his remarkable age, was very active to the last. Surviving besides a widow are five sons: Del, Harry, James, Quince and Lloyd, and four daughters, Mrs. Mary Cogan, Mrs. Frances Boughey, Mrs. Lucretia Lower, of South Milford, and Viola, at home.

SAYS HE WAS HURT IN FT. WAYNE

Decatur, Ind., March 28.—The case of William Palli against H. D. Osterman is on trial here in the circuit court, before Judge Smith and a jury. The cause of action is for damages charged to have resulted to the plaintiff when he was knocked from a bicycle in the city of Fort Wayne last August when he came into collision with the defendant's automobile. Mr. Osterman is a resident of Monroe.

MAY SECURE LOW CENTENNIAL RATES

The centennial committee has decided to communicate at once with the railway authorities whose business it is to decide upon the matter of special railroad rates for occasions of the magnitude of the coming June celebration.

As the result of a meeting of representatives of all the steam and electric lines entering Fort Wayne, held late yesterday afternoon at the Commercial club, the railroad men will begin at once to take active steps to handle the crowds, and, upon their recommendation, the committee will now endeavor to show the authorities in the railway world what an immense affair is being planned. With a vast number of ordinary occasions clamoring for attention, it is difficult to realize the bigness of Fort Wayne's coming event, but the railway representatives are convinced that the authorities will be more than willing to provide reduced rates and special train service as soon as they understand the situation.

Present at the meeting were S. K. Blair, chairman of the transportation committee; John E. Ross, ticket agent of the Pennsylvania and G. R. & I., W. H. Shorey, district passenger agent of the Wabash; A. R. Phillips, ticket agent of the New York Central and the Lake Erie and Western; F. A. Burkhardt, district passenger agent of the Ohio Electric lines; J. A. Greenland, general passenger agent of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction lines, and G. M. Patterson, traffic manager of the Fort Wayne and Northwestern Electric lines.

Contest Closes Tonight.

All contestants for the prize of $50 for the best idea for a poster for the advertising of the centennial must have their suggestions in the hands of the committee at the Commercial club by 9 o'clock this evening.

Important Meeting Tonight.

The Centennial cabinet will hold an important meeting at the headquarters in the Commercial club tonight to take final action on several matters of importance. It is hoped to be able to settle definitely the plan of seating the amphitheater at Reservoir park, so the printing of tickets and the sale of seats for the pageant may go forward without delay.

Some Hoped-For Events.

All societies and others who are planning features suitable for the Centennial program are urged to report them to General Chairman E. C. Miller without delay. The association hopes that the Daughters of the American Revolution may find it convenient to arrange the dedication of the new marker for Harmar's Ford to take place during the Centennial week instead of postponing the ceremony until the regular Flag day, which comes a week or two later. The "Daughters" have accumulated a respectable sum of money to be used in this connection, and are now making their plans to secure a suitable lasting reminder of the slaughter of the regular troops under Major Wyllys in October, 1790, at the Maumee ford. The spot chosen for the site of the marker is on the south side of Edgewater avenue at the foot of Dearborn street. Another event scheduled for the spring or summer is the dedication of the monument to "Johnnie Appleseed" (John Chapman), to be placed in Swinney park. The association hopes the persons in charge of the event may be able to schedule it to come within the period of Centennial week.

Fifty Bands Coming.

It is probable that half a hundred of the best bands in the middle west will be in Fort Wayne during the week of the Centennial. Arrangements for a grand contest among the bands of the entire region surrounding Fort Wayne are being made. Complete announcements soon will be made through the medium of the committee on arrangements.

Centennial Notes.

Wallace Rice, author of the book of the pageant, writes that this work will be finished by the 1st of April. He and Pageant Master Robertson will employ about four days in working out details before the work will be ready for the rehearsals.

Five thousand application cards are now being distributed to the various factories and other centers of activity. The high school will be supplied this week. All who need them for use in wholesale houses and elsewhere may secure them free at the office of B. J. Griswold, 603-10 People's Trust building. These cards are designed to enable everyone who is interested to apply for places in the pageant cast. They are addressed to the pageant committee and need only a stamp to carry them to headquarters.

Already, two big events are announced for the opening day of the Centennial—known as Fraternal day—the dedication of the Moose home and the annual ceremonial of the Shriners.

A class of nine was initiated into the third degree Monday evening by Sol D. Bayless lodge No. 359, F. and A. M. Among the visitors from out of the city were: R. A. Scheqel, Dayton, O.; John Beck, Weston, O.; J. R. Donnelly, Fairfield, Me.; Charles D. May, Logansport, and F. C. Morrill, Lagrange.

Ignatz Luftschitz, of Dalow, Austria, has seven sons, two sons-in-law and a grandson at the front. Two of his sons have been killed in battle.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING

5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

8 The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?

10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.

12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

14 And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wildgrness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up:

15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

17 For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

18 He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not s condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

The North Indiana Methodists

Fort Wayne accounts herself signally honored and is profoundly gratified at the presence of the North Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church now in this city for its annual session. The entire city would most cordially second the assurance of welcome vouchsafed the big gathering by the five Methodist Episcopal churches of the city when at Auburn one year ago they extended the invitation to come to Fort Wayne at this time. The city has thrown open to the visiting delegates its homes and its hearts alike, and it voices the wish that their stay in the city may be both profitable and pleasant.

The North Indiana conference is a tremendously big organization having direct jurisdiction over the churches of that denomination in an area that comprises approximately one-third the state of Indiana. Just how important and how extensive is this jurisdiction may perhaps be best appreciated when it is realized that no city, no town, no village and almost no rural community in all this vast region is without its Methodist Episcopal church. Some of them are big and wealthy and powerful. Many of them are small and struggling, but are held together and kept in active usefulness by the fine devotion of the pastors and the people who comprise these congregations. They contribute vastly to the great total of religious ministration to the people of Northeastern Indiana. It would be quite as impossible to accurately measure the good annually accomplished by the churches of the North Indiana conference as to similarly appraise the achievements of any other great religious denomination, for this good is incalculable. Happily, however, recent years have given promise that society is more and more recognizing everywhere its tremendous obligation to the church for its unvarying stand for law, for order, for decency and for good citizenship which are among the first fruits of religious faith in America.

Fort Wayne is particularly interested in the North Indiana conference, too, from the fact that it was in this city seventy-three years ago the conference was brought into existence by the little gathering of Methodists headed by Bishop Waugh. From that day to the present its influence has been ever-widening and ever-deepening. It has spread into every city, town, village and hamlet and into the North Indiana countryside. It deservedly ranks very high in accomplishment and in its unfailing devotion. In Fort Wayne this week are gathered some hundreds of Methodist preachers and Methodist laymen to transact the business of the church and to plan for its future. They will enjoy a reunion and they will have much of religious teaching and religious inspiration and religious good-fellowship during their stay in this city. Some of the most eminent men in American Methodism will grace the occasion by their presence and contribute to the good things in store for the conference. The Sentinel is most happy to voice Fort Wayne's cordial welcome to so magnificent a gathering as this conference is certain to be.

The introduction into the house by Representative Rainey of the bill to provide a national tariff commission of permanent and non-partisan character—designed, in fact, to take the job of tariff-making out of politics—marks a most important step in the handling of this always troublesome question. The Rainey bill, it is explained, represents the administration's views in the matter and has the full support of the president and his advisors. Doubtless there will be those who will contend that the program is incomplete and that it will not entirely meet the needs of the occasion. Whatever its deficiencies, it is a step in the right direction. That something of the sort is needed is plainly the conviction of a very large majority of the people. We shall hope to see some definite and favorable action come of it.

Friends of E. V. Harris, of this city, who is an aspirant for the republican nomination for attorney general, are organizing to present his claims in forceful fashion before the coming republican state convention. It is very pleasing to Fort Wayne, also, to learn that Mr. Harris' chances for that honor are exceptionally good, and that the outlook is that he will be the choice of Indiana republicans to make the race.

Figures just given out by the American Telephone and Telegraph company show that it increased its earnings very handsomely during the year 1915. Come to think of it, however, it is difficult to recall a time when it didn't increase 'em. Perhaps the present announcement isn't as startling as it at first appears.

In one section of Noble county the roads are reported in such bad condition that it is impossible for pupils to reach their schools. That alone should render the desirability of goods roads an undebatable subject. Noble county needs to get busy.

MEXICANS ENTERING U. S. ARE SEARCHED —SOME CARRY GUNS IN THEIR HATS.

Mexicans crossing the international bridge from Juarez, Mexico, into El Paso, Texas, are searched by United States customw inspectors. The picture shows a Mexican undergoing inspection. In some cases Mexicans have been found with revolvers concealed in their hats and in this case the inspector is making sure there are no "guns" under this fellow's top-piece.

There could scarcely be a better time for the distribution of the 1915 report of the state board of forestry. The recent meeting for the promotion of a state park system also concerned the forests of Indiana. For what park is truly such without trees? Owing to the extraordinary interest aroused last year by the special forestry building at the state fair this year's report—the fifteenth—has gained much in interest.

There is now in the state only one forest reservation. This is 2,000 acres in extent, and is located in Clark county where some of the area is unfit for cultivation of any sort. It dates back only to 1903. Since then some progress has been made, of course, but not so much as is desirable. Now there are indications of improvement. The 1915 report, compiled by Secretary Gladden contains an account of the ceremonies at the dedication of the forestry building, when addresses were delivered by a number of persons, all intimately concerned with the conservation of the old forests and the propagation of new Governor Ralston and former Vice President Fairbanks, the latter having long been identified with the movement, were in attendance. One of the papers, by E. A. Sterling, manager of the trade extension department of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, is a study of lumber from origin to utilization. The lumber manufacturers within the last few years have entered on an extensive advertising campaign for a wiser use of wood. This includes conservation and reforestation, as Mr. Sterling showed.

Should a system of parks be established it would be of great benefit were foresters to work with the park committee in the treatment of the whole scheme. Thus old and new growth could be fostered at the same time. Indiana has awakened at a late hour to its need of forest conservation. As Mr. Sterling said, it was formerly an important hardwood producing state. In 1899 it was thirteenth in the list, and in 1913 it was twenty-seventh, which indicates how rapid the exhaustion has been. The present problems are the utilization of non-agricultural lands for forest production and the proper management and maintenance of woodlands.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE, SAFE, RELIABLE WAY.

People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.

Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, and helps digestion. Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, footsteps become lighter, your work seem easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

HAIR COMING OUT?

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. MAPPING OUT PLANS FOR SCHOOL GARDENS

U. S. Experts Show Methods of Using Small Spaces for Individual Plots.

Washington, D. C., March 28.—Specialists in the U. S. department of agriculture have planned two specimen individual gardens 5 by 16½ feet for use in schools. One of these is for vegetables alone and other for both vegetables and flowers. The average pupil, it has been found, shows a much keener interest in a garden of his own than in one owned in common by all the school. Individual gardens stimulate pride in ownership and the work of caring for them encourages system, skill, and judgment. Participation in the care of a community garden does not develop the idea of individual responsibility and consequently interest and industry are usually lacking.

The limited area usually available for school garden work makes it imperative that tall-growing, broad-leaved, and climbing plants must be excluded. Radishes, lettuce, beans, beets, tomatoes and other plants which grow in a compact bush form are recommended for school garden work.

In the first plan recommended by the government specialists, the rows run the short way of the garden, and with the exception of tomatoes, are all a foot apart. Tomatoes are planted 18 to 20 inches apart, thus giving more room for the plants to spread than would otherwise be secured. In order to make the fullest use of the area a rotation of crops has been arranged. In the accompanying diagram it will be noted that the quick maturing crops are planted in groups, which provides a considerable area for replanting as soon as the crops mature. A bracket encloses the names of such crops, and those which are to follow them are indicated by the names outside the bracket.

The second garden is of the same area as the vegetable garden. The rows are one foot apart, with the exception of the radishes, which are 6 inches. The plants are grouped according to height of growth so as to place the tall-growing plants in the center of the garden, with low-growing plants at the ends. In this case it will be noted that tomatoes are used only as a succession or rotation crop following radishes and lettuce.

The children should be allowed to do all the work of preparing the land as well as planting the seed and caring for the plants. This can be accompanied by instruction in soil physics, the teacher explaining the reasons for each step. The methods of planting and cultivating the vegetables in the garden are described in Farmers' Bulletin 218 in part as follows:

Radishes—The seeds should be sown in drills, in rich, well-prepared soil, placed about half an inch apart and buried not deeper than 1 inch nor less than one-half inch. When the plants are showing the second set of true leaves they should be thinned to stand for 1 to 2 inches apart in the row.

Lettuce—The seeds should be sown in drills in the open or in boxes in the window. If in the open, the seeds should be scattered about one-inch apart along the row, and covered not more than one-half inch with earth. Firm the earth well over the seeds, so as to bring the moist soil in contact with them. When the plants are well up, thin to 6 inches apart in the row. If the seeds were sown in a window box, hotbed, frame or greenhouse, transplant the young plants to stand 2 by 2 inches apart as soon as the seed leaves are well expanded, and when they begin to crowd transfer them to their permanent places in the open, if the weather will permit. In the field, they should stand at least 6 inches apart each way.

Beans—It is best to wait and plant the seeds of this plant in the open where the plants are to grow, delaying the work until severe frosts are past. Plant in rows 1 foot apart, placing the seeds about 2 inches deep at intervals of 6 inches. Keep the soil loose and free from weeds.

Beets—Beets while they are hardy and can be planted at the same time as radishes and lettuce, are placed as indicated in the planting plan because they require a longer season for maturing than lettuce, radishes and beans. The seeds should be planted in rows 1 foot apart, placed an inch apart in the row and covered 1 inch deep. When the plants are well up (2 inches high), thin to 4 inches apart in the row. Keep the soil well tilled at all times.

Tomatoes—The tomato is the most exacting of all the plants included in the collection. From Washington southward the seeds may be planted in the open at the same time as beans, but to the north of this point the seeds should be sown in boxes, hotbeds, or greenhouses from the first to the middle of March, the young plants being transplanted to stand 2 by 2 inches apart as soon as the first true leaves appear. When they begin to crowd in their new positions, shift them to 4-inch pots or to tin cans in which canned vegetables have been received. If tin cans are used, a convenient method is to melt the top and bottom off, which will usually also unsolder the seam at the side. By tying a string around the rim thus formed and placing a shingle under the can it can be filled with soil and the young plant placed in this receptacle. Keep the plants growing slowly until about May 20 to June 1, when it will be safe to place them in their permanent locations in the garden. Set the plants in rows 18 inches apart and place the plants about 20 inches apart in the rows, as indicated by crosses on the diagram, figure 1. Each plant as it grows should have all side branches removed and the main stem tied to a stout stake, about 5 feet tall and at least an inch square, driven firmly in the ground.

Flowering plants which are especially recommended to amateur school gardeners are the ageratum, nasturtium, petunia, the California poppy, and the zinnia. Cultural instructions for these plants may also be obtained from Farmers Bulletin 218, which will be sent on request. e

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SPECIAL JUDGE TO HEAR CASE.

"Drys" of Vigo County Township Appeal Board's Decision.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 28.—Judge Pulliam, in the circuit court, named three circuit court judges of contiguous circuits from whom to select a special judge to try the Otter Creek remonstrance case, which has been appealed from the commissioners' court by the "dry" forces, following a contest filed by Edward Gosnell, a saloon keeper. On the face of the returns the "drys" carried the township in the recent special election by five votes, it having gone "wet" two years before by the same majority. On the recount the commissioners declared that the "wets" had won by one vote, and the "drys" appealed. The judges named are: W. H. Bridwell, of Sullivan; George D. Smikel, of Rockville, and B. S. Aikman, of Newport. The opposing counsel have three days within which to scratch out the names of two of these, the one remaining to be named as special judge.

In Jamaica there are trees called the "whip trees," and from these the natives made strong whips with the lash and handle all in one.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 28.—A score of fashionably gowned women, many of them elderly matrons, gathered to hear B. F. Anger, a graduate mechanical engineer and experienced automobile designer discuss springs, tires, motors and spark plugs in the first of a series of lectures on "How to Run Your Motor Car." This course is offered by the University Extension for the woman who drives her own car, but who has only a remote idea of the workings of the machine. There will be ten lectures, and everything that a woman ought to know about her car will be explained.

The class for women was inaugurated by the university in response to repeated requests from women who asked for simple nontechnical and, above all, nongreasy instruction. They complained that husbands and brothers were often too impatient to explain, that garage men were either technical or indifferent, and that other instruction offered them really was intended for professional drivers.

The course for women is the only one of its kind in the middle west and closely resembles that started at the university recently. Engines, fuels, electrical devices, transmission and other mysterious details of the American automobile will be carefully explained, by means of simple blackboard drawings, engine parts that have been cleaned so that a woman can handle them, stereopticon slides and possibly moving pictures. A text book is furnished.

The members of the Saturday club and their guests were entertained on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William H. Crighton, in Hoagland avenue at a musicale. The club is devoting its time to the study of Indiana this year so Mrs. Crighton arranged to have a few of the composers of the state represented on the program. Leading in interest were some piano numbers by a young cousin of Mrs. Crighton, Houghton Taylor, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Taylor. These compositions were played by Miss Minnie Houghton, an aunt of Houghton Taylor, who is also quite musical. The numbers were very pleasing and promising. Young Mr. Taylor comes naturally enough by musical taste, for his father had been a prominent bass singer in the city for many years and his uncle, Judge R. S. Taylor, has written many compositions of note for concerted voice work. Alfred Holzworth, a former Fort Wayne young man, whose song, "My Shadow," has been reviewed in this department of The Sentinel before, was represented by two songs sung by Mrs. George Bailhe, with Mrs. D. F. Urbahns at the piano. Other composers represented were Mrs. Luhr Jones Downing, with a reading by Mrs. Frank Bohn and Mrs. Emil Koeppel at the piano; Otto Miessner, whose songs were sung by Mrs. H. J. Bowerfind, with Miss Ruth Caldwell at the piano, and a trio sung by Mesdames Bruce Elliott, H. J. Bowerfind and H. G. Keegan, written by an Indiana composer named G. Marshall Loepke. The entire program gave much pleasure to all who heard it. Mrs. C. J. Schoo and Mrs. F. B. Shoaff received with Mrs. Crighton and assisted in serving tea after the program.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"Daddy Long-Legs" Coming Friday and Saturday.

"Daddy Long-Legs," the one big dramatic success of this and last season, will be presented here for the first time next Friday and Saturday at the Majestic theater by Henry Miller's special company. The play, which was written by Jean Webster, a niece of the late Mark Twain, is a dramatization of the famous "Daddy Long-Legs" letter which were published as a serial story by one of the big magazines three years ago, and which subsequently came out in book form and proved a fabulously successful "best seller." The comedy sets forth a fascinating love story in which tender sentiment is delightfully blended with bubbling, whimsical humor. Its central characters are a very quaint little Cinderella and a decidedly up-to-date Prince Charming, and the love story in which they figure becomes a veritable idyl of buoyant youth. The engagement is for two nights and a Saturday matinee.

"Seek-no-further" is the name of a popular apple. The name suggests such perfection that it is useless to look further for a better one. So when you have found the Foster Furniture Co. you may well repeat, "Seek-no-further."

A wardrobe mistress is excess baggage with the musical comedy company presenting "A Cabaret Girl" at the New Palace the first portion of the week, as the various members of the company are as jealous of the dainty gowns and frocks they use in the course of the dainty little lyrical fantasy as some cranks are of their toothbrushes. A good-natured rivalry has sprung up among the members of the company as to which one shall present the most spic and span appearance and each week one of the girls is presented with a little lemus as the prize winner for the week. The result is evident even to the most obtuse male person, as the company is the best costumed organization one will see in many a day. The gowns are from exclusive plates and Fort Wayne's smart girl dressers may secure some happy ideas from these creations, but the best lesson would be that it is possible to keep filmy gowns looking as crisp and fresh as though just taken from a bandbox, although the owner practically lives in her trunk.

Rouble Sims, the cartoonist's cartoon, is the special added attraction on this bill in his novelty number in which he presents a half score of caricatures, landscapes, etc., fashioned with bewildering rapidity while Sims chatters and chuckles and sings. This bill closes Wednesday evening.

AT THE TEMPLE.

STYLE SHOW PLEASES.

Merchants Display Latest Creations at Temple.

Just as sure as the robins come every spring the minds of everybody at this time turns to new clothes, spring wearing apparel being the thought uppermost in the minds of all right now. It is in this connection that the Temple theater is staging a fashion and style show throughout this week and with all of the leading merchants displaying the latest fashions in dresses and suits Temple patrons are given an excellent opportunity to make their spring selections.

The opening of the style show occurred last night and a large crowd at the Temple theater voted the novel feature one of the most attractive affairs ever given on a local stage. Pretty girls and handsome young men paraded in front of the audience wearing gorgeous gowns and attractive suits as well as the very latest in the hat lines. This feature continues throughout the week and will follow each performance at the popular playhouse.

"The Alien" is being played by the Temple company during the first half of the week and the comedy drama has scored a decided hit and is assured of a most successful run. Mr. Jenkins is playing the part of the alien and his efforts are greeted with applause repeatedly.

Hartford City, Ind., March 28.—Rev. Alonzo Hemminger, who was born and reared in this city, has returned to the United States on a year's furlough, after an absence of twenty years, twelve of which were spent as a missionary. He is accompanied by his wife and baby. The latter was born on the west coast of Africa. The family was forced to make a 250-mile detour to reach the coast on account of war conditions. They left the colony of Kamerun on September 21, arriving at the coast after three weeks' travel through the African forests and jungles. After swearing secrecy to the German officials, they in charge, with reference to war news, permission was given them to leave the port of Efenten on a small Spanish steamer. They were four months on the way to this country, the trip being made on three ships. Twice during the voyage they were stopped by war vessels. Hemminger is true to his promise concerning secrecy in connection with the war activities in the part from which he came. He said he could sit in his doorway and hear the cannon.

The party which was to have been given by the Pythian Sisters Wednesday has been postponed until Thursday. All Pythian Sisters are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. A. T. Lipes, 902 West DeWald street, at 2 o'clock.

MISS EBBA JOHANSON

When her ship stopped at Valparaiso, Miss Johanson took time to attend a concert one evening. She looked at the pianist and then again. He was none other than Gustav Godeslund, friend of her school days in Stockholm. A happy reunion followed and Miss Johanson induced him to come to the United States with her as accompanist on her tour.

SUMMER'S ON THE WAY—SUMMER STYLES HERE.

By Betty Brown

Womankind—especially very young womankind, is turning attention from silks and serges and materials that suggest winter to the airy, gay colored fabrics of spring and early summer.

Voiles and organdies, lawns of cobweb lightness are already displayed in the shops and though there are long dreary days between March and May, dressmakers are busy designing the party frocks and afternoon frocks that will be worn in balmy spring.

Just to aid the foresighted ones who are planning their summer wardrobes I asked the Fashion Art League of America to show me one of the advanced styles for summer frocks. Here it is, with wide, short skirt, draped girdle, angel sleeves—and pouch pockets. Pockets refuse to retire, here they are on a 1916 advanced model, as important looking as when first we saw them a year ago! This design is adaptable to any of the sheer fabrics and it is charming in taffeta.

Rheumatism

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply fill out the coupon below and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

PANCHO VILLA
GENL. SCOTT
GENL. JOFFRE
GENL. VON HINDENBURG

BY JESSIE ALLEN FOWLER,
Famous New York Phrenologist.

New York, March 28.—Francisco Villa, the Mexican bandit, cannot, according to laws of phrenology, be considered a true military leader. He has strong evidence of being a criminal bandit.

As a military leader he cannot be compared with Major General Hugh L. Scott or Major General Leonard Wood. Neither can he be compared with General Joffre or General Petain, of the French army; Hindenburg or the crown prince, of the Germany army, or General French or General Kitchner, of the English army.

In examining a character of this kind one must take into account the bringing up, environment and education of the subject, to get the right viewpoint.

What would be applicable to a general of the type of Joffre, Hindenberg and Kitchener would not apply to a man of Villa's type, who is uncultured, uncouth, and without mental poise. One might almost say he is irresponsible for his actions, psychologically speaking.

Villa has an active temperament, which is seen in his strong framework, powerful muscular system and capacious chest. With this temperament he gets his restless, active, warlike, enterprising mind.

His chief characteristics are easily seen from his head and face. He is a man through force of circumstances and superior activity, has been placed at the head of bandits and ruffians like himself.

He has only little restraint. Lack of caution makes him daring. He knows nothing about personal fear.

He has just enough secretiveness to make him cunning in the arrangement of his plans, but he has not the sagacity or reserve of an ordinary man.

His lack of culture and refinement spring from his strong animal nature. He is careless about human life and the treatment he is inclined to give other people.

He has a mirthful element which makes him sarcastic and vulgar and inclined to laugh and joke with his men, who probably think him a jolly good fellow.

The photographs of Villa indicate, through his long and square jaw, that he has powerful resisting power, and ability to go through trying circumstances, lack of sleep, rest or food.

He has the energy born of ambition and the desire to conquer, but not to yield.

His broad jaw and strong upper jaw and cheekbones indicate driving power.

His ear, pointed at the top, indicates a strong degree of will power and stubbornness. It also shows lack of moral responsibility which the round full ear indicates, as we see in pictures of Washington, Lincoln and others.

His forehead shows he has capacity to plan, to analyze a situation and size up an individual. He has a pretty good idea, I believe, of President Wilson and members of his cabinet.

He is not a law abiding man, as most people recognize law, and should be treated as an irresponsible being.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS INVESTED IN BOOKS

New York, March 28.—The appraisal of the art and literary treasures of the J. P. Morgan collections will probably be made public by the state comptroller within the next month. Valuation of the contents of the Morgan library in East Thirty-sixth street has been virtually completed by the American Art association, to which the comptroller intrusted the work.

A well known dealer said that the Morgan collection of books and manuscripts would probably be appraised at between 3 million and 4 million dollars. Mr. Morgan has already announced that only the duplicates in this collection will be sold. It is estimated that they will bring between $100,000 and $200,000.

Arthur Swann, one of the men who has been appraising the library for the American Art association, was quoted as saying:

"There are twenty thousand volumes, and every one is a masterpiece of proved authenticity. The whole history of printing and writing is contained in the collection, which includes some of the rough books struck off by the first printers on wooden type. Mr. Morgan, sr., never bought anything cheap or doubtful. Everything in the collection is genuine."

Mrs. P. Rehkamp, 2404 Herman St., Covington, Ky., writes: "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for nearly two years and can find no better cough syrup. I have eight children and give it to all of them. They all were subject to croup from babies on." It is a safe and reliable medicine for men and women as well as children. Don't let the cough that follows grippe hang on and weaken you. It is easier to get rid of a cough or cold than of its consequences. Dreier Drug Co.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water, scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

A committee of local horseshoe pitchers has gone into the matter of rules and regulations for The Sentinel horseshoe pitching tourney pretty carefully and has decided on the list of regulations published elsewhere on this page. These rules are practically the same rules that governed the city tourney at Columbus, O., last year, and which was very successful.

The entries for the tourney will close soon, and the big event will be held in about three weeks or perhaps even less. The earlier entries are received the more simplified the matter of tabulating them and the more accurate will be the results. Therefore the entries will close promptly a week before the opening of the tourney and then the times for contests will be announced in The Sentinel in order to give all contestants equal opportunity to be on hand. The contest will be an elimination affair and with the large number of entries now registered it probably will require three or four nights to play off the entire list.

Cut out the rules and save them, for they probably will be published only once again.

1. The pitching distance will be 40½ feet from peg to peg. All contestants must stand with one foot touching the peg or on a line even with it.

2. The pegs shall be driven perpedicular and protrude six inches above the ground. The pegs shall be not more than an inch in diameter and shall be of iron or steel.

Forty-one points shall constitute a game. A ringer shall count as three points. A leaner shall count as two points. In case there is neither a ringer nor a leaner the shoe nearest the peg shall count one point.

4. A ringer topping a ringer shall count SIX points for the contestant making the last pitch, regardless of circumstances under which the ringers are made. In case both a ringer and leaner are thrown by opposing contestants, the ringer only shall count. A ringer and leaner thrown by one contestant shall count five points.

5. If two leaners are thrown the last one thrown shall count four points for the contestant throwing it. In all such cases both shoes must touch the peg.

6. In case of a tie, the closer shoes of the remaining two shall count.

7. A ringer to count must be far enough around the peg to allow a straight rule to touch both ends of the shoe and clear the peg.

8. Each contestant is allowed to furnish his own shoes, subject to approval of the committee on rules. No shoe shall exceed two and one-half pounds in weight or have an opening wider than three and one-half inches. Any contestant using a shoe charged with electricity shall be disqualified.

9. Taping of fingers shall be allowed.

10. On all questions not specifically covered in these rules the committee on rules shall have full and final jurisdiction.

SPORT DOPE

Urbana, Ill., March 28.—Conference colleges have been asked by Northwestern to follow its lead in adopting a two-sport rule. Illinois was a pioneer in proposing its general adoption some time ago and George Huff, athletic director, is said to favor it, but independent action may not find such strong support.

War has nothing on Oklahoma Babe. She was fourteen years old the other day, and by way of celebration she won her first race. The Babe has plowed up the tracks for twelve years without ever a finish in front. Then at the age when most horses have been led off to pasture to spend the remainder of their days, blessed if the Babe didn't up and win.

Louisville, Ky., March 28.—Wilbur (Roxey) Roach, star shortstop, and last year a member of the Federal league, this year will be Manager William Clymer's first lieutenant in attempting to land the American association pennant for Louisville. Roach formerly played under Clymer in the International league and has made such an impression at the Colonel's Columbia, Tenn., training camp that he has been chosen captain.

The basketball fans have two rattling good affairs ahead of them this week, the Lyceum-Purdue game Friday night and the St. Mary's-Buckeye Paints Saturday evening at the Concordia gym.

"Don't forget that no matter what the Fort Wayne bowlers pulled down at the Toledo meet," writes a tenpin fanatic, "it will be only pin money to them." All aboard for Easthaven.

Art Nehf is showing up well in the spring training with the Braves, and is making the Terry Hut residents conversation after a long, uninteresting winter.

Because he believes it will save lives in case of rowboat and canoe mishaps, the swimming instructor at the University of Wisconsin has ordered the girls to learn to swim while attired in long skirts, high shoes, jackets, hats and an otherwise full wardrobe. All of which goes to prove that the female of Wisconsin totes around several more units than the Boise City summer girl.

The Lyceum-Feds will not play St. Mary's because the Saints ain't gentlemen, and the Saints accuse the Feds of being a bunch of frail cats, the St. Paul's Nationals say the Feds haven't the backbone of an oyster, and the Concordia seconds accuse the Nationals of copping the amateur title by ways that are dark and means that are vain. Wouldn't this be a great stamping ground for Mr. Ford, Mr. Bryan and their lady friends, Miss Addams?

The city park board announces that as soon as the weather man permits, a big force of men will go to work on the tennis courts at Swinney park. There are ten courts out there, and with a little more manicuring they will be in great shape by summer.

Thieves entered the White Sox clubhouse down in Dixie several days ago and cleaned the place. About the only thing they left unharmed was Rowland's goat.

Charlie White ought to have a lot of sympathy with the St. Mary's crowd. He's been trying to kid Freddie Welsh into a fight for a couple of years.

THEY LET HIM SLEEP.

H. T. Strayuge, Gainesville, Ga., R. R. No. 3, was unable to sleep all night without getting up. "Sometimes only a few minutes after going to bed, I would have to get up, and I tried everything I heard of for the trouble. Finally I tried Foley Kidney Pills and after taking one bottle I believe I am entirely cured, and I sleep soundly all night." Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep. Dreier Drug Co.—Advertisement.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 27.—Champions by right of conquest in 1915, Pat Moran's Phillies, training here, have been picked to finish fifth in the 1916 National league flag race, but the Quakers are content to be neglected.

Dopesmiths who last spring consigned the Phils to last place probably are oblivious of the fact that Moran has been steadily adding power to his machine. They forget he has welded together a veteran pitching staff of extraordinary force. Joe Tinker has picked the Phillies to run fifth, though they dealt his Cubs four straight lickings in Florida.

Foremost among the Barling pickups are Chief Bender, Karl Adams, taken from the Cubs; Rhoades, who shone in the American association, and Fortune, a Dixie youth. Coming back to the Phils is Joe Oeschger, who was farmed to Providence last season, and who won twenty-one games and lost ten.

Bender has not gone to pot. The Chippewa was discouraged after going to Baltimore. He invested several thousand dollars in a sporting goods store and the sheriff seized it just before he joined the Feds. This preyed on his mind all season.

The chief has regained all his old-time poise and confidence, is cheery and never has experienced arm trouble. He is one of the members of the Phillies glee club which swings into action during each workout.

In addition to these reinforcements Moran is banking on Alexander, Mayer, Rixey, Demaree, McQuillan Chalmers, Baumgartner and Timeup to furnish the required curving efficiency.

Bill Killefer's arm still has a question mark on it. He will not be allowed to do any pegging until early next month. Bill insists his whip is sound again. In addition to Killefer there are Jack Adams and Eddie Burns.

If there's a team in the world that has anything on the Indianapolis Em-Roe five it is the Toledo Buckeye Paints, the fellows who meet St. Mary's at the Concordia gym next Saturday night. The Toledo players have been famous for years for their basketball class, and the team always has kept up its old high standard.

The St. Mary's have been putting up a brand of basketball that makes them logical contenders for state and interstate honors, and even if the Em-Roes refuse to play them they can gain a regular rep by throwing themselves up against the Paints, and making the game anything like close.

Fort Wayne is beginning to realize that it has some basketballers in its two flocks of Saints and there is little doubt but next year the local teams will be recognized from the start of the season and the big fellows will have to come across with games.

And while you're talking about next year, why not a basketball commission to be organized in the coming summer with the managers of representative local teams and athletic clubs represented. A commission of this kind would ward off any dispute of the kind which now tangles the city championship and the Lyceum-Fed-St. Mary's series.

PUT OLD CHURCH IN TRUST.

Trustees Convey Property to Indiana Baptist Convention.

Jeffersonville, Ind., March 28.—A deed has been filed here from the trustees of Silver Creek Baptist church, also known as Charlestown Baptist church, which is said to be the oldest Protestant church in the old northwest territory, to the Indiana Batist convention, of Marion county, Indiana, for what is known as the "old brick church," in Charlestown township, near Slate Cut, twelve miles north of this city.

The conveyance is in trust and the building is to be kept for Baptist services and to be always open without charge for funerals.

The church was organized on November 22, 1798, it is said. It was at first on Fourteen Mile Creek, but was moved to Silver creek before the first log church was built in 1804.

The brick building was completed on November 27, 1824, and probably is the oldest church building used continuously for religious purposes in Indiana. The Old Bethel meeting house, Methodist church, near Charlestown, was built in 1803 or 1804, but for many years it was used as a blacksmith shop. It was restored as a church at the time of the centennial of Methodism in this state.

(By Harold Johnson.)

Signs reading "closed for the season" are in order on the gates of athletic fields and rowing clubhouses throughout Canada. With the close of the hockey season practically every athlete of note in the dominion will have enlisted in the sportsman's battalion, 1,100 strong, and will be ready for the fighting in Europe.

Almost every amateur oarsman of note has rallied to the colors. This means American rowing organizations will have little competition from Canada this year. Among those who have enlisted are Dibbe, who annexed the senior championship of America last year, and Lou Scholes, the only Canadian who ever won the Henley diamond sculls.

The battalion is under command of Col. Grier, a well known athlete. Among his officers are J. P. Fitzgerald, president of the Canadian Baseball league, and W. O'Brien, of the Argonaut Rowing club, Tom Longboat, the great Indian runner, and C. H. Goulding, world's champion walker, are among the enlisted men. Nearly all those who have won distinction in canoeing, hockey, lacrosse and rugby have joined.

University athletes now fill the ranks of the famous Princess Patricia's, the soldiers responding from McGill, Toronto and western universities. The Canadian force of engineers is almost entirely made up of university students and graduates.

The athletes of Toronto, in addition to raising the sportsman's battalion, have practically supplied all the men, principally from the Argonaut Rowing club, for the thirty-fourth battery, now attached to the fourth Canadian division in Flanders.

Thousands of fight fans, unable to "see" reserved seats for the Willard-Moran fight in New York at $10 or more apiece, were so anxious to see the bout from the gallery at $3 and $5 a seat they stood in line many hours when the general seat sale was opened. The picture shows the fans in a long line waiting to get up to the ticket window at Madison Square Garden. The crowd resembled a world series assembly.

Change in Church Paper.

One of the important matters to come up at the conference will be the proposition of establishing a church paper in Chicago to circulate exclusively in the episcopal area of Bishop McDowell. If this is done the Methodist paper now published in Cincinnati will probably be abandoned or moved to Chicago.

Several Recommendations.

Several recommendations touching upon the question of peace, preparedness, the Mexican invasion and other public matters will be made. The temperance question will be handled by a special committee composed of A. S. Preston, C. W. Shoemaker, T. M. Hill, W. E. Hamilton, M. B. Graham, A. L. Weaver and B. F. Hornaday. This committee is expected to make a strong recommendation for nation wide prohibition and will call upon the congress of the United States for the enactment of such measures that will bring this about.

Father and Son Ministers.

Rev. David S. Jones, pastor of the Madison street Methodist church at Muncie, who is also treasurer of the conference, was a very proud father Tuesday, for his son, Russell S. Jones, was taking his examination for admission to this conference. The young man is now a student in the Boston University School of Theology and for a time served as pastor at Derby, Maine.

Rev. M. A. Morrison, pastor of St. Paul's church, Elkhart, has a son who is also preparing for the ministry. He is now a student at Depauw university, Greencastle.

Oldest Member Not Coming.

Dr. Milton H. Mahin, of Newcastle, the oldest member of the North Indiana conference, has written that owing to his feebleness he will be unable to be in attendance at the meeting this year. Dr. Mahin is eighty-nine years old and entered the ministry when only nineteen. He is a grand old man and has lived a most useful life. In his prime he was regarded as one of the ablest ministers in the Methodist church and participated in many debates on baptism throughout the country.

Conference Postmaster.

A branch postoffice has been established in the Sunday school room of the Wayne street church, with Henry C. Schrader and daughter in charge at all times. F. Y. Gross is in charge of the information bureau.

Many Ministers Here.

There are perhaps more ministers in Fort Wayne than ever before in the history of the city. Every incoming train is bringing them. The delegates to the lay electoral conference to be held at the First Methodist church Friday, will probably not begin to arrive before late Wednesday and Thursday. This conference is held once every four years and will be attended by a delegate from practically every Methodist church in the North Indiana conference.

A large portion of the Sunday school room of the Wayne street church has been reserved for representatives of various religious publications. There is also a display of typewriters. In this day and age of the world there are not many ministers who do not possess a typewriter.

Bishop McDowell will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Doud, 523 West Wayne street. The sessions of the cabinet will be held at the parsonage of the Wayne street church, 711 West Wayne street. The statistical committee will meet daily at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Askew, 809 West Wayne: the committee on general qualifications, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Freese, 536 West Wayne; committee on conference relations, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Coverdale, 1015 West Wayne; conference secretary and his assistants in the study of the church; conference treasurer and his assistants, at the Old National bank, and the conference board of stewards in the First National bank.

One of the biggest jobs in connection with the entertainment of the conference was the assigning of delegates to the various homes where they are to be entertained during their stay in the city. It was not until late Monday nigh that Rev. and Mrs. C. Claud Travis had completed the job. As the delegates arrive they are given their assignment cards and notwithstanding the large number to look after there has been very little confusion.

Church Beautifully Decorated.

The Wayne Street church is beautifully decorated with the national colors, demonstrating the patriotic spirit of the committee in charge of this part of the work. Red white and blue is everywhere in evidence.

The first meeting in connection with the conference was held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening with Rev. C. Claud Travis, pastor of the Wayne Street church, presiding. The service opened with the audience singing "Crown Him Lord of All," followed by invocation by Rev. Powell. Earl Thompson sang a sacred solo, after which announcements were made by Rev. Travis, who also conducted the scripture reading and introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. W. B. Freeland, of Kokomo.

Rev. Freeland Speaks.

Rev. Freeland took his text from Matthew 6:28: "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow." The speaker compared man to the lily, pointing out that man can no more grow without God than the lily. God is equally as essential to both.

Rev. Freeland spoke in part as follows:

"Can a boy or man accomplish anything by trying to grow? Boys grow, of course, but not of their own volition; they could not grow bigger if they wanted to or tried to. You can get books which will tell you how to grow flesh just as there are devotional books which tell you how to grow spiritually. There is something unnatural about it all." Without irreverence, he said, such well meant religious advice smacks purely of hot-house culture. "We should readily distinguish the difference between growth and accretion. Boys build a snow man but after he is built he never grows: they can add to him on the outside, but he never grows inside. They can roll snowballs and each revolution adds to the bulk, but that is simply accretion—it is not growth; to be sure, the ball may lie for weeks but will never grow bigger, but less. So a person may be large in the church, but without warmth, as the snow man. He may add to himself duties and responsibilities and yet be without growth or even life. A moralist increases the circumference, but a Christian grows from the center. The lily does not add to its charms from the outside, but grows from within. Consider the lily, how it grows.

A Natural Phenomenon.

"A natural phenomenon is arrested growth, or arrested development. Some forms of life are in process of development, some are stationary and some are receding from a former standard. Not so the lily. The physical man is the best example of arrested development: the man of today is degenerating. The sense of small is almost gone, and the same may be said of the sense of taste. His ears go bad, his sense of sight has been neglected, his limbs no longer respond, his teeth are decaying, and his hand once skillful is losing its cunning and power. Everything points to arrested development. In pastoral callings one finds much the same conditions spiritually which the physical world shows. We find dwarfs and monstrosities of many kinds. Men and women who have been in the work for forty years are still no larger than a child in bulk and others who are giants in stature are childlike in their minds.

"The lily does not bear fruit, but it serves its end; there is a usefulness of the beautiful. The lily grows out of moist and unlovely soil. There are many who think they must conform to their environments; if they grow in mud they must be mud. Consider the lily. It transmutes the lifeless into life, the unbeautiful into beauty, searches down into the mold and builds itself into a thing of beauty. The lily does not hunt for sunshine and air and water—they hunt for the lily. The sailor hoists his sail and the wind comes as water comes to the miller who builds his dam or the harvest comes to the farmer who plants his seed. So let the Christian but abide in Christ and he will grow."

Want Rev. Arnold Returned.

Members of the Methodist church at Bluffton are going to ask for the return of Rev. W. T. Arnold. A committee from the local church will attend the conference with one particular object of trying to prevent any other charge "stealing" the Bluffton pastor.

occupants of the building that they may die. Both fell from third floor windows.

The apartment contained twenty-five suites and more than a hundred persons were in the building at the time the fire started. The majority of them were rescued by means of ladders and nets.

Fire started in the building on Monday morning in a closet in Miss Reimer's room and she was rescued by firemen and taken to a hospital. The fire was easily extinguished but Miss Reimer was nearly suffocated. She revived in the hospital, however, and last night returned to her room.

Tells of Masked Man.

According to the story she told the police this morning a masked man entered her room shortly after 1:30 this morning, gagged her and bound her hands and feet, after which he started a fire in the room with paper.

She managed to get to her feet and hobble out of the room but not before the fire had spread and other occupants of the building had become alarmed. She hobbled down the hall and entered the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Melchoir.

Mrs. Melchoir had just jumped from the window and Melchoir was hanging on to the sill from the outside, ready to drop when Miss Reimer hobbled over to the window.

Cuts Girl's Bonds.

The crowd outside yelled to Melchoir not to jump and he clambered back into the room and cut Miss Reimer's bonds. He then lifted her out of the window and both the girl and himself were carried down an extension ladder raised by firemen. Miss Reimer was burned about the right shoulder and was taken to the hospital which she had quit on the previous day.

The fire was placed under control before the entire building was destroyed. The loss has not been estimated.

NO CHANGE AT VERDUN.

Paris, March 28.—(11:30 a. m.)—The French official statement given out this morning says there was no change in the Verdun region during the night. West of the Meuse all was calm and to the west of the river there were some artillery squalls.

London, March 28.—Sinking of the British steamship Empress of Midland is reported in a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam. The steamship Cromer from London arrived last night at Maas Luis Holland, with all the crew of the Empress of Midland.

The Empress of Midland, 2,224 tons gross, sailed from New York January 5, for Cardiff, Wales.

Further tension along the border was noted today following the reported raid by Mexican bandits last night on the ranch of C. E. Kelly, former mayor of El Paso, located thirty-two miles from the city.

The alarm of the reported raid on the Kelly ranch was given first by L. N. Barker, foreman of the Kelly ranch. Barker said he saw a number of mounted Mexicans cross the river who attempted to drive off one hundred head of cattle belonging to Kelly. elf ran to a neighboring ranch house and called his employer on the long distance telephone here. In the meantime three of the raiders went to the Kelly ranch and threatened the Mexican assistant foreman with death if he interfered with them.

Word was immediately sent to the troops on patrol duty at Fabens, two miles east of the ranch, and Ysleta, eight miles in the other direction. Two detachments of the Eighth cavalry accompanied by four Texas rangers were sent in pursuit of the raiders.

Call It False Alarm.

After three hours' search they returned to camp and Capt. G. W. Moses reported to Gen. Bell that nothing had been seen of the Mexicans and that he believed the whole affair to be a false alarm.

The first soldier suffering from a gunshot wound to arrive from the front is at the hospital at Fort Bliss today, but his wound was self-inflicted and whether intentional or not a court-martial will determine. The soldier is Private Beaudreau, of the Sixteenth infantry, shot in the foot. He was taken to Fort Bliss hospital with fourteen other men belonging to the expeditionary force down with a varied assortment of disorders.

Not all of the wild rumors are on the American side of the border, according to a Mexican merchant in El Paso, who said he was told by a peon just out of Casas Grandes that Villa had stolen all the horses and mules belonging to the American punitive force. The peon insisted that he learned from authoritative sources that the American army was so badly handicapped by its loss that it had, in fact, given up all hope of overtaking the bandits.

CONCENTRATION COMPLETE.

No intimation was made at military headquarters here as to the final disposition of the troops. It is known, however, that the regiment of which the squadron is a part together with an infantry regiment was ordered to Columbus by Gen. Funston, departmental commander, subject to the orders of Gen. J. J. Pershing, expeditionary commander. Favorable reports of the progress of the pursuit of Villa, made despite numerous handicaps recently received from Gen. Pershing, indicate to army men here that he believes his force is rapidly reaching sufficient strength to follow the punitive expedition to successful conclusion.

Army men here say also that the troops now concentrated on the border more than six hundred miles of which is but an imaginary line, are sufficient in strength to protect it properly.

A score of water wagon tanks, resembling in a measure the street sprinklers of cities arrived today and are to be sent into the field with water supply for the troops. It was announced that chemists will test the water before it is placed in the tank for transportation, friendly Mexicans have warned the Americans that poisoning of the water supply has been employed by Villa and his bandits in their recent campaigns.

Lieut. Edgar S. Gorrell, of Baltimore, Md., one of the aeroplane corps who arrived here today, with dispatches from the front, told the story of his suffering in the desert in which he was lost for several days after being forced to land in an uninhabited district in the La Ascension country. He said he suffered no serious ill effects from his experiences. Lieut. Gorrell also reported that when the plane of Lieut. R. H. Willis, who was also reported missing, was rescued thirty-six miles south of Casas Grandes, it had been cut into ribbons. All of the leather and instruments had been removed he said and the wings were slashed to pieces, leaving the plane worthless. Only the engine was uninjured.

WASHINGTON PRODS CARRANZA.

Washington, March 28.—A memorandum to Gen. Carranza pressing for an immediate reply to the request for permission to use Mexican railroads in supplying American troops in pursuit of Villa was prepared today at the state department.

It will be forwarded to Quertaro probably late today and be delivered by Special Representative Rogers to Gen. Carranza and Gen. Obregon. The memorandum points out that the problem of supplying troops now more than 200 miles from the border is a pressing one and need not be delayed for the protocol covering the general subject. Gen. Carranza's suggestion as to modification and additions to the draft of the protocol are still under consideration in the state department. As considerable time may be required to bring the agreement into final form, the American government will urge that the immediate question of the use of the Mexican northwestern lines be considered separately and that at once.

KILLED BY SNOWSLIDE.

J. H. Mahoney, Said to Be of This City, Dies in Idaho Mountains.

Word has been received in this city that J. H. Mahoney, supposed to have formerly been a resident of Fort Wayne, was killed a few weeks ago by a snowslide of Grey Hound mountain, in Custer county, Idaho. The letter was written by P. H. Hasbo, Stanley, Custer county, Idaho. No such name appears in the Fort Wayne directory, but it is thought that the deceased left Fort Wayne many years ago.

KILLS SUFFRAGE AND PROHIBITION

Washington, March 28.—By a vote of 10 to 9 the house juriciary committee today voted to postpone indefinitely consideration of all suffrage and prohibition proposals now before it.

Separate votes were not taken on the two questions, despite determined effort by their supporters. Suffrage leaders expect to continue their fight for a report on the Susan B. Anthony amendment during the present session and efforts will be made to have suffrage plans incorporated in the republican and democratic party platforms.

LIGHTS FLASH OUT BIG AMERICAN FLAG

A big American flag in electrical illumination has just been erected at its Calhoun street office by the light and power department of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company that is something unique in its way and very attractive. The flag is made by Brinkman, and its erection by the Fort Wayne company is in line with the program recently adopted by light and power companies and by the big trolley lines of the country. It is said a number of others will soon be erected in the city.

ATTACKED GIRL IN CHURCH.

South Bend, Ind., March 28.—Floyd Plum, of Goshen, who attacked Miss Grace Couch, age seventeen, last month, when she was at prayer in St. Joseph's Catholic church, will spend the next four months at the state penal farm. He was found guilty before Judge George Ford, of assault and battery. Plum must pay a $1 fine with costs.

The boldness of Plum's act attracted much attention. Miss Couch was in the church after lunch, offering a brief prayer before returning to a store, where she is employed as cashier. Plum approached her and struck her. The screams of the girl attracted the attention of the janitor. The girl's assailant leaped over the chancel rail and ran through the back door. He was captured later.

W. A. STOCKBRIDGE IS ADVANCED

W. A. Stockbridge, electrical engineer of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, has just been promoted to a similar position in the office of the general superintendent of motive power of the lines west of Pittsburg, a newly created office, and will assume the duties April 1. He will work directly under General Motive Power Superintendent D. F. Crawford.

Mr. Stockbridge has been with the Pennsylvania since June, 1910, taking employment there immediately after graduating from Purdue university, in the capacity of a special apprentice. He worked in that capacity until January 1, 1913, when he was appointed motive power engineer, looking after the electrical lighting of passenger cars. January 1, 1915, he was appointed electrical engineer of the Northwest system, succeeding E. B. DeVilbiss, who was transferred to the Central system as assistant engineer of motive power.

The announcement of Mr. Stockbridge's promotion will come as a surprise to his friends, as it did to himself. It is understood that he knew nothing of it until a few days ago. However, as the change is a promotion Mr. Stockbridge will receive congratulations from all sides, the pleasure it gives his friends being tempered somewhat by regrets that he will have to move to Pittsburg. His successor has not been announced.

ALMOST PERFECT RECORD

Pennsy Trainment's Efficiency Test Stands 99.9 Per Cent.

In 1915, the third successive year in which no passenger was killed in a train accident on the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburg and Erie, 4,364,519 tests and observations were made to determine how well the train operating rules and signals were being obeyed. These tests covered the work of both officers and employes.

The results, which have just been compiled, show that only one error occurred in every 1,110 trials, giving a record of 99.9 per cent. of absolute perfection. In four classes of tests, including obedience to various "stop" signals, not a single failure on the part of any employe occurred throughout the year.

An exceptionally high record was made in the observance of rules intended especially for the protection of the employes. These included such matters as precautions in the shifting of trains and also the safety regulations governing men engaged in track work.

In the shifting of trains, 68,941 observations were made and 17 errors recorded. There were 342,901 tests for obedience to the safety rules for track workmen and in only 73 cases were these rules disregarded, in any way. That meant one error in every 4,699 trials. Last year accidents to employes were reduced 11 per cent.

At the meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor last night it was urged that a more vigorous fight in the interest of the street car strikers be waged and that some of the leading labor men of the country be appealed to. Accordingly it was decided to write to President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, and President W. D. Mahon, of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America, and ask them to come here and give the matter their personal attention. If these leaders cannot come, other leaders of prominence will be asked to come. A resolution was adopted asking the park board to hire only union hands and also opposing the proposition to organize a municipal band. A committee was named to appear before the park board in behalf of the resolution. The safety and sanitation committee was instructed to take up with the city authorities the enforcement of the ordinance regarding the placing of sidewalk grates and of having the Indiana Lighting company put curb gas boxes in for consumers. H. S. Porter, A. C. Berger, Joseph D. Shaw, W. A. Flickinger and Frank Fry were appointed delegates to the United Labor council.

LUMBER FALLS ON LAD.

Little Arthur Paulison Has Leg Fractured.

Arthur Paulison, ten-year-old son of Brakeman and Mrs. S. M. Paulison, of 1109 St. Mary's avenue, sustained a fracture of the bones of the right leg a few inches below the knee at 4:30 o'clock last evening, when a pile of lumber fell upon him as he was passing through the lumber yards of Hoffman Brothers. With another lad, Arthur was on his way home from the public library and to shorten the distance, cut through the lumber yards instead of going around on the walk. As they passed one pile the other lad tried to climb upon it and it toppled over, catching Arthur beneath some of the boards and breaking the leg, as stated. He was taken to St. Joseph hospital, where Dr. J. Frank Dinnen set the fractured limb and the injured boy is resting easy today. S. M. Paulison, the father of the lad, is employed on the Nickel Plate, but did not take his run out today on account of his son's misfortune.

WESTERN GAS GETS CONTRACT.

Negotiations for the installation of a gas plant at Bismarck, N. D., which have been pending for some time, were closed by the Western Gas Construction company yesterday. The purchaser is the Valley City Gas company and the contract was signed by Frank E. Playhar, the president of the company, who came here for that purpose. The contract, which does not include buildings nor street mains, involves $40,000 and as the greater portion of this sum will be expended for labor, it means a good thing for Fort Wayne. This will be the second big contract with the Valley City company, the first being the installation of a plant about six years ago.

BROTHER VERY SICK IN KOKOMO.

M. H. Morrison, heater at the big hammer at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, left at 10 o'clock last night for Kokomo, after receiving a telephone dispatch that his brother, Attorney James Morrison, was lying at the point of death. Attorney Morrison was to represent his church at the M. E. conference in this city and his brother, M. H. Morrison, was disappointed when he failed to arrive and alarmed later when he received the telephone message concerning his sickness. Miss Lucile Morrison, daughter of M. H. Morrison, is at the home of her uncle in Kokomo for a visit. Attorney Morrison, through frequent visits here, has formed a pretty wide acquaintanceship and his friends will be sorry to hear of his illness.

WANTS $10,000 FOR A LEG.

Delbert C. Watts, of Peru, a L. E. & W. fireman, is seeking to recover $10,000 from the Michigan Central road for the loss of a leg. Last October the L. E. & W. engine on which Fireman Watts was riding, was ran into and upset at Michigan City by a Michigan Central locomotive running wild. Watts had a leg crushed and afterwards amputated. Only by presence of mind did Watts escape drowning. While pinioned to the ground by the locomotive tender, water flowing from it began to surround him and Watts saved his life by building a dam of the sand with his hands.

TROUBLES SINCE CHILD BANISHED

Miss Florence Agler, a well known Fort Wayne young woman, who lives with her mother at 724 Hugh street, this city, is one of the hundreds of firm friends Tanlac, the Master Medicine, has made in this vicinity by its good work. Miss Agler recently said:

"Since a small child I have suffered with stomach trouble. I'd have severe pains in my stomach, especially on arising, and I sometimes would become bloated, accumulations of gas forming on my stomach. My appetite was poor. I had indigestion. I also was very nervous and slept poorly. I generally was melancholy and depressed in spirits.

"After taking one bottle of Tanlac I noticed good results. The pains after meals and the bloating began to gradually disappear and now are practically all gone. I sleep fine now; my appetite is ravenous; I am much better in spirits. In fact, I feel stronger and better every way.

Tanlac, the Master Medicine that is now being taken by 65,000 Hoosiers, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, and the like and is a reconstructive tonic and a system purifier without a peer.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Fort Wayne at the Wayne and Calhoun streets store of the Meyer Drug Co., where the Tanlac Man is explaining the new remedy. It also may be obtained at teh other Meyer stores, Calhoun and Columbia, 1420 Calhoun and Broadway and Taylor.—Advertisement.

Columbus, O., March 28.—Flood conditions throughout central and northern Ohio had improved sufficiently to allay all fear of serious damage resulting from torrential rains which fell over the section during the last forty-eight hours. Many rivers and creeks overflowed their banks yesterday and last night inundating thousands of acres of lowlands and driving hundreds of families from their homes. Property damage, however, was not high and, so far as known, no lives were lost.

Frightened citizens of the west side of Columbus, who fled from their homes to higher sections of the city when a flood warning was issued yesterday, began to return today, having been assured by weather officials that the crest of the flood had passed. A possible break in the levee was the only source of apprehension and a large squad of police and hundreds of workmen were on hand to prevent this. Conditions in the northern part of the state were still threatening, according to reports from Findlay, Tiffin, Fremont and smaller towns in flood districts.

Delegations from Lakeside and also from Bloomingdale visited the school board at its regular meeting held Monday afternoon, each with a request that better school facilities be provided the children in their section of the city. Neither one of the requests were granted, but both were given hope that their petitions would be given due consideration.

The Lakesiders, and residents of Forest Park were the first to present their desires. The board heard the suggestions made and discussed the feasibility of erecting a new building in an informal way and intimated that a proper and appropriate site in this section of the city would be an exceedingly expensive item. After much harmonious discussion the petitioners suggested that the residents interested in this movement might be able to secure a site for the building. The board then suggested that the citizens discuss this matter among themselves and at the next meeting lay a definite formulated plan before the board.

Next in line were the residents of Bloomingdale with their petition, which asked for additional school facilities. They were assured by the board that their interests would be taken up at once, as they had been under advisement for some time. Just what will be done has not been decided upon as yet.

Willard Moellering, a student of the high school, presented a petition affixed with 166 signatures of high school students, asking the board for support in the organization of a junior military company among the members of the school. The board instructed Mr. Moellering to tell the youthful patriots to proceed with their arrangements and that without a doubt the support asked for would be granted.

The board confirmed the list of names which had been selected by Prof. Study as school enumerators. They are as follows: Office statistician, William H. Bathert, present incumbent; W. P. 5 COUNTIES WITHOUT MAN IN STATE PRISON

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—There were 13,121 inmates of Indiana charitable, correctional and penal institutions Sept. 30, 1915, the end of the fiscal year, according to the annual report of the board of state charities, which is now in the hands of the printer. Of these 4,431 are in penal institutions.

Brown county with a total of only 15 in all of the state institutions, has the fewest, while Marion county, the seat of the state capital, Indianapolis, with a total of 1,688, naturally has the largest number. Brown county has one inmate of a penal institution, that a boy in the boys' school at Plainfield.

Five counties, Brown, Crawford, Jasper, Ohio and Steuben, are not represented among the 1,351 inmates of the state prison at Michigan City. The reformatory at Jeffersonville had a population of 1,275, the state penal farm, 604; woman's prison at Indianapolis, 165; the Indiana girls' school at Clorment, 317, and the boys' school, 553.

NEGRO ESCAPES IN DARKNESS.

Evansville, Ind., March 28.—A running battle between police armed with riot guns and a negro desperado was ended a short distance above the city on the banks of the Ohio river when the negro managed to effect an escape in the darkness. The fight began in the downtown part of the city when the negro tried to shoot Detective Jesse Peck, who was arresting him for an alleged theft. The negro ran, firing at the officer who followed, but was prevented from using his own gun through fear of injuring pedestrians. A riot call was sent to police headquarters and Chief of Police Schmitt and Chief of Detectives Ossenberg headed a squad who pursued the negro along the river bank. One of the numerous shots fired at the fugitive is thought to have taken effect as cornstalks covered with blood were found.

CONVERTED CRUISER GIVEN THE CREDIT

Andes Sank German Raider Greif According to Late Report.

London, March 28.—The British converted cruiser Andes gets the credit for sinking the German raider Greif in the North sea February 29, in additional details of the battle published today. After the British armed merchantman Alcantara had engaged the Greif and been rendered helpless by a shell which shattered her rudder, one of her consorts, the Andes, appeared and made it impossible for the Greif to escape. Shells swept the deck of the German raider, driving the men from some of her guns.

The raider fired several torpedoes, which the Andes escaped through skilful handling. While thus engaged a third British vessel of the light cruiser type, attracted by the sound of firing, appeared on the scene. Although at a great distance the cruiser had already joined in the action, her gunners finding the range and hitting the target with remarkable precision. But the Andes had the Greif afire fore and aft and the raider blew up with a terrific explosion, the theory being that she carried a cargo of mines which ignited when the fire reached them. The captain of the light cruiser congratulated the Andes and gave her the credit for sinking the Greif.

NOT A CHANCE FOR HUGHES' NOMINATION

By Gilson Gardner.

Washington, March 28.—There are four reasons why Justice Charles E. Hughes will not be nominated at the republican national convention as the party's republican-progressive harmony candidate for president. They are:

(1) Roosevelt does not like Hughes and would not support him.

(2) Hughes does not like Roosevelt and would not accept the latter's platform.

(3) Hughes would not like to leave a life job as justice of the supreme court on the chance of getting the presidency or defeat—unless the chance for getting the presidency can be made more attractive than it is likely to be made.

(4) The republican convention "arrangers" are probably not really for Hughes, but are using him as a stalking horse in the belief that they can trade and dicker for some "eminently satisfactory" man of their own brand of statesmanship.

There are several other reasons why Hughes will not be nominated, but these will accomplish the result.

One of the most remarkable things about the Hughes boom is the fact that it has gone ahead on the assumption that Hughes would have the support of the progressives. That Hughes has no claim on progressive confidence is indicated by the following facts:

(1) He was appointed to the supreme court by President Taft, who is not famed for appointing progressives to responsible judicial jobs.

(2) He was nominated to the position of attorney in the insurance investigation by Strong, Caldwallader & Co., from which firm Taft took his attorney-general, George W. Wickersham.

(3) The insurance investigation which made Hughes famous, was subsequently discovered to be merely an incident in a battle royal between two financial groups each seeking possession of the vast capital of the insurance companies. The expose in the public interest was a weapon used against the Hurry-man group. The Ryan group won.

(4) As a reform governor of New York, Hughes made popular primaries his one slogan, and went out of office with no primary law enacted, and the Barnes-Murphy bi-partisan control still all-powerful.

(5) During the years when the progressives of the country were fighting for such things as popular election of senators, regulation of railway rates, restraints on overcapitalization, income-tax amendment, strengthening the anti-trust law, and all the program of labor legislation, Charles E. Hughes was not heard to endorse or otherwise aid in any way any of these causes.

(6) As Justice of the supreme court, Hughes handed down decisions "dissolving" the Standard Oil and Tobacco trusts. These decrees were empty forms as the court must have known and might have since discovered by their operation on the retail prices of Standard Oil products, and the profits and stock values of that concern. In the case of the tobacco trust, the emptiness of the decree was pointed out to the court in a brief by an ex-attorney general (now an associate justice), James C. McReynolds, and by Louis D. Brandeis; but Mr. Justice Hughes declined to act on the suggestion of the brief, and has shown no evidence of a desire to make the Standard Oil decision anything more than a well-sounding legal theory.

For these reasons Mr. Justice Hughes would fail to poll the votes of the forward-looking wing of the republican party.

A final reason why the nomination cannot be made attractive to Justice Hughes is the authorized announcement that the progressive convention will be held in Chicago, June 7, and the equally authoritative announcement that this body will name T. Roosevelt as the party candidate for the presidential office. With Roosevelt in the running, and Hughes put forward on an unwritten platform, as the choice of Penrose, Barnes, Crane and Hilles, the prospect would hardly be one to tempt the Honorable Justice from his more obscure but comfortable life job as one of the nine men who really rule the U. S. A.

We are doing much to extend our sphere of usefulness in this community, in the selling of good merchandise and placing at your disposal the BEST the markets of the world afford.

And the news of this good service and good merchandise is not confined within the City limits!

There has never been a time in the history of this store when there has been a greater response to Tepper Advertising.

It is little short of an insult to their intelligence and business honor to attempt to make the public believe, merchandise is, as merchandise, worth more than they are asked to pay for it.

Five large stores buying as one gives us a decided advantage. Tepper merchandise is worth every penny you pay for it. It is bought and sold on its merits.

Exclusive styles—Tepper styles, if you please, are making for us a constantly growing business which is not confined within the city limits.

We know that what you are interested most in right now—Dress-Up week—is not Spring Suits or Coats or Dresses in general, but—YOUR needs in particular!

We're quite sure we have it here—no matter what your ideas may be! And it must please you! Fit you! Yea, be a very part of your own personality.

A notable feature noticed by most visitors who come here to look first—are the advanced and set modes—those that will be shown later as a rule.

IF YOU LIVE IN FORT WAYNE OR AWAY—YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF TO COME AND LOOK WHERE MOST EVERYBODY LOOKS AND WHERE MOST OF THE "EVERYBODIES" BUY!

The very words of a woman overheard by the Ad man yesterday!

She realized that of Paramount importance to her perfect dress a Corset must be PERFECTLY FITTED!

In this vast stock of so many kinds and styles and models and prices—you are assured a corset service—a REAL CORSET SERVICE—second to none as compared to the best stores of this country.

You know—as well as we—figures, like faces, are different—no two alike!

And would you be satisfied to wear a corset that is "just right" for some other lady's figure, or would you rather have some competent person, schooled in the art of Corsetry to suggest a model suited to your requirements?

That is exactly what CORSET SERVICE at this store means!

Of course we can serve you either way—but the best way is to be fitted individually.

Consult Miss Joseph.

ONLY WASHERS AND BOLTS.

Indianapolis, March 28.—The thought of $1,000 lying unprotected in a room when it should have been in his custody, sent Dr. Richard A. Poole, coroner, on a hurry-up trip to the former home of Andrew Jackson, an aged recluse who shot himself to death in the room, 615 East Washington street, several days ago. Coroner Poole had searched the room at the time, but had found little of value. It had been reported that the recluse had money secreted somewhere in the room, therefore, when Lillie Bell appeared and told of the "whereabouts" of the money, Coroner Poole said, "let's go."

With all speed the coroner and his informant went to the room. The woman was certain the money was in a glass jar on a stand-table. She described the jar and the coroner seized it as he entered the room. Turning it up with a hasty motion, the coroner poured out on the table a choice assortment of washers, bolts, taps and other pieces of metal—none of which is classed as precious.

It was this telegram that transformed Dr. Wishart, a friend of the Peck family, into a detective, and took him from the sequestered life of a Baptist parish into New York life.

How Science Has Found that Chewing Gum Is Worry's Greatest Foe

Are you worried? Chew gum. Do you lie awake at night? Chew gum. Are you depressed? Is the world against you? Chew gum.

In a remarkable analysis of the benefit and the harm of gum chewing Dr. Anna Dwyer, chief physician of the Morals Court of Chicago and member of the state charities commission, states that it is an invariable physical impossibility for worriment and depression to come upon an individual who is chewing gum.

"The brain centers," says Dr. Dwyer, "are so situated that when the act of mastication is begun all sense of depression and melancholia leaves the mind. From a purely mechanical standpoint worriment is impossible while the jaws are moving rapidly. When an individual chews gum he, or more frequently she, has no concern or worry for the world.

"I prescribe chewing gum to those of my patients who are habitually depressed. In doing so I have no illusions about the delicacy or good taste of the practice, but I advocate it on account of the undoubted benefits it brings to those who are threatened with nervous troubles.

"Did you ever see a person who in the act of chewing gum was anything but cheerful and happy? The stenographer who works her jaws all day long is a standard joke. Professional humorists find in her a perpetual source of merriment.

WHERE JOY AND SORROW LIVE.

"The reason for this is very obvious when you analyze the brain and its contributing blood and nervous systems. At the base of the brain is the medulla oblongata, a short connecting link between the spinal cord and the brain. Within this very important section of the nervous system lie, closely adjacent, the centers of depression, joy, sorrow, weeping, vomiting, digesting, perspiring, masticating and swallowing. When any one of these centers receives a stimulus from the upper brain it becomes excited and sends out a message to the blood supply. There is immediate response and blood rushes to the excited center, leaving the surrounding centers slothful and inactive. The stimulus of one center temporarily strands the others.

"This is the situation when chewing prevents worry. A suggestion comes to the center of mastication and it relays the message. The blood floods to meet the demand of the rapidly moving jaws and the nearby center of depression becomes inactive. As soon as the act of chewing is well under way the feeling of sadness leaves. The downcast countenance clears and content comes upon the individual. He is said to get 'his mind off his troubles.'

"Likewise the center which governs concentration is quieted and intensity of thought departs. The edge is taken off of the feelings. The human being becomes more reposeful.

"It relieves the situation automatically and invariably. To those who cannot sleep at night from some worriment I urge the chewing of gum. I have known it to stop insomnia if followed diligently.

"People who are extremely garrulous present an interesting study to the physician. Usually their incessant chatter is due to the promptings of their fidgety intellects. They are by nature flighty and estranged from deepest thought. However, part of the reputation for unimportant conversationalists which they achieve is due to the fact that in the full strength of their garrulity they lose the power of coherent thought. The working of their jaws to such extreme degree of rapidity produces something of the same effect achieved by gum chewing. Their spirits consequently are light and merry. They are comfortable and enjoying life.

"It is a fact that most persons at the dinner table are usually happy when they are eating, but rarely brilliant. I have seen very intellectual people become uninteresting while eating. Of course, 'after dinner' speaking is another matter. This is because the very movement of their jaws handicaps their brilliance of thought. The center which prompts witticisms and smartness is handicapped by the overindustry of the mastication center and is stultified.

WHY DINERS ARE HAPPY.

"But it is equally true that laughter rings out more often at the dinner table than at any other one meeting place of people. This is because diners don't worry over anything in the wide world if they are eating heartily. They are as free from depression as the girl who makes her typewriter keys bang in rhythm with her gum chewing and free from the same reason that she is free. They have no coherence. How often have you seen diners try to remember things at the table, attempt to recall something witty. They are especially prone to attempt something clever and fail. The faux pas is common at the table, and common because of the overactivity of the jaws.

"Watch the witty person at the table. He is a light eater. He does not eat at all directly preceding some clever remark. The good story teller at the board eats sparingly. Watch a hearty and enthusiastic eater next him try to emulate his success. He breaks off chewing violently to speak and falls short. It is because his nerve center of concentration is not working so rapidly as his neighbor's.

"Gum chewing has become a great American fad. There are arguments for and against it. As I said before, I never advise its use from anything but a purely medical standpoint. There is no doubt that its widespread use will make a better natured race of people, but it may also make a thoughtless, more or less inconsequential, race.

"Students should not pursue the practice while preparing their lessons. They cannot drill the facts into their minds. They will forget. They are not keen and vivid enough of temperament at the time to master anything that necessitates concentration."

"Not long ago a wager was made between a physician and an athletic director as to the relative endurance of two athletes who were training for an event requiring great stamina," says Dr. Walter Peet. "Evenly matched physically, a road walk from sunrise to sunset was decided upon as the form of contest. It was stipulated that no stops should be made for nourishment, but that the men could eat while walking.

"During the progress of the race the medical man frequently gave his contestant a fresh piece of chewing gum. On the other hand, the athletic trainer gave his man food and copious drink. The rivals were 'neck and neck' until noon, when the doctor's man began to slowly but surely forge ahead. At sunset he had won by a wide margin, and he was in better physical condition and less tired than his opponent.

MAKES STRONG TEETH.

"The physician believed this experiment to be a success, but to prove his theory the same kind of race was arranged for a fortnight later. The same men were sent over the same course, but this time the medical man's contestant was given food and drink and the athletic director's candidate was supplied with chewing gum. The latter won.

"The explanation given is that by stimulating the flow of saliva the chewing gum kept the mouth and throat moist and refreshed, preventing thirst. The man who had the chewing gum took very little liquid during the day, while his rival drank freely. Now it is a well-known fact that liquid taken before or during any contest or hard work is detrimental in several ways. The gum chewer in the walking contest was free from this handicap.

"Dental experts have recently been dwelling on the importance of developing the jaw bones and muscles, thus giving the teeth ample opportunity for development. An alarming percentage of school children were discovered to possess teeth of inferior quality and malformation. Chewing gum serves to strengthen the face and jaw muscles, exercising the teeth, massaging the gums and removing particles of food that lodge in or between the teeth, causing decay by fermentation.

"In some of the large hospitals in this country physicians are now prescribing chewing gum for fever convalescents. It has been discovered that the gum is relished for its cooling and soothing properties, for its good influence in destroying bad taste and in giving the patient something to look forward to that is toothsome, agreeable and sedative in its action upon the nerves."

So much for the expert opinion of science. From the layman's viewpoint there are few prettier sights in life than that of a lovely maiden at the typewriter chewing gum and grinning amiably. Two generations of Americans have raved about the beautiful rhythm and poetry of motion brought into the world by the indestructible edible gum. What employer is there whose heart has not been melted by the sight of his stenographer "letting her fingers stray blissfully across the keys" in close harmony with her masticating duties? He may rave and storm when he sees her empty eye and vacant smile, but he hasn't yet appreciated that the fault is not hers but the gum's.

Friends of the renowned baseball player, Christy Mathewson, assert that at least some measure of his uncanny imperturbability in the pitcher's box is due to his steady use of chewing gum while playing. His poise and calmness under all conditions has attracted the attention of all observers who have beheld him at work. Throughout his fifteen years of service he has been hailed times without number as the greatest of pitchers and as the man who had more control of the ball than any other hurler before him or during his reign.

Those who know him best believe that he relies a great deal for his self-command when the pinch comes upon chewing gum. Certain it is that when the exciting moments come and the fate of one thrown ball may decide the whole issue his jaws can be seen to crush the chewing gum sternly and resolutely. And a glance at the records of the "old master" for the long stretch of his service will show that he has not usually chewed in vain.

Ed. Walsh, who at one time rose to dispute Mathewson's claim to supremacy in the pitchers' ranks, invariably chews upon slippery elm bark. Intimates of the "iron man" say that when he was working day after day in an almost unparalleled exhibition of gameness and under extreme tension he found great relief in incessantly chewing.

Medulla Oblongata Seat of Nerve Centers Which Control Mastication, Depression, Weeping, Nausea, Laughter and Swallowing

The stenographer who works her jaws all day long is a standard joke. But, on the other hand, she never breaks down from nervous prostration.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, March 28.—Wheat rose in value today, influenced largely by higher prices at Liverpool, where the market was bullishly effected by chances that submarine activity would interfere with supplies. The close was firm at ½c to ⅝c net advance.

Unsettled weather and consequent prospects of a lessening of receipts gave only transient strength to corn. After opening ⅛c to ¼@⅜c higher, the market sagged to below yesterday's finish.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, March 28.—Further uncertain tendencies were manifested at the opening of today's market although advances outnumbered declines. Gains of one to two points were made by Continental Can, International Nickel, National Cloak and Suit and Philadelphia company, while Crucible Steel and American Beet Sugar rose fractionally. South Porto Rico scored a new high record on its rise of five to 195. Losses of a point were recorded by Mercantile Marine preferred and Maxwell Motors, while Studebaker and Baldwin and American Locomotives as well as Western Maryland were nominally lower.

Trading quickened and broadened at higher levels before the end of the first hour and speculation sought new channels. Such issues as Goodrich and a few relatively obscure pspecialties wrenched leadership from United States Steel and other former favorites, Goodrich making a gain of 1¾ to 77¾. Later Crucible, American Locomotive and American Can assumed some of the recent prominence. Elsewhere noteworthy movements included United Fruit up three and Cuban-American Sugar up 16 to 245. Wabash preferred "A" was active feature of the rails and a general improvement was shown in that quarter. Bonds were steady.

Countess Seeks Rest in Calm of America

Countess Izella Louise Clara Schwartz, who has come to the United States from Paris to seek rest from the distraction and worries of war. Her husband is a colonel in the French army. She has a brother in the struggle at Verdun and another one, a prisoner in a German concentration camp. With her is her tiny dog "Fi-Fi."

"Society women in the United States who are enthusiastically announcing that they intend to go to Europe to drive ambulances and nurse the sick, know nothing of what horrors they will see once there," says Countess Louise.

Never Again Will She Dare Husband

Mrs. Alice McPartland, a wealthy New York woman, will never again "dare" her husband. Over in Honolulu recently a "dare" nearly made her a widow. She had learned to ride a surf board and dared her hubby to follow suit. He did so and was riding gaily when a big wave knocked him off the board and half-stunned into a strong undertow. Lifeguards rushed to the rescue and brought him to land. He was ill for a time from the accident. They reached San Francisco recently on their way home.

MULE'S KICK COSTS $800.

Standard Oil Company Pays for Injuries Inflicted on Employe.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—It is not an easy matter to prove that a mule will not kick viciously. It is a common notion that all mules kick, and attorneys for the Standard Oil company have compromised a lawsuit because they found one of the difficulties of the case was to make a jury believe that a mule is not naturally vicious with its heels.

Cecil C. Robinson, formerly an employe of the oil company, is to get $800 as a result of the compromise. He was whitewashing mule stalls at the Lord street stables of the company, and in the course of his work attempted to take a mule from a stall. The mule literally kicked about the removal, Robinson's leg was broken and he suffered other injuries to his body. He sued for $5,000 damages.

Loretta M. Meads Declares She Can No Longer Be Wife to Fred.

After almost a quarter of a century of married life Loretta M. Meads, 3322 South Barr street, has found cause to complain of her husband's neglect and cruelty and she has sued Frederick A. Meads in the superior court for divorce, alleging that for three years he has failed to properly support her and their children, has nagged her, treated her cruelly and caused her to fear. She asks the custody of two minor children, aged 9 and 19 respectively. Two other children have attained majority. An order restraining the defendant from molesting her has been issued. R. E. Freibelbuss is the plaintiff's attorney.

Says She Broke Her Promse.

In a complaint for divorce just filed by Joseph H. Lambrook against Lillian Lambrook in the superior court, the plaintiff says that once before during the present year he filed a similar action but withdrew it on his wife's promise to do better and took her back. She disappointed him, and he is suing again. He says she calls him names, curses and swears and use language unfit to put in a complaint, and threw dishes on the floor. They were married four years ago in December and have just separated. S. A. Callahan is attorney for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Chaney Must Pay $800.

By verdict of a jury in the circuit court, late Monday, Mrs. Isabelle Chaney must pay over to William Reichelderfer, executor of the estate of the late John Schaffer, the sum of $800 held to belong to that estate. John Schaffer was an aged and widely known justice of the peace in Harlan, this county, and when he died last June a purse containing $800 he was known to have had in possession was missed. It was learned that shortly before the aged man's death he had given the pocketbook to his brother, Sturgis Schaffer, to give to a daughter, Mrs. Chaney, to keep as her own. Mr. Reichelderfer, the executor of the estate, thereupon brought suit for possession of the money as belonging to the estate. The jury found for the plaintiff after deliberating half an hour.

Says He Was Tricked Into Marriage.

William A. Strebig has begun suit in the superior court against Nellie Strebig for divorce, alleging that he was tricked into a marriage with her January 26, last, by paternity proceedings, which he has found since the ceremony to have been without cause. He says they separated three weeks after marriage, when he learned that she was not to become a mother as she had alleged. Charles M. Niezer is attorney for the plaintiff.

Notes of the Courts.

In the suit of Charles M. Henry vs. John W. Henry, to collect $4,000 on a note, the defendant has a change of venue from the superior court to some other county.

The suit of John Sullivan vs. Clarence T. Brase for $2,000 damages has been set for trial before a jury in the superior court May 9.

The suit of the Shryock Auto company vs. Herman Pranger for possession of an automobile and $375 damages will be tried before a jury in the circuit court June 8.

PAINTING CONTRACT AWARDED.

The board of county commissioners on Tuesday awarded to John C. Ott the contract for painting the exterior wood work and iron work on the court house for $265. Other bids were as follows: Clem Junge, $475; Grover C. Druley, $419; J. E. Mong & Son, $445; O. S. Jones, $394. The work will be started as soon as the weather will permit.

WARNS OF HIGHWAY LAWS.

County Highway Superintendent William Tonkel has again found necessity to publish warnings to teamsters that they must respect the state laws for the protection of improved highways during weather like the present, when heavy hauling injures the roads.

ST. JOE BOULEVARD WILL BE IMPROVED

Board Tells Committee It Will Order Pavement This Year.

The board of works late Tuesday afternoon informed a committee of Lakeside residents who called to discuss the matter that it would order the paving of St. Joe boulevard from Lake street to State boulevard this spring and that the work will be completed this year. The board had intended to include St. Joe boulevard in the first paving program, but thought it advisable to defer it until later. The committee that visited the board consisted of Councilman Jacob Agne, T. J. Logan, L. P. Sharp, W. D. Henderson, O. E. Richards and H. F. Hellerman.

COUNCIL WILL FIGHT IT OUT.

Garbage Site Question to Go Before That Body Tuesday Evening.

It is thought probable and by the executive officials of the city it is hoped that before the city council adjourns its regular session Tuesday evening the question of a site for the new garbage plant will have been thrashed out and settled. That there will be a discussion of some heat is likely. The joint report of the council's committee on contracts and franchises and its special committee on a new garbage plant will report in favor of ratifying the contract with the W. J. Edwards company, of Chicago, for construction of the incinerator and will recommend that the plant be placed on city ground lying between Clinton and Barr streets, north of Duck alley. That this proposition will meet antagonism in the council is expected. It is believed, however, that a majority will approve the recommendation in order to get the vexed issue out of the way and permit work to begin on the new incinerator in time to insure its completion early enough to be available for use by August when the heaviest demand of the year on the garbage plant begins.

IN THE CHURCHES

SPEAKS TO MINISTERS.

David H. Hegg Delivers Interesting Address at Monday Afternoon Session.

The members of the Fort Wayne Ministerial association, which met in regular session Monday afternoon at the First M. E. church, listened attentively to an interesting address delivered by David H. Hogg. He spoke on the many perplexing and discouraging situations which this present day and age brings those who have been placed at the head of movements, and especially ministers.

His closing remarks were: "Our forefathers had great wrong to right—political tyranny to overthrow, human slavery to eradicate, civil and religious liberty to win, a system of popular education to inaugurate, and, with it all, the wilderness to tame and a new land to develop. For these ends they sacrificed much. It is for us to attack with equal courage the evils of the present. Let us awake to a new realization of the moral and political dangers which confront our civilization and arouse a new determination to have an active part in meeting them."

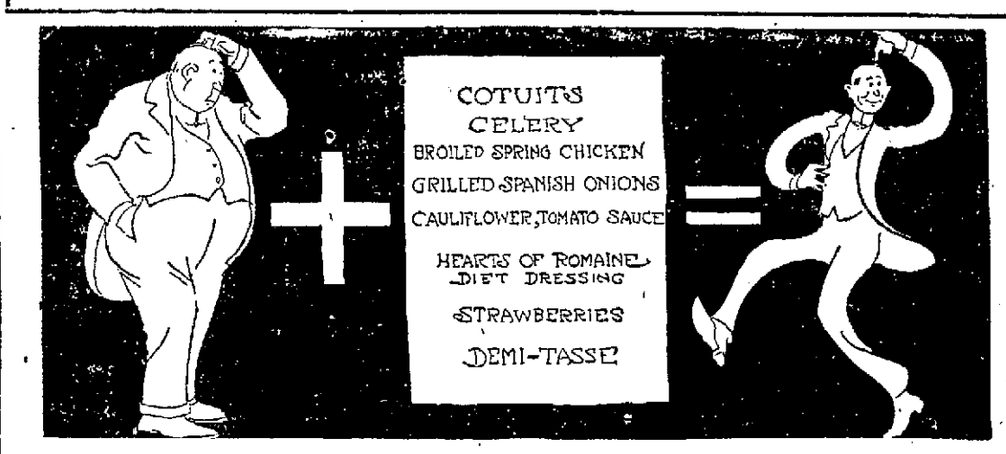
WOULD YOU REDUCE WEIGHT? THEN EAT LOTS OF FOOD SAY FAT MEN WHO ARE TRYING ORIENTAL PLAN.



Chicago, March 28.—Want to get thin? Then eat a lot. This is the platform of 75 members of the Union League club, who three months ago were full-fledged 200 pounders. Now each claims to have shed from 25 to 40 pounds since enrolling in the Mahdah luncheon circle.

Warren Gorrell, secretary of the Union League club, discovered the magic of the "Mahdah eats," said to be something Oriental.

Starches, fats and sugars are avoided, he says. The diners are not given water with their meals. Soups, gravies, ordinary bread, puddings and pastries are tabooed. Diners are warned that one hour must elapse between meals and a glass of water. Wine, beer and ale are deplored.

There's food a-plenty, however. An ideal luncheon consists of minced turkey, creole, lettuce au jus, baked apple and gluten bread. Dinner offers cotuits, celery, broiled spring chicken, grilled Spanish onions, cauliflower, tomato sauce, hearts of Romaine, diet dressing, strawberries, demi-tasse.

700 DELEGATES AT REALTY MEN'S MEET

New Orleans, La., March 28.—The 9th annual convention of national real estate exchanges opened today with Walter C. Piper, of Detroit, presiding and about 700 delegates in attendance.

In his address President Piper said: "We should redouble our efforts to gain the confidence of the public to cleanse the profession of every phase of crooked and questionable practice and live up to a higher professional standard than ever before."

San Francisco, March 28.—A quest of the blue tiger—a beast which has been termed the "Flying Dutchman of Zoology" because many scientists and explorers have seen it, yet none has ever been caught—is to begin today when Roy Chapman Andrews and Mrs. Andrews sail from San Francisco for the orient on the liner Tenyo Maru.

Somewhere in central Asia or Tibet they expect to capture a specimen of the animal and to make an exhaustive study of zoology for the American Museum of Natural History, of New York, of which Andrews is assistant curator. Others will later join the expedition, which expects to be away from civilization for about a year.

SHACKLED MEN ESCAPE.

Centerville, Iowa, March 28.—Although shackled together by the legs, Edward Butler and Frank Giesler, prisoners being taken from Detroit, Mich., to the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, escaped by crawling through a sleeping car window yesterday and were not recaptured until after noon. They were in a special car with ten other prisoners over whom there was a guard of seven deputy United States marshals.

How the men bound as they were managed to get through the window remains a mystery. They crawled out on the outskirts of this city and their absence was not disclosed until the train reached the next station. They were found still in their undergarments and still shackled, shivering in a haystack near here.

FIRST PETITION TO TAGGART.

Anti-Saloon Meeting at Terre Haute Asks Indiana Senator's Support.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 28.—Three hundred business and professional men interested in the work of the Anti-Saloon league were addressed, after a dinner at the Hotel Deming, by Dr. Howard H. Russell, of Boston, founder of the Anti-Saloon league, on "National Methods to Promote Safety, Efficiency and Preparedness by Increased Sobriety."

The speaker said that within five years the United States will be "dry" under a national prohibition statute. Resolutions were adopted to request Senator John W. Kern and Senator Thomas Taggart, as soon as he takes his seat, to use their influence for national prohibition measures before the congress.

REPORTS SHOW BIG GROWTH

wonderful progress and remarkable growth in membership.

Report of Logansport District.

B. S. Hollopeter, of Kokomo, superintendent of the Logansport district, was first called upon. He reported eighty-three churches and forty-one personages in his district and that plans are being made for the erection of several new churches during the coming year. Fourteen charges have cleared themselves of all indebtedness, sixteen charges have increased the salaries of their pastors, the total increase amounting to $3,500, and ten young men have been licensed to preach. There has been a substantial increase in membership. His statement that Rev. W. B. Freeland, pastor at Kokomo, had demonstrated that some men can be successful pastors after serving as superintendents, brought forth much laughter.

Report of Richmond District.

"We have met the situation and it is ours," reported Rev. Somerville Light, superintendent of the Richmond district. Of the thirty-four pastors in this district, thirty-one have remained with their charges throughout the entire year. There are seventy-eight Sunday schools with a total membership of 10,826. The total church valuation amounts to $624,670, while $32,709 has been spent in improvements during the year, and $13,014 of indebtedness has been paid. During the year there has been a gain of $5,324 in all benevolences and fifteen pastors have received increases in salary. The Methodist church in the district has made a net gain of ten per cent in membership. There have been 1,115 converts. The pastors have made a total of 30,000 calls.

Report of Wabash District.

Rev. M. S. Marble, of Marion, superintendent of the Wabash district, reported four charges in the district have decreased in membership, while thirty-two charges report substantial increases. A total of $30,091 has been paid on old indebtedness and there has been an increase of $4,275 in pastoral support.

Bishop McDowell complimented the superintendents upon the progress that is being made in their respective districts, declaring it to be very gratifying to him.

Six Deaths.

Six deaths have occurred among the members of the conference during the year as follows: W. Lash, Elkhart; C. King, New Haven; H. J. Norris, Winchester; H. W. Bennett, Warsaw; C. E. Davis, Bartlettville, Okla.; F. A. Reichelderfer, Harlan. A short service was held in memory of them, a beautiful prayer being offered by Bishop McDowell.

Peru Delegation Coming.

A committee of men representing the Methodist church at Peru will come to Fort Wayne this week to attend the conference and to confer with the bishop concerning the return of Rev. C. H. Smith to the pastorate of the church at that place for another year. The committee will be composed of the following: Mayor W. A. Hammond, Henry Meinhardt, Dr. W. R. Meeker, Charles W. Beecher and Prof. John W. Kendall. The delegation is expected Friday.

Conference Officers Named.

Both Dorie V. Williams, of Alexandria, as secretary, and David S. Jones, of Muncie, as treasurer, were re-elected by unanimous vote of the conference. John C. White, of Elkhart, was elected statistician or statistical secretary to fill the vacancy created by the death of Francis A. Reichelderfer, of Harlan. The list of conference committees as appears in the program was confirmed with only a few changes.

Secretary—Dorie V. Williams, Alexandria. Assistants—W. A. Griest, Logansport; Frank S. Hickman, Greencastle; W. E. Pittinger, Boston Theological school.

Treasurer—David S. Jones, Muncie. Assistants—C. B. Dougherty, Gaston; Silas Cates, Greenfield; G. F. Hubbard, Pierceton; C. B. Croxell, Redkey; F. E. Fribley, Muncie; W. E. Hamilton, Windfall.

Tuesday Evening's Session.

Rev. J. A. Beatty, superintendent of the Fort Wayne district, was in charge of the opening service Tuesday evening. Prof. F. M. Price, president of the Men's Christian league, of Fort Wayne, delivered the address of welcome, which was in part as follows:

"I am very glad to be present at this great meeting and to have the pleasant duty of extending to this great body of great men a most cordial welcome to our city. We are indeed grateful that our city has been signally honored by this great conference of the North Indiana M. E. church. To have our city singled out for this meeting is an honor of no small moment and we are exceedingly glad to extend to you the hospitality of our homes and to eat with you around our tables and to break bread with such godly men.

"If we evince an undue pride in having the honor of your presence among us, we crave your indulgence. While we are aware that pride is not a particularly meritorious state of mind, nevertheless, we believe that there are occasions upon which its manifestation is pardonable, if not wholly justifiable. Do you remember the time you received your first pair of copper-toed, red-topped boots Do you remember how your heart was gladened and how inordinately proud you were—do you remember how circumspectly that pride made you walk? You remember that, don't you? Can you find it in your heart to condemn that boyish pride of yesterday? We believe not. Gentlemen, we Methodists of Fort Wayne feel tonight something of that pride you felt in the possession of those copper-toed, red-topped boots, although there is probably a slight tendency toward this latter condition to be observed. But we are proud of you and proud that you are ours for the week; we are proud of you because of what you are and for what you stand for, and for the ideals you bring."

Prof. Price spoke at some length and concluded: "And now with our very best wishes for a happy and profitable week among us, I wish, on behalf of the people of Fort Wayne, to tender you the hospitality of our city."

Bishop Is Delayed.

Announcement was made by Rev. Beatty that Bishop McDowell would not reach the city before 9 o'clock and for that reason would be unable to deliver the response as indicated on the program. Rev. Beatty said, however, that he had a good substitute in the person of Fred B. Fisher, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary association.

Mr Fisher made a most favorable impression and kept his audience in a continuous uproar. He said that he had just come from Mexico and was glad that he did. He told of other receptions that he had received, one time being taken for secretary of the bartenders' association in a hotel lobby at Indianapolis. Mr. Fisher is of good size, which probably accounted for the mistake.

"Many cities invite conventions, but they many times expect returns on the investment in the way of commercial returns," he continued. "This return aspect in this case looks rather doubtful. Our entertainment is free, we are not expected to pay to eat—don't even have to register or sign our names to anything." Mr. Fisher here related several amusing dialect stories among which was one relating to a negro who held a certificate of deposit on a bank which had failed. A friend asked him whether he had never heard of banks failing before and he answered: "Sho' I has, but dis am de fust time I evah had one bust right in my face."

In a sober vein he said that the ministers here assembled bring to Fort Wayne a challenge to world conquest for Christ and for courageous leadership and quoted Cromwell:

"I raised me such men as had the fear of God before them; men who made some conscience of what they did; and from that day forward we were never beaten."

Temperance Society Anniversary.

Following the response by Mr. Fisher, Rev. A. S. Preston, of Portland, took charge and presided at the anniversary of the temperance society. Rev. Preston declared that he believed temperance was sweeping over the entire world. He expressed the hope that the time is not far distant when Fort Wayne would go dry, and told of the change in sentiment that had come about since he was pastor of the Wayne Street church some years ago.

Dr. Parr Speaks.

Dr. W. D. Parr, of Kokomo, delivered the temperance address in the absence of Rev. Harry G. McCain, extension secretary.

"We are now on the rising crest of almost, if not altogether, the greatest moral revolution this world has ever known," he said. "The revolt is in every country where people are capable of thinking." The speaker told of the wave of temperance that is now sweeping over England, France, Germany and Russia.

He dwelt at length upon the temperance movement in this country, declaring that people are demanding the abolishment of the liquor business, not so much from a sentimental point of view as from an economic viewpoint.

"Indiana is now prohibitory if the politicians would only give the people an opportunity to speak," he said. This statement brought forth tremendous applause. He declared that nation-wide prohibition is coming.

Would Enlarge Cabinet.

A memorial will be presented to the conference seeking to enlarge the cabinet by adding one ministerial and one lay member for each district one year in advance. The memorial seeks to have the method of appointment to done by the majority vote of the cabinet, which it is contended would give each man equal authority and make the cabinet an effective unit. The cabinet will thus include the district superintendents, one minister from each district and one layman for every district in the conference.

Comment by Christian Advocate

The Christian Advocate, published in New York city, February 24, 1916, speaking of the memorial, says by way of comment upon the subject: "The method of election shall be as follows: The ministers shall be elected annually by their respective districts, one minister for each district. They shall be elected one year in advance; those to serve in say 1917, shall be elected at the annual conference in 1916 and so on through the quadrennium. The laymen shall be elected in like manner by the Lay association one year in advance, one member for every district in the conference. Women shall not be eligible for election.

"The method of appointment shall be the majority vote of the cabinet. In other words the final authority shall be the majority vote of the cabinet. This will give each man equal authority and make the cabinet an effective unit. The superintendent shall make his recommendations the same as he is doing now, and where they are satisfactory no action will be required, but where there are problems, disputes and hard cases the method of settling these problems and stationing these brethren shall be by majority vote of the cabinet. We legislate for the state by majority vote, we transact our conference business by a majority vote and the same saneness should apply to the making of appointments. At present the cabinet is too exclusive and one-sided. This method would give the ministers and churches a representative they do not now have and it would make the office of district superintendent more effective and satisfactory. The church would welcome a change. Witness the districting of bishops and the demand for fewer district superintendents. It would bring the laymen into the cabinet, so that the churches may feel that they are duly represented. What is needed is that the individual churches shall feel a greater responsibility and obligation to the ministry. The churches play fast and loose with the preacher and ask for changes for the merest trifles. The minister is made too cheap, they are changed too easily; some disagreeable member may blight and ruin a minister for life. The prejudices and preferences of a district superintendent will do the same thing. At present ministers have no redress against a wrong that may be done them by an overbearing and officious district superintendent."

The above article taken from "The Christian Advocate" is not the complete letter, but is sufficient to give one some idea for the purpose of the memorial. The lay conference will have an opportunity to take some action as well as the ministers of the conference.

Some Politics.

The political end of the conference is one of the most interesting features of the meeting, although there will be very little of it in evidence until the arrival of the lay delegates and representatives from various churches who will be sent here to insist on keeping the pastor they already have or to secure some certain pastor they may have "spotted."

Muncie Is After Rev. Travis.

It is understood that the First Methodist church of Muncie has not given up its fight for Rev. C. Claud Travis, pastor of the Wayne Street Methodist church. Rev. Travis will remain at the Wayne street church, however, unless the unexpected happens, which is not anticipated. Rev. W. W. Martin, pastor of the Muncie church, has asked to be changed, it is stated on good authority, and would not be adverse to accepting a district superintendency. He has his eye on the Fort Wayne district.

D. H. Guild, pastor of the First Methodist church, is frequently mentioned for appointment as district superintendent, and inasmuch as Rev. C. E. Line, superintendent of the Muncie district for the past six years, the limit under the rules of the church, will ask for a pastorate, and consequently will not be transferred to the Fort Wayne district to take the place of Rev. J. A. Beatty, who has also served this district as superintendent for six years, it is not at all improbable that Rev. Guild will be named. However, there is no telling what the bishop is liable to do.

It is almost certain that both Rev. T. M. Hill, pastor of the Trinity church, and Rev. F. H. Cremean, pastor of St. Paul church, will be transferred. The re-appointment of Rev. H. L. Overdeer, as pastor the Simpson M. E. church, is believed to be a certainty.

Want Rev. Powell Returned.

The congregation of the Methodist Episcopal church at New Haven has asked for the return of Rev. H. C. Powell, who went to that church early in December, shortly after the death of Rev. Chauncey King. During the short time he has been there he has done much to increase its membership, which now numbers two hundred. The congregation has also increased his salary from $700 to $1,000 and will this summer, erect for him a new parsonage.

May Quit Ministry.

Dr. J. E. Williams, of Pendleton, intimated Tuesday that owing to his failing health he may retire from the ministry at this conference. Dr. Williams is one of the most interesting pastors in attendance at the meeting. He has been pastor of the Pendleton church for the past seven years, but prior to that time was a member of the Puget Sound conference and for a number of years was president of the Puget Sound college, Tacoma, Washington. He has been in the ministry for the past thirty-five years and is a member of the board of examiners at this conference. He has been ill for the past winter and only recently resumed his work.

Four ministers are in attendance at the conference whose sons are also ministers in the Methodist church. They are Rev. F. M. Stone, Dr. Wade, Rev. Seamans, Rev. David S. Jones and Rev. M. A. Morrison.

FULLY FIFTY HURT IN CRASH OF TRAINS

R. Thomas, Fairmount avenue, Philadelphia.

Few Yet Identified.

Of the dead it was said only four had been identified up to 9 o'clock and that many of the bodies were mangled probably beyond recognition. All of the dead and injured were on train No. 86.

The death list in the wreck, previously believe to have been seventeen, was increased to twenty-one when four additional bodies were taken from the wreckage shortly after 9 o'clock.

The list of injured as compiled up to that time included names of twenty-seven persons, some of them seriously, perhaps fatally hurt.

Three Trains in the Crash.

The Twentieth Century, westbound, plowed through the wreckage of train 86, which had been hurled to the westbound track, before flagmen could be sent out to stop it. Train 86 was due at Cleveland at 4:35 a. m.

Some dead were found in the rear coaches of the second flier which buckled over onto the Twentieth Century's right of way and was splintered by that train.

Dead Mostly Foreigners.

Most of the dead are said to be foreigners who were traveling in the rear coach of the first section of the Chicago-Buffalo flier.

There are no dead among the passengers of the Twentieth Century limited, though a number of passengers were badly hurt on this train. Two coaches of the Twentieth Century were overturned. The low casualties on the Twentieth Century are attributed to the fact that the palace train was proceeding slowly because of the heavy fog.

The second section of the flier was going at a high rate of speed when it struck the first section.

May Never Be Identified.

Many of the dead probably will go to their graves unidentified.

Most of those killed were asleep in the rear day coach of first train 86 at the time of the crash and they had removed wraps and coats and other articles of identifying clothing.

The bodies of many of these scantily clad victims are so horribly mangled that identification, without the guidance of the clothing they wore, will be impossible.

Some Were Decapitated.

Some of the victims were decapitated. Arms, legs and portions of human bodies were scattered thickly through the wreckage. Relief parties collected the remains of three bodies—those of a woman and two men—and piled them, indiscriminately, in one basket. They probably will be buried together.

Survivors Describe Horror.

Alfred Fritzele, Cleveland, salesman for a fire extinguisher company, was in the Toledo sleeper of the first section and escaped injury. He helped in the rescue and then came to Cleveland.

Aaron Deray, Pittsburg, who came through with Fritzele, said he was catapulted from his berth into one occupied by a woman across the aisle when the crash came. Deray was uninjured.

A. Comensky, Pittsburg, coming from Chicago, said he saw a woman die in the wreckage before he could extricate her. Another woman he saw was badly injured and a man had his arms torn from their sockets. When the last named three left, only thirteen of the forty occupants of the day coach were accounted for. They placed the number of dead at between twenty-five and thirty.

According to Fritzele and Deray the first section stopped five minutes after it left Amherst and was just picking up speed again when the first crash came. Two minutes later they said the second occurred.

The Wrecked Trains.

Train 86 was known as the Pittsburg-Baltimore-Buffalo limited, a flyer, which made the trip from Chicago to Baltimore in 13 hours and 35 minutes. It was due in Cleveland at 4:05 this morning.

It carried a diner from Chicago to Pittsburg and was known as one of the finest trains on the New York Central lines. The flyer was split into two sections today because of unusually heavy traffic and this splitting of the train indirectly caused the wreck.

General Manager's Statement.

"Train No. 86, eastbound, was traveling in two sections.

"It had forty passengers, four of whom were killed. I don't know how many were injured.

"The next car ahead of the coach was a club Pullman car. There was nobody in this car but a porter and a man cook.

"Nobody in them was hurt.

"The Twentieth Century was derailed but nobody on it was injured.

"I have ordered an investigation.

"I don't think any of the crew was hurt, but so far we have not got track of the engineer of the second section."

ESCAPE BEING VICTIMS.

State Railway Inspectors Take Later Train and Reach Spot Early.

Columbus, Ohio, March 29.—Two railway inspectors of the state public utilities commission who are usually rushed to scenes of wrecks narrowly escaped being victims of today's wreck near Cleveland. M. J. Heffernan and W. F. Packard had expected to leave Toledo for Cleveland during the night on the Chicago-Buffalo train, which was in the first crash, it was said at the offices of the utilities commission. They delayed their departure, however, and are believed to have taken the next train, arriving at the wreck before they received official orders to visit the scene.

Victor C. Noonan, state safety first commissioner, happened to be in Cleveland today and was ordered to the wreck by the state industrial commission to make a complete investigation.

MEAGER WORD FROM PURSUIT

was the only white man in the country in which he lived. I know his babies, his processes of mind and the Tarahumare Indians, among whom he is at present. It is not probable that the American cavalry can ever catch him now that he has, presumably fifty or more miles start of them. Villa and his men, mounted on their Mexican ponies, can travel forty miles a day with ease and fifty miles, if pressed.

"All his men need is a little dried beef and some corn meal. With this and a blanket strapped behind their saddles, they can travel indefinitely. Compare this with the equipment of an American trooper who makes thirty-five miles a day at best.

Will Not Aid Americans.

"The Tarahumare Indians will not give the slightest assistance to the Americans, but they dig up their last grain of corn or wheat for Villa. More than that, they will give him speedier information about his pursuers than the fastest horseman could give. There is no horse that could keep pace with these Indians in that country. I have often sent one of them from my ranch to Minaca, a distance of 82 miles. He could start in the evening and reach Minaca the next morning. It is almost impossible to tire them and all they need for subsistence is a little ball of dried meat they carry with them.

"Another difficulty is that there is practically no water in that country now and what little there is is practically dried up or soon will be. There may be a few showers in May, but there will be nothing like what is needed for a large body of troops until after June 20, the date when the real rain begins."

Discounts the Aeroplane.

The rancher was asked what difference he thought the introduction of aeroplanes in the chase was going to make.

"I hardly think they will prove of any great assistance," he said. "In the first place the aviators will be starting from an altitude of 8,000 to 10,000 feet. They will then be flying over the country of rugged hills of granite split in a thousand ways by gulches, ravines and great canyons. There are numerous valleys, of course, which are broad and fairly level, but to descend into one of these would be a matter of great danger. On the hottest and calmest days of summer you can climb from a valley where not a breath of air is stirring and encounter a wind on the top of the hills which would take a strong man off his feet. The hot air rushes up the slopes and turns into a small hurricane when it reaches the colder levels."

The one issue that is engrossing the people here is the question as to whether Gen. Carranza intends to permit the American expeditionary force to use the Mexican railroads for the forwarding of supplies.

PERSHING WITH ADVANCE.

San Antonio, Tex., March 29—Francisco Villa was moving towards Santa Catarina, in the Santa Maria valley, four days ago, according to information obtained by Col. Dodd Sunday, and forwarded to Gen. Funston today by Gen. Pershing.

Gen. Pershing reported that the residents of the valley appeared friendly to Villa, adding that it was with great difficulty that the scouts with the American troops had learned anything from them regarding his movements.

If you need any amount from $5.00 to $100.00, get it from us at legal rates guaranteed by our bond to the state.

Loans on your own note—no endorser required—if you own furniture, a piano or like security, or if you are steadily employed by a reliable concern.

INTEREST 2 per cent. Small charge for services.

We make this a convenience and an accommodation and you repay as you can by the week or month. This makes you independent of your friends and is private, convenient and economical.

Loans Made in Towns on Steam or Interurban Roads.
